DEAD CHOKER TRENCHES

FRIGHTFUL LOSSES MARK THE COMBATS

Increasing Fierceness Characterizes Clash of Allies and Germans in French Territory.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

A further advance in the region between the Meuse and Moselle rivers, where a concentrated attack was begun by the allies several days ago, is announced today by the French military authorities. It is said that trenches were captured at several places and in some instances they were choked with the dead.

The German war office says the battle is proceeding with increasing fierceness and heavy loss of life, but that the efforts of the allies were unavailing. On the contrary, it is said, the Germans succeeded in capturing trenches from the French.

The village of Drie Grachten, which the Germans captured only to lose on the following day, has been again taken from the Belgians, the Berlin statement announces.

In the German campaign against Russia fighting has developed north of Suwalki, the result of which is not announced. Otherwise there is no change along this front.

Russian staff officers regard the Austrian operations in the Carpathians as having collapsed and are considering the best route for an invasion of Hungary. It is said in Petrograd that all the main summits and slopes of the Beskid mountains are now in the hands of the Russians.

Paris, April 9.—British troops repelled during the night of April 7-8 a German attack, says the official communication from the war office this afternoon. The statement continues:

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle fresh progress was made. At Les Apargues we gained new ground and have remodeled the trenches captured from the Germans, which were choked with bodies, so as to make the parapets face the other way and we repelled two counter attacks made by the enemy. In the Mootmare wood all the progress we gained has been maintained despite very violent attacks."

The loss of life is probably heavier than that in any other engagement in the west since the battle of Soissons.

SEEK WAY INTO HUNGARY.

Russians Say Austrian Operations in Carpathians Have Collapsed.

Petrograd, April 9.—With the Russian forces in possession of all the main summits and slopes of the Beskid mountains army officers here assert that the Austrian operations in the Carpathians have collapsed. The Russian general staff is now considering the best approach into Hungary.

The operations centering about Mesolabor, including the important points of Bartold, Lupkow and Usok, appear virtually to have ended, with the Austrians on the defensive along the whole line and perceptibly weakened. The deep snow which still covers the Carpathian ridge stands in the way of a rapid advance into Hungary.

It is expected that Germany's answer to the Russian offensive will be the development of a new movement in Poland starting from Thorn or Cracow. But the invasion of Hungary is regarded in Petrograd as a foregone conclusion unless the Germans are able to transfer a formidable force of first-line troops to stiffen the Austrian armies.

In view of these conditions talk of a separate peace for Austria-Hungary

PRINZ EITEL STEAMS OFF TO INTERNMENT

Whiles Blow Blast of Farewell to Noted Sea Raider.

Newport News, Va., April 9.—At 1:30 p. m. today the Prinz Eitel Friedrich left her berth here and proceeded to Norfolk navy yard for internment, conveyed by the naval tug Patuxent. As the famous sea raider steamed slowly down the harbor the whistles on steamers in the harbor, as well as those on the water front, blew a blast of farewell.

Internment of the German cruiser was delayed until afternoon so that Maximilian Prei, one of her crew, who fell to his death from a ladder Wednesday night, might have a military funeral.

Thirty armed bluejackets from the United States battleship Alabama and their officers marched in the funeral procession with Commander Thierichens and the men of the Eitel to the grave, where the German Presbyterian service was read and a squad from the cruiser fired a volley. The services were in charge of Lieut. Ingram, of the Alabama. Customs Collector Hamilton represented the American civil authorities.

SAFFORD NOW ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

New York, April 9.—Frank D. Safford, who was indicted by the federal grand jury for perjury, alleged to have been committed as a witness before United States Commissioner Clarence Houghton, in the Rae Tanzer fraud proceedings, was arraigned today in the federal court and entered a tentative plea of not guilty. Safford's bail was reduced from $12,000 to $10,000, but in default of surety he was remanded to the Tombs. At the hearing some days ago Safford positively identified Lawyer James W. Osborne as the mysterious Oliver Osborne who, on Oct. 18, last, registered at a Plainfield, N. J. hotel with Rae Tanzer as his wife.

SEEK CASSIDY AS ACCOUNTANTS WORK

Disappearance of Cleveland Man Still Remains Mystery.

Cleveland, April 9.—While accountants today worked on the books of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Coal company and other concerns for which James H. Cassidy, former congressman, was receiver, relatives and business associates sought to solve the mystery of his disappearance Monday afternoon and to learn his whereabouts. Cassidy was removed as receiver late yesterday by order of Federal Judge Clark because he failed to give the court an accounting by Monday as ordered. Attorney Carl D. Friebohn, newly appointed receiver, said today that indications are that the discrepancy in Cassidy's accounts, as concerns the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Coal company, amount to between $10,000 and $20,000. An audit of the missing man's books is expected to be completed during today.

Cassidy also was removed by Judge Clark as receiver for the Standard Contracting company, of Cleveland, mining company of Brilliant, Ohio. Indications are, it is said, that discrepancies as regards these two companies are small.

Mrs. Cassidy, wife of the missing man, said today that she is certain that her husband, whom she has not seen since last Monday, has been taken ill and that when he is located he will be able to give a satisfactory account of his business affairs and explain his absence.

BIG NEW YORK FIRM ON ROCKS

J. B. Greenhut Company is Placed in Hands of Receivers.

REORGANIZATION
PLANS UNDER WAY

Concern's Establishment Has Been Known as Siegel-Cooper Store.

New York, April 9.—Receivers were appointed today by Federal Judge Hand for the J. B. Greenhut company which operates a large department store in this city.

The receivership was applied for in a suit brought by the Monmouth Securities company and the defendant consented to the appointment. Walter C. Noyes and Wm. A. Marble were named as receivers by the court.

The J. B. Greenhut company had an authorized and outstanding capital stock of $6,000,000 and a bond issue of $6,000,000 sinking fund gold six per cent bonds. Under the provisions of the bond issue, $150,000 worth of the bonds were to be retired annually. The Central Trust company, of New York, is trustee.

Two corporate changes have been made since the incorporation of the original firm, Greenhut & Co., November 10, 1910. The first occurred when Greenhut & Co. became consolidated with the Siegel-Cooper company under the name of the Greenhut-Siegel-Cooper company. In May of last year the firm name was changed to the J. B. Greenhut company.

HE EXPECTED F-4 TO GO UP IN SMOKE

Letter of Dead Commander Says Submarine Was in Poor Condition.

Los Angeles, April 9.—"I expect the whole thing to go up in smoke anytime," said Lieut. Alfred Ede, of the United States submarine F-4 in a letter written to his brother here with reference to his vessel just two days before it was lost in deep water off Honolulu harbor.

The brother, Allison Ede, a city employee, today gave out a portion of the letter, which he received only a day or so ago.

The naval officer, writing two days before the F-4 went on the underwater cruise from which she never returned, declared that the vessel was leaky and otherwise in poor condition.

Mr. Ede said, however, that Lieut. Ede had written that the vessel was supplied with new motors while in dry dock. Previous reports had stated that the motors were old and worn and were therefore believed to have been responsible for the loss of the F-4.

Encouraged by their success Thursday members of the Woman's League continued their campaign Friday among the railroad shops and factories of the city for signatures to petitions asking that a woman be appointed as a member of the school board.

ART SMITH THRILLS EXPOSITION CROWDS

Makes Debut at San Francisco in an Illuminated Biplane.

That Art Smith, the Fort Wayne aviator, is thrilling the crowds at the Pan-American exposition at San Francisco and pulling off stunts in mid-air that are the most daring that has ever been attempted is indicated by the following from a San Francisco newspaper:

"As a climax of an evening of music, lights and sensations, to cap it all, Art Smith, daring and sensational young aviator of Fort Wayne, made his joy zone debut in an illuminated biplane. His spectacular stunt was something entirely new to San Franciscans—something that never was seen here before. His thrilling aerial gyrations, while they made the spectators gasp at times, brought up in everyone's mind thoughts of the late lamented and peerless Beachey. And Smith's performances truly were wonderful; and illuminated as his biplane was by thousands of shimmering lights, they were beautiful.

"Fire seemed to shoot in many colors from all points of his machine at once; then, as he sailed away he was followed by a train of fire and sparks extending back 150 or 200 feet from the tail of his machine, giving a vivid impression of a beautiful meteor."

LANE SPEAKS TO BUSINESS STUDENTS

Arrangements have been made by the International Business college for a series of talks to be given by local business and professional men to the students attending that institution. These talks will be along modern business lines and will doubtless prove both interesting and beneficial.

Charles R. Lane, of the Trade Mark Title company, spoke to the students Thursday, in which he showed how fortunate the present generation is in being privileged to live in this age, in America and as human beings.

"With the opportunities and advantages of today we should live with greater purpose than has been the aim of any generation of previous ages," he said. The speaker did not ask for greater advantages or greater possibilities, but he made a plea for better use of the opportunities and advantages that are afforded.

Two weeks ago E. W. Puckett, president of the Fort Wayne Oil and Supply company, gave an interesting address on the subject of "Salesmanship and Business Efficiency." He emphasized the characteristics that make for success in life and urged that young men and women develop them as early in life as possible.

That these addresses were appreciated was indicated by the frequent and hearty applause. Other addresses will follow in the near future.

JACK JOHNSON WILL NOT GET PASSPORTS

Washington, April 9.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, will not carry American passports if he leaves Cuba to return to Europe. Secretary Bryan said today that instructions had been sent to Minister Gonzales in Havana not to issue the credentials. The minister had reported Johnson's application for passports.

Secretary Bryan said the state department had replied without consulting it was familiar with the case against Johnson and knew that he had left the United States after having been convicted under the Mann white slave law and while at liberty on $45,000 bail pending a decision on his appeal.

MANY DYING IN MISSION

Plight of Refugees at American Haven in Urmiah Most Pitiful.

ESCAPE FIENDISH
KURDS BUT PERISH

Stories of Atrocities and Tortures Almost Surpass Belief.

New York, April 9.—"A fearful rate of mortality" among the 12,000 refugees, crowded into the yards of the American mission at Urmiah, where it is said 5,000 persons could scarcely find accommodation is reported in a communication received here today through the state department at Washington by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

So great was the menace, it is said in the communication that for a while it was unsafe for any one to leave the premises and consequently the bodies of the dead could not be buried. Later when the way was opened, the communication declares, one missionary was kept busy attending to the burial of the dead. At times on an average of forty refugees died every day.

The communication, which is a copy of one sent to F. W. Smith, American consul at Tiflis, Persia, by Rev. Robert M. Labaree, of Urmiah, described in detail the flight of Christians not only from Urmiah but from Azerbaijan province after the withdrawal of the Russian troops, then continued in part as follows:

Of the thousands who were forced to remain behind, their villages being so situated that flight was impossible, only the future can give us a correct roll of those murdered in cold blood and cruel tortures by the Kurds; of the women and girls carried off and of the children lost and the families separated in the time of this terrible catastrophe. All who could fled to the city and found the one shelter that gave them the best hope of safety. That was our American mission property guarded by the American flag and, what was even more potent than the flag, was the position of influence and confidence earned by long years of service by our missionaries.

The communication then described how Dr. Packard, missionary physician, at the risk of his life, conferred with the Kurdish chiefs and begged that the lives of the persons in a nearby village, which was being besieged, might be given to him. He agreed that all property in the village should be turned over to the Kurds.

"He prevailed," the communication says, "and in the middle of the night brought into the city with him more than 1,000 men, women and children who had, by his intervention, been saved from massacre in its most horrible form."

AMBULANCE CORPS ROMANCE.

Americans Meet and Wed in War-Torn European Land.

Paris, April 9.—The fact that the labor of caring for French wounded had not prevented the development of a romance in the American ambulance service became known when Carroll Greenough, of New York, attached to the ambulance corps at Neuilly, was married in the ambulance chapel to Miss Margaret Virginia Greble, daughter of Edwin Greble, of Pasadena, Cal., who has charge of the special diet kitchen connected with the ambulance.

PLUNGES FROM TENTH STORY TO HIS DEATH

Milwaukee, April 9.—Christoph Paulus, 61, a member of the state assembly, today jumped from the tenth story of the First National bank building and was instantly killed. Paulus early in January had trouble over the issuance of checks amounting to several hundred dollars, having at the time insufficient funds to meet them. He was arrested but the case was settled out of court with the understanding that he make restitution.

Lorimer to Face New Bank-Wrecking Charge

Chicago, April 9.—William Lorimer, former United States senator, and other officials of the defunct LaSalle street Trust and Savings bank, must stand trial on state charges of conspiring to wreck the institution. This was the effect of a decision in criminal court today by which a motion to quash the indictment was overruled and twenty-two of the twenty-five counts in the indictment were sustained.

The case was given C. J. Hughes, chief justice of the state supreme court, who will hear the case on April 12.

set forth the troubles of Wm. Lorimer for five years back and cited speeches by Robert M. Sweitzer, defeated for the mayoralty last Tuesday, in which he referred to Wm. Hale Thompson, mayor-elect, as "the twin brother of Mr. Lorimer." The petition recited that Mr. Sweitzer made these remarks to "thousands of citizens" and that they reflected upon Monday because of the latter's association with the former senator. Today's action relates to charges distinct from those returned by a federal grand jury and which had to do with the LaSalle street National bank.

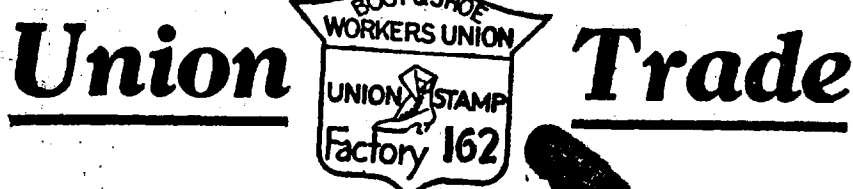

WAR!

The greatest cartoon the world war produces is a photo! The title of the remarkable photograph above is "WAR." It is a study just made by a famous photographer and travelogue lecturer, Lawrence Grant. This study was made in the war arena and typifies Mr. Grant's impressions, he says, of the great war as it affected Belgium. "To me," he says, "ALL of the horrors of war are summed up in this one woman's face. She shows all the terror that the soldiers feel in the trenches when shells burst about them, just as plainly as the terror the women feel left alone to meet the oncoming depredations of a devastating army. "If HER face does not stop war, not all the sights of Belgium would stop war, for she IS Belgium—SHE IS WAR!"

AIRMEN ENGAGE IN A DRAMATIC DUEL

German and French Aviators Stage a Spectacular Battle in Air.

Furnes, Belgium, April 9.—A dramatic duel in the air in which a German aircraft was brought down by Roland G. Garros, a famous French aviator, inside the allied lines, was described last night by Major Raoul Pontus, son of the former Belgian minister of war, who witnessed the combat. The Germans at first succeeded in rising above Garros' machine, but the latter, by a clever twist, escaped, and then flew atop the German.

"From this moment the German's position became critical," said Major Pontus, "for Garros overtook him rapidly. Presently the crackling of a quick fire showed the Frenchman judged himself sufficiently near to take the offensive. Could the German escape? It seemed difficult, for Garros shot forward in great bounds, getting nearer and nearer, but the German observer used his carbine freely and it seemed that a bullet might strike the Frenchman. "Suddenly a long jet of white smoke gushed from the German machine and then a little flame which in an instant enveloped the whole aeroplane. Notwithstanding the extreme peril the pilot took to flight, but his effort to escape soon was converted into a horrifying downward plunge. The aeroplane, a mass of flames, struck the ground with a sickening thud a score of yards from me and a column of black smoke mingled with sheets of fire poured from the fallen machine. I ran to the aeroplane, which had fallen close to a ditch, and soon put out the fire. The aviators, horribly burned, were dead when I reached them. The gasoline tank contained two bullet holes. The machine was marked No. 2, Fortieth flotilla. Its six-cylinder engine was very heavy and this explained its rapid fall. The fire had spared instruments and military documents in thick leather cases. This interesting booty was taken to general headquarters."

Washington, Pa., April 9.—Executors of the estate of the late Joseph Kammerer, yesterday emptied 245 gallons of whisky, from 20 to 45 years old, into a sewer. PATTERSON-FLETCHER COM'PY

FIGHTING IN WEST GROWS MORE FIERCE

London, April 9.—The French movement between the Meuse and the Lorraine frontier is developing a distinct offensive, with Gen. Joffre pushing his advance, while the Germans are making fierce counter attacks. This is the substance of the latest dispatches reaching London from the continent.

According to an analysis of the situation the French offensive movement of the last few days has been on three positions. The first is on a front of fourteen miles to the east of Verdun, the actual line running southeast from a point near Etain; the second on a front between St. Mihiel and Pont-a-Mousson, where the French are attacking; and the third is in the north in the vicinity of Gussainville, where the French now dominate the valley of the Orne; and threatening the railroad beyond the river Orne with attack.

The French advance is thus being pressed from three bases in three different directions. According to Paris official reports French forces on front many miles long have occupied new ground, measuring from several hundred yards to two miles deep. That the German resistance to these advances has been stubborn is strikingly indicated by the French report that the Germans, on one point of the attack, left 1,000 dead on the field.

From the diplomatic standpoint interest is again centering in Greece, where former Premier Venizelos, apparently despairing of obtaining the support of King Constantine in his efforts to secure a retraction of the repudiation of his policy by the present cabinet, has decided to retire from politics and may leave the country.

Special dispatches from Hungary express the belief that the Russians are fighting their battles in the Carpathians for deliberate political ends, the chief of which is to sever Hungary from the dual monarchy. Some confirmation is given this theory by the reported alarm in Italy over the possibility of Austria-Hungary concluding a separate peace with Russia.

Dispatches received here by way of Athens set forth that the allied fleet facing the Dardanelles is not far from Bolair, on the Gallipoli peninsula, but this news is without official confirmation.

Nothing has come to hand to confirm the rumor circulated yesterday that Germany had declared war upon Holland. Military movements are reported along the Dutch border, but such activity continually has marked Holland's uneasy neutrality in the past, and consequently the present developments are not invested with marked significance.

CONVICTED MAN NOW FACES NEW CHARGE

Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.—The local police received word this morning from the police authorities at Robinson, Ill., that Luscoe Baker, one of the eighty-nine Terre Hauteans who pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the federal court recently, was under arrest there on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill on George Walters, of that place. The men are said to have quarreled and according to reports reaching here, Baker attacked Walters with a hatchet, striking him across the face and inflicting a severe wound.

The Robinson police were informed of Baker's status in federal court and advised to consult with District Attorney Frank A. Dailey as to the course to pursue. Attempts were to be made during the day, the Robinson police said, to get in touch with Dailey. In the meantime Baker is held in jail in Robinson.

Baker was one of the government's so-called "star" witnesses, to whom reference was frequently made throughout the trial. He was one of the seven men who appeared in court on Tuesday, March 23, on a writ of habeas corpus.

issued by Judge Anderson, to secure their release from the Vigo county jail. Baker's testimony furnished the climax to the day's proceedings and caused Judge Anderson to order Sheriff Shea and Judge Smith to jail under $5,000 bond for what he termed intimidation of the government's witnesses.

HEARS NOTHING AS YET.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey, when told of the Terre Haute dispatch regarding the arrest at Robinson, Ill., of Luscoe Baker, who pleaded guilty in the Terre Haute election case, said he had not heard anything from the Robinson police department. "The man certainly should be here Monday," Mr. Dailey said when asked if he would inform the Robinson police to turn their prisoner over to the federal government.

Practically all of the 89 men who pleaded guilty have been informed to be here on Monday to receive sentence, along with the 27 who were found guilty at the hands of Judge Anderson.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON CANAL ASSURED

Colonel Judson Gives Much Encouragement to the Local Boosters.

That the army board will report favorably on the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago canal was the opinion expressed by Col. W. V. Judson, a member of the board, who was here Thursday evening in consultation with Capt. Lewis H. Watkins. He also conferred with Perry A. Randall, president of the Erie and Michigan Deep Waterways association, who is the pioneer booster for the waterway in this section. Colonel Judson was heartily in favor of Mr. Randall's proposition to have the counties furnish the right-of-way, donate the terminals and build the highway bridges and it is very probable that this will be done.

Colonel Judson came to Fort Wayne very unexpectedly from his home in Chicago. He announced that the entire board, composed of Maj. P. S. Bond, Colonel Mills and himself, would meet here on April 19. Captain Watkins' report will be completed by that time.

Colonel Judson stated that in the event the government would have to pay for all the right-of-way for the canal, for the construction of the bridges, of which there are 105 on the northern route, and also purchase harbor sites, the project would cost between $75,000,000 and $80,000,000. If the various counties build their own bridges, as Mr. Randall has suggested, and donate the terminals, the proposed waterway can be built for between $55,000,000 and $60,000,000, including everything between Toledo and Chicago.

Mr. Randall has no doubt but that the money will be forthcoming from congress if the army board makes a favorable report. It is very essential, however, that the people show the proper amount of enthusiasm and lend every possible assistance to the project.

markable presiding officer, conducting the business rapidly. He made a powerful plea for the two old people's home which the church supports. The Western home at Cedar Falls, Ia., is in a prosperous condition and is splendidly equipped, but the home at Ebenezer, N. Y., needs help.

A pleasing incident of the conference was a visit from Rev. Otto Trabert of Tipton, who came as a fraternal delegate from the M. E. conference now in session at Auburn. His address was followed by the adoption of a resolution extending greetings to the Auburn conference.

Rev. G. Heinmiller, of Cleveland, made a plea for the fund for superannuated ministers, asking for $50,000. Mrs. C. R. Jones, of Indianapolis, talked on "Missions in Every Land."

ANOTHER ACCIDENT ON LINCOLN HIGHWAY

Automobile of Winifred J. Rolape Goes Over an Embankment.

In attempting to go around a party of roller skaters on the Lincoln highway, Thursday evening about 8 o'clock, Winifred J. Rolape, 918 East Jefferson street, a trimmer at the City Carriage works, ran his Saxon car too close to the edge, going over a fifteen-foot embankment near the McIntosh school house, three and a half miles east of the city. The car went through a wire fence, but was not seriously damaged. Rolape escaped injury, which he regards as miraculous. One of the skaters was struck by the car, but was not hurt.

Carl Norton, 12 years old, was slightly injured by broken glass Thursday evening when an automobile owned and driven by W. E. Campbell, 722 Sherman street, was struck by the swinging end of an interurban car of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, which was rounding the curve at Pearl and Harrison streets. The occupants of the automobile included Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, the latter's mother, Mrs. W. A. Moddus; Mrs. G. E. Thieme, 215 Fifth street, and Carl Norton, 1723 Sherman street. The Norton boy was cut in the left cheek and above the left eye. The others escaped without a scratch. The machine was badly damaged.

In attempting to make the turn at the intersection of Cass and Third streets, Thursday afternoon, J. O. Good, of Avilla, ran his automobile upon the curb, striking the guy wire to the city street light pole. The front wheels of Good's machine were torn off and the car was put out of commission.

RUSH MAKING OF AMERICAN DYES

Washington, April 9.—American chemical companies are bending every effort toward supplying textile mills and other industries using artificial dyes with home products to replace German dyestuffs, shut off by the European war.

Reports to the department of commerce made public today show that at least six plants are in course of construction for the manufacture of the coal tar derivatives upon which the colors used in cloth manufacture, varnishes and other products are based. Approximately $6,000,000 is to be expended and within a few months it is estimated that much of the material for the simpler dyes which heretofore was purchased in Germany at a cost of $12,000,000 annually, will be turned out in the United States. The more complicated chemicals, however, will require a greater length of time to develop. It is estimated that American coke ovens are wasting annually $100,000,000 in by-products. The American coke industry, it is stated, could produce twenty times as much coal tar as the world needs for dyes.

ISSUES AN APPEAL TO WOMAN VOTERS

New York, April 9.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, chairman of the committee on woman voters' convention of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, today issued an appeal intended to reach the 4,000,000 woman voters of the suffrage states and rally them to the support of a federal suffrage amendment. She urged the women to attend the convention to be held in San Francisco September 14 to 16 to discuss plans for this campaign. In her appeal Mrs. Belmont declared: "There are now approximately 4,000,000 voters. One-fourth of the national senate, one-sixth of the house of representatives and one-fifth of the electoral vote comes from suffrage states. With this average, the national suffrage amendment could speedily pass if the women voters would unite in its support."

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalm 20:1-9.

- 1 The Lord hear thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob defend thee;
- 2 Send thee help from the sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion;
- 3 Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt sacrifice; Selah.
- 4 Grant that according to thine own heart, and fulfill all thy counsel.
- 5 We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners: the Lord fulfill all thy petitions.
- 6 Now know I that the Lord saveth his anointed; he will hear him from his holy heaven with the saving strength of his right hand.
- 7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the name of the Lord our God.
- 8 They are brought down and fallen: but we are risen, and stand upright.
- 9 Save, Lord: let the king hear us when we call.

Now the Bankers Speak.

The past few weeks have brought forward from many sources reports, statistics, estimates, opinions and forecasts on general business conditions throughout the country that have been optimistic in tone. They have insisted that depression has been stemmed, that general business and industrial conditions are on the upgrade and declared that the outlook is steadily becoming more rosy. None of them, however, have been more pronounced than are the reports of national bank examiners which have just been made public at Washington. Eighty of the ninety experts employed in this work by the federal government have reported a permanent improvement in business over the country, and it is declared that Maine is the single state in which real depression exists.

It is interesting to note the basis for the optimism of the bank examiners. They point out that agricultural conditions are generally excellent, that commercial lines are enlarging their activities and that manufacturing is on the increase. This is notably true in the case of those industries having orders for supplies from foreign countries. Many important orders for rails and cars have been placed by the railroads. The south is now enjoying an active cotton market at advancing prices.

"The western states and the Pacific states," the report continues, "are showing a general improvement. The lumber industry is slowly recovering in these states and the number of tourists exceed expectations. Mining is resuming on a larger scale and the crop conditions are excellent. The New England and middle Atlantic states, and portions of the central west, seem to feel the past depression to the greatest extent. Farmers, however, generally have had satisfactory results; but manufacturing is feeling the improvement to the least extent. The bond market has become active on a higher level. Generally banks have an abundance of money. The tendency has been for all to curtail needless expense.

While the average individual is cautious about accepting a good many things as true until he sees them himself, the reports of the bank examiners are unquestionably based on first-hand information that is entirely dependable.

Governor Ralston, in a proclamation, announces that the new state penal farm in Putnam county, will within a few days be ready to receive prisoners sentenced to serve more than sixty days and less than one year, who would otherwise be confined in the county jails of the state. The idea, of course, is to empty the county jails, which are regarded as breeders of idleness, and it is an excellent one. The various counties must pay the cost of transportation, but as the farm is located in the southern section of the state this feature, in the case of Allen county, will mean a considerable outlay each year. With a big new county farm of her own, it would seem like a stroke of good business sense for Allen county to go into the penal farm enterprise on her own hook.

Police Chief Roth, of Elkhart, is credited with the declaration that if the city votes "dry" at the local option election to be held there on April 26, he will see that the law is rigorously enforced and that no "blind tigers" spring into existence there. The head of the Elkhart police department evidently realizes a fact that in too many cases is lost sight of. A "dry" victory will count for little if the police authorities are later blind to violations of the liquor laws. The dry victory at an election merely makes the town theoretically "dry." Only determined and eternal vigilance on the part of the authorities will make it actually so and keep it so. The present crusade will be a waste of effort without that vigilance.

Reports from Richmond assert that Wayne county, which has been known as the "Bull Moose hotbed" of Indiana, may have no progressive ticket in the field next year and that the men who were leaders in the colonel's cause there will by that time have edged as quietly as possible back into the republican camp from whence they came. If Wayne county, which elected to the legislature about the only third party man who adorned a seat in that body is about to renege the drama of the Prodigal Son, it might as well be admitted that Mr. Beveridge's organization in Indiana is beginning to wobble a bit.

Street Commissioner Strodel is training the guns of his spring cleaning campaign on the alleys in the down-town district in an effort to get them in more presentable and more sanitary state, which is well. The citizen who wants to aid in the good work may well devote attention to the alleys abutting his property in the residential districts. Let's have a completely spotless town while we're at it this spring.

Next Friday, April 16, is the annual Spring After day as proclaimed by Governor Ralston. The observance of the event cannot be a general or too widespread, and it is not a moment too soon to get ready for it.

TERRE HAUTE CONVICTIONS.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

A political case of no slight importance was terminated at Indianapolis by the conviction of Mayor Roberts, of Terre Haute, and twenty-six other defendants on the charge of election frauds. There have been cases in which more prominent men were accused, but none involving so many men with range in prominence from mayor, circuit judge, controller and sheriff down to bartenders and gamblers. Besides the twenty-seven men involved in the trial eighty-nine others have pleaded guilty, making 116 accused of participation in the election frauds.

The testimony in the case tried and the eighty-nine pleas of guilty leave little doubt that there was a persistent and systematic regime at Terre Haute engaged in falsifying election returns for the maintenance of its powers. The methods were not especially acute. In fact, they strike the average observer as rather crude. But the machine was apparently fortified in its belief that its political pull would protect it against prosecution. This belief seems to have been pretty well founded, too, since it was only when its practices involving an election that included a United States senator and congressman, brought it within the jurisdiction of the United States court and secured trial and exposure. It is to be hoped that the latter will cause the dropping of that kind of stealing in politics.

LETTERS THAT MEN WRITE.

(New York World.)

Is there ever to be a time when a man writing an affectionate letter to a woman will express himself like a reasonable being addressing another? The letters that appear from day to day in court proceedings involving the relations of the sexes, whether they emanate from college graduates or from stevedores, are all, so far as the men are concerned, pitched in the same key.

If a man in love must be a fool and convict himself on paper, why is it that a woman in love usually, even though inexperienced and unlettered, never does anything of the kind? The love misgivings of men are enough to turn the regard of a sensible woman to hatred. Are women who accept and endure this sort of thing, therefore, as much at fault as the men? If so, why is it that their letters of affection, in most cases, are expressed in simple, dignified and self-respecting words?

A young woman who at twenty-seven claims to have made $100,000 in business, has been telling her experiences to a New York evening newspaper. She says: "Men don't like me much. I think they're afraid of me. I find most men prefer dependent women; not the ones they think will try to run things." The love letters of the day prove that her conclusion is correct.

Men who figure in the court, and their name is legion, appear to address themselves not only to dependent women but to idiotic women. The mystery of the whole affair is that in none of these cases does the dependent and idiotic woman reveal her character in her writing. It is only the man who carefully makes a fool of himself and puts it in the power of another to prove it.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Frank Mannix, of the Pittsburgh machine shop, is preparing to take a two weeks' vacation.

Several houses were struck by lightning in this city last night during the furious electric storm.

A young man named Zollars took from the St. Mary's river yesterday a pick-erel that weighed fourteen pounds.

The Keyhole club will go to Warsaw the 17th inst. to confer the degrees of the order upon a class of candidates in that city.

Some of the wheelmen of this city are talking of joining a party of South end bicyclists who are making a trip to Niagara Falls.

Capt. S. L. Lewis, George D. Adams and Clarence Swann, of the postoffice, are in Indianapolis to testify in the United States court.

Col. R. S. Robertson will leave Sunday for Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. While gone he will attend a reunion of the Loyal Legion of America.

The county commissioners today appointed Dr. S. D. Sleds physician for the poor of Pleasant and Lafayette townships and Dr. Kryder for Cedar Creek township.

Miss Ida Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miller, was instantly killed by lightning last evening about 7 o'clock, while standing with others in her father's grocery store at Calhoun and Butler streets. The lightning bolt came down the chimney. She was 20 years old. Others in the store were severely shocked.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, making sure it comes in contact with every strand.

JAIL PLOT THWARTED.

Effort to Escape at Terre Haute is Frustrated.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.—What appeared to be a plot to break jail was frustrated last night when officers found steel saws concealed in the cell of Samuel Williams, colored, under sentence for burglary. The negro also had concealed in his cell a bottle of hydrochloric acid. It is believed the saws were smuggled to Williams in a plug of tobacco. A released prisoner who had occupied a cell adjoining that of Williams, gave information to Sheriff Shea which prompted the search for the saws.

Told That There Was No Cure for Him. "After suffering for over twenty years with indigestion and having some of the best doctors here tell me there was no cure for me, I think it only right to tell you for the sake of other sufferers as well as your own satisfaction that a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets not only relieved me, but cured me within two months. Although I am a man of 65 years," writes J. L. Grobier, Houston, Texas. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

PROHIBITION AS NATIONAL ISSUE

Aspect Seems to Be Giving Politicians a Deal of Worry.

(By Gilson Gardner.)
Washington, April 9.—Prohibition as a national issue is becoming more probable by the day, as taken by Secretary Bryan in his letter to L. S. Kenning of Iowa, in which he advises that democratic leaders of that and other states choose national committees to be elected to the prohibition cause. The various party managers have been hanging around for party issues on which to make the next campaign. The tariff which served in 1912 have been voted. The tariff is a closed book and present and the democrats hope to win of business will rob the republicans of their full-dinner-pail slogan. A moral issue such as prohibition, considered by some, would help.

physical reason for the depressing of cloudy weather is set forth in health news bulletin just issued by public health service. It is not absence of sunshine, explains Dr. E. Banks. It is the removal of several tons of air pressure upon the surface of the body that makes the blue and discouraged. Cloudy days are usually accompanied by a barometer and during a low bar the air pressure on the body is less. During normal weather the envelope by which all are surrounded presses upon the human body to amount of 14.7 pounds for every inch of the body's surface. This up to several tons. When the barometer drops from 30 to 29, about half of pressure is removed from the body. The effect of this is not to make person feel lighter and more cheery, but is to disturb adjustment. The bulletin ends the discouraging admission that all science affords no relief in this, and quotes Mark Twain to the effect that "people talk a lot about the weather, but never do anything to improve it."

United States Senator Nelson Aldrich, author of the Aldrich plan to consolidate credit in a central bank, has been confided to a friend in New York that he is much delighted with working out of the federal reserve law. Mr. Aldrich admits that the of the federal reserve system is exactly what he outlined, but says results are practically those at the aimed.

will Europe pay the $175,000,000 of gold in favor of the United States? Gold would be the way, but gold is precious to nations, and the fact that such nations have ways to discourage sort is evident in the discount rate in London and New York. The value of the pound sterling dropped from its normal $4.87 to $4.84 and the uncertainty and danger of keeping gold keeps this exchange almost permanent. Failing in for liquidating its indebtedness, it will incline to send American securities, bonds and stocks, which are in excess of other enterprises, on Americans pay annual interest dividends. In accepting such bonds and stocks to the extent they are able to back these securities they will improve their position in the same way the man improves his position who the house in which he lives and pays rent for it. The applies to the owners of American industry, of course, and not to the Americans in American industry. To them the question of whether the stocks and bonds are the evidences of ownership which are owned at or abroad has no more significance than the question of who owns the house they rent. They pay the rent to collection agent, and the owner may change a hundred times without knowledge of the renter. The of trade in favor of American goods, liquidated by American agents, means that American owners of industry will be getting richer at expense of foreign owners.

Kreisler's Life

Kreisler began his musical life as an infant prodigy of wonderment and after many years of musical activity has now regained the national reputation of his childhood virtuoso of mature years. He was at Vienna, where his father was a known physician. His child's talent appeared very early and his father, who was himself a musician, gave him all the musical advantages. When the child was seven he played at a concert at the Vienna conservatory, and he was the youngest child ever to play there. He then went to Paris conservatory, where he was pupil of Massart and Delibes, and in two years' study won a gold medal in a competition of four, all of whom were older than he. In 1880 he came to America with Moritz Rosenthal, famous pianist. Then for a time he abandoned musical pursuits, he served in the army his desire for a musical career returned. He soon won his mastery of the violin and in 1890, playing in the orchestra of Paganini and Viennese, after which he came to America. He played in London in 1901, at a concert, and in 1904 was given a medal by the Philharmonic society. His playing appeals to musician and layman most strongly on account of the beauty and purity of his tone. His technique and style are very fine and he is also a very fine pianist. Kreisler is the only violinist who ever lived has ever played to the vast throngs that Kreisler has during his present American tour, and as a box office attraction he has never had an equal among violinists.

Barely forty, this great Austrian is the greatest of all violinists and is there any wonder when it is taken into consideration that his violin art is backed by his many achievements, i. e., excellent pianist, a knowledge of painting, a completed course in medicine, his army training and remarkable experiences in the present European war, including a hand-to-hand encounter with a Russian Cossack, his athletic development, journalistic work, ability as a linguist and his extensive travels into all civilized countries. Certainly there is plenty of reason for the great message which Kreisler brings to all people through the medium of his great Guarnerius violin, said to be the finest specimen of the masters' work in existence.
A few years ago Kreisler, with his fur coat turned up, hat rim pulled down, entered a violin dealer's shop in a small town in Italy, where he intended to purchase some strings. The dealer, who owned the shop failed to recognize his distinguished customer and after showing him strings, asked him to look at an old violin he had for sale. Kreisler, after examining the violin, asked the old fellow if he would like to see a really fine violin and proceeded to remove his Guarnerius, an instrument well known to dealers and collectors, from its case. The old man recognized the violin at once and called his boy to do an errand for him. The boy was carrying a note to the police department to summon an officer while the dealer detained Kreisler. Presently the officer arrived, whereupon the old man explained that he must "take down" the specimen of the masters' work in existence.
The next day Kreisler, who appeared at the Police Department, was told that the violin had been found in the possession of the dealer and that he must "take down" the specimen of the masters' work in existence.

he has Fritz Kreisler's violin. Kreisler's protests availed him nothing and it was only when he agreed to play any and all Kreisler compositions that the dealer might ask for that it was given a chance to prove his honesty. Among the numbers which he was forced to play under the circumstances was the famous and popular "Caprice Viennoise" (to be played on the Fort Wayne program). This did more than all else toward convincing his censor that his customer was none other than the great Fritz Kreisler himself. At this juncture the officer left, seeing that his services were not needed and Kreisler, enjoying the affair hugely, bade the old man goodbye. He then had to hurry to catch the boat in order to all engagements in another country.
The next day Kreisler, who appeared at the Police Department, was told that the violin had been found in the possession of the dealer and that he must "take down" the specimen of the masters' work in existence.

The figures are taken from the Publishers' Weekly, and represent the actual number of books (by title) issued during the year. The grand total for the year 1914 was 12,010—just 230 less than the total for the year 1913. Of this number 10,175 were actually new books and 1,835 were new editions.
American authors contributed 6,643 of this total, and foreign authors, mostly English, the remainder.
The extent to which we are further indebted to Europe is shown by 2,833 importations, the largest number, 330, being in the class known as religion, theology, followed by 246 in fiction, 237 in poetry and drama, 223 in general literature, and many.
The smallest number of importations was in science known as domestic economy, art and law, 11.
and drama—no less than 902 titles being recorded during the year. This class, as will be seen by referring to the chart, now occupies the fourth place, a change from the ninth place in 1913, and an increase of 223 in the year (from 679 to 902).
This growth records in a very favorable manner a decided movement toward poetic and dramatic ideals, which is more than local, and may be hoped for those who read the signs of the times.

May Robson Comes in a New Play. May Robson, the foremost character actress on our stage and one whose presence in any play is a perfect guarantee of a laughing treat, comes to the Majestic Monday evening in a new comedy, "Martha By-the-Day."

Miss Robson's new vehicle is a dramatization of Julie M. Lippmann's very popular book of similar name. The story is one of the most refreshing bits of recent fiction. The central character, played by Miss Robson, is that of a kind-hearted, level-headed, but mildly concited New York woman, who is poor and makes half the living of a well-reared little family by choring. "Martha" is a decidedly unique character, brimful of original humor and one that will prove a distinct novelty. The role is eminently suited to Miss Robson's comedy gifts and it is expected that it will find as secure a place in public favor as did her delicious "Aunt Mary" in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

Stockings first came into use in the thirteenth century. Today's stockings are made of a variety of materials and are worn by both men and women.

AT THE NEW PALACE

SPIRITED MUSICIANS AT PALACE.

Dunbar's Singing Bandmen Are Making Big Hit.

Playing with the spirit and dash that Sousa injects into his great band, the Ralph Dunbar White Hussars, at the Keith New Palace this week, are contributing some enthusiastic musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, under the direction of Al Sweet. The closing number on their varied program is a drum solo played by Harold Cook. The sight of this young man in full action with both hands and both feet flying to their appointed tasks would do the heart of a Creator good. Quite the opposite sort of act is "The Virginia Judge," the comedy character role assumed by that master monologist, Walter C. Kelly, as the principal headline feature of the program. Fun, with an accent on all three letters, rules supreme while Collins and Hart are presenting their howling burlesque on the usual strong man act. Joseph Cole and Gertrude Denahy's dancing of the fox trot, hesitation and maxixe is a revelation of grace and originality. James McCormack and Eleanor Irving are presenting a novel skit, "Between Decks," Mile. Paula is seen in a brilliant series of trapeze features, while Herron and Arnsman are presenting some merry moments in minstrelsy.

Cecil Lean Is Coming. Cecil Lean, the musical comedy idol, with Miss Cleo Mayfield, will be the superb feature on the next week's bill at the New Palace, constituting the most famous pair of entertainers Fort Wayne ever enjoyed in vaudeville.

AT THE MINUET. "THE PARDON" TODAY.

Big Three Part Film Story is Splendid Feature Offering.

In "The Pardon," the three part film story shown at the Minuet today, the chairman of the board of pardons, has brought to the attention of the governor a case deserving of special consideration. The family of Robinson, a mechanic, has been rendered destitute by his death in an accident. The widow, so soon as accept the dishonorable attention of Trowbridge, her landlord, is disconsolate. She uses every endeavor to obtain employment in order to support herself and little girl, Esther, but in vain. The child is eventually sent to an asylum by the court, as the mother is deemed incompetent to provide for its proper welfare. After years in the asylum, without the loving care of her mother, she returns home, but she no longer is the innocent child of the past. What comes of it all is strikingly brought out in the film version.

Also starting today, the Minuet will run the Colonel Heesa Liar series, starring with No. 1 and running No. 2 next Tuesday. This series is reputed to be the greatest laugh producer ever filmed. Each and every episode is 1,400 feet of hand drawn pictures by the celebrated cartoonist, J. R. Bray.

screen successes in both "The American Citizen" and in "Are You a Mason," makes his third appearance at the Jefferson today, creating the screamingly funny title role in Da Souchet's farce, "The Man from Mexico." Mr. Barrymore is unquestionably the most able polite comedian of the American stage, and this does not mark the extent of his dramatic versatility, for he has played any number of roles demanding a display of somewhat heavier technique—witness his personal triumphs in both "The Yellow Ticket" and at the present time in "Kick In."

Da Souchet's vehicle affords unprecedented opportunities for the fun-making powers of the inimitable Mr. Barrymore, and it is quite needless to state that he has taken the fullest advantage of every one of these opportunities.

AT THE COLONIAL. ELINOR GLYN'S "THREE WEEKS."

Colonial Has Brilliant Feature in Photodrama.

In photo-dramatizing this remarkable novel of Elinor Glyn's "Three Weeks," the producers have taken the most painstaking care to retain and include all of those stirring incidents and those interesting circumstances which tended to make the original version of the book one of the most talked of, if not the most talked of novel ever penned.

The photoplay besides being staged in splendid fashion, is given a fine dramatic presentation by a group of skilled artists headed by Miss Madeline Travers and Mr. Mahlon Hamilton.

Tomorrow Robert Edson will appear at the Colonial in a screen play of David Belasco's noted success, "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Wash silk is showing itself one of the fashions of the early spring, and as a result there are many interesting wash silk blouses for sale. There is a very becoming blouse, with long sleeves finished with the regulation shirt cuff, and a collar that is open at the front. This shirtwaist comes in striped wash silk of many colors.

Petticoats made of pique, button-holed in big scallops about the bottom, are durable and serviceable. They are not transparent, and that is one of the things that commends them for practical wear.

All but the extremely stout woman may wear the high waist line, but for her it is not permitted. It is particularly noted in suits and dresses. Even short bodices have wide girdles, to give the high waist line effect.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By W. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

LESSON FOR APRIL 11

DAVID ANOINTED KING.

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 16:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Mean looketh on the outward appearance, but Jehovah looketh
on the heart.—1 Samuel 16:7 R. V.

After the events recorded in last Sunday's lesson, Samuel retired to Ramah never again to see Saul's face. Samuel "mourned" (15:35) i. e., be- wailed and lamented the deposed king. It was noble for Samuel thus to be grieved over Saul's sin; still, God had work for him to do. There is a sor- row that "worketh repentance" which is pleasing in the sight of God, but that idle sorrow which spends itself in unprofitable mourning is detrimental to man and a hindrance to the kingdom of God (ch. 3:7; 15:1). Men may fall but the kingdom goes for- ward. We do not interpret verse 2 as suggesting any subterfuge on God's part but rather that God refused to pay any attention to Samuel's fear. God answers fear by giving us duties to perform and in their performance we are delivered from our fears.

I. David, Chosen to Be King, vv. 4-10. Saul, the clamorous choice of the peo- ple, was not succeeded by David—"the man after God's own heart"—for sev- eral years after this lesson. God's will in this matter was shown to Samuel progressively: (a) in chapter 13:14 Samuel is informed that God hath sought "a man after his own heart;" (b) in 16:1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had pro- vided; (c) in verse 12 Samuel is at last definitely told whom God has selected. This selection is in ac- cordance with the prophecy made cen- turies before regarding the kingly scepter (Gen. 49:10). Of course it was high treason, this act Samuel was about to perform, and Saul yet had many friends and supporters (v. 2). God seems to have permitted Samuel to use one avowed purpose to con- ceal the real one, but "such a course is one to use but sparingly" (Maclaren). God can and does protect those whom he sends (Ps. 34:7) and "man is im- mortal till his work is done." Just what or how did not concern Samuel for he had God's promise (v. 3). A step at a time was sufficient and in taking each step Samuel was to tell the exact truth.

Thus God guides and tests his serv- ants. Samuel was a judge as well as a prophet (ch. 7:16) and the people of Bethlehem were agitated at his arrival. It may be, too, that these elders were fearful of incurring the displeasure of Saul. There was no occasion for fear, as Samuel's purpose was to sacrifice and his mission one of peace even as the angelic messengers who quieted the shepherds with their message of "peace" when "great David's greater son" was ushered into the world. Jesse was a grandson of Ruth the Moabitess and also a de- scendant of Rahab the harlot. On his father's side he belonged to the strong tribe of Judah. He was evi- dently a man of some wealth, certain- ly in his children. After the sacri- fice and before the feast Samuel is made acquainted with the sons of Jesse. The first, Eliab, was tall and good to look upon and at once Samuel fixed upon him as the certain choice for Jehovah.

II. David Anointed King, vv. 11-13. Seven sons are set aside and yet Samuel did not hear the voice of God's approval. In seeming dismay he asks, "Are here all thy children?" Jesse seems to have made a careless and reluctant reply that the youngest was away from home tending sheep. Thereupon Samuel asserts that "we will not sit down (to the sacrificial feast) till he be brought hither." It is from such lowly positions that God is constantly promoting men to positions of responsibility and prominence. Witness Carey, Livingston, Moody and a hundred others past and present. David at this time was about fifteen years old (Beecher). His name means "darling," significant of the affection of his mother, whose name is un- known, but to whom David twice makes reference (Ps. 68:16; 118:16). David was short, compared with his brothers, but had bright eyes (v. 12 snare), and a fair face—a "comely person" (v. 18). David was agile and strong and though seemingly scoffed at by his brothers and neglected by his father it did not pervert his good nature nor turn him from the perform- ance of his duties. Samuel did not greet David as he had greeted Saul, he may have been disappointed. This gives emphasis to the words in verse 12, "Arise anoint him: for this is he."

David is anointed, set apart for the kingship, but is not equipped nor does he enter upon his office till later.

In this he is a type of Jesus who shall yet reign on David's throne.

Verses 12 and 14 tell of the develop- ing contrast in the lives of Saul and David. David the young king, poten- tial only at this time, is a great in- spiration to the young of all ages in that, (1) He did his lowly work thoroughly; (2) While doing it he sought to cultivate and improve him- self (v. 18); and (3) He gave himself wholly to God: hence the record "and Jehovah is with him" (v. 12).

BODY FOUND IN RAIN BARREL.

Parties Were Being Formed to Search for Brazil Child.

Brazil, Ind., April 9.—Mayor John Jones had ordered the fire bell rung for the purpose of getting hundreds of people together to assist in the search for Amos Alexander, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alexander, when the body of the child was found in a rain barrel at his home.

The boy had been missing since morning. Thinking he had gone to the home of a relative, the mother did not become worried until afternoon. The police were notified. Automobiles and other searching parties were called out. Search was made for several hours but the boy was not found.

And Refined Society Ladies to Troop at Jess' Chariot Wheels.

New York, April 9.—A public welcome and demonstration in honor of Jess Willard has been arranged for the arrival of the world's champion heavyweight here tomorrow night. A reception committee of men prominent in the sporting world will meet him at the railway station and an escort of paraders headed by a band, and including a detachment of boy scouts and members of the Kansas society will lead the champion's progress up Seventh avenue and Broadway to the St. Nicholas club. There Willard is to box four rounds with Jim Savage, his sparring partner. Next week Willard will begin a two week's engagement at a local vaudeville theater. As boxing exhibitions are permitted only in licensed athletic clubs, the champion will appear in a sketch. According to announcement today Willard will make a theatrical tour of the country which will prevent him from boxing again for nine months or a year. In the meantime it was thought the real contenders for his title would be reduced to one or two.

The United States district attorney said today that if the films of the Willard-Johnson fight are brought to New York from Havana they will be detained until a judicial ruling has been given on the question of admitting the films of the Ritchie-Weich contest which were brought here from London recently. The collector of the port, Dudley Field Malone, said he would exclude the films from entry.

HERE'S AN UMPIRE WHO IS FAIR—HE'S A DUMMY AND PATENTED.

Los Angeles, April 9.—H. E. Westgate, of this city, has applied for a patent on an automatic umpire he has invented that records strikes and balls, returns the ball to the pitcher, and presents a right or left hand dummy batter by a simple twist of the wrist. The device has been tested by league pitchers and they declare it is accurate to the fraction of an inch.

It consists of a backstop eight feet square provided with dummy batters, one right and one left handed, cleverly painted. Between these two batters the figure of a catcher (all figures being life size) is painted. The strike recording device is between the two batters and one or the other of the latter is automatically covered up so that the target presented is the same as a pitcher would face on the ball field.

Extending towards the pitcher for a distance of twenty feet is a strong frame, covered on the top and both sides by heavy netting. The ball as it bounds from the backstop either strikes against the netting and eventually reaches an inclined alley, or bounds straight back and goes into the alley part way between the backstop and the pitcher. The result is the same, as it is returned to the pitcher's box.

League and amateur pitchers declare the device is great for "warming up" work, as no catcher is necessary, and in practicing control of the ball or new curves. "The eyes of the umpire also can be tested by allowing him to call balls and strikes on any number of balls, and then compare his judgment and score with that of the automatic recording device which, in the meantime, is concealed.

WHY HANK LOOKS GRUMPY

For many years Hank O'Day has silently borne the reputation of being the greatest grouchy in baseball. He looked it, he acted it, and never denied it. Talking with James Jerpe at Hot Springs the other day, however, Hank unburdened himself and offered an alibi and here it is in his own words:

"My face may appear grumpy and crabbed; I may have a distant nature and a desire to keep to myself, but the dear public does not know how to analyze an umpire's face."

"A man may have the mobile and gentle features of a schoolboy, but after he has squinted through a mask for a quarter of a century his features are bound to take on the look of a troubled man. In an average game of baseball an umpire makes about 300 decisions. A decision is called for on every ball pitched. In seventy-seven games of a season, therefore, he must make about 231,000 decisions."

"When you have stood there in the sun, judging balls that come with blinding speed, or with tantalizing curves or slowness, it isn't any wonder that in twenty-five years a man's face will become contorted with an anxious and sullen look. To tell the truth your face almost freezes that way. I may have looked severe and cross to the crowds, but really while having my hardest trouble with some players I have had to laugh quietly. The strain of it will alter an umpire's facial characteristics but not his disposition if he is the right kind of a man."

Hans Wagner joined the group while Hank was talking and the meeting between the pair was cordial and affecting. They have grumbled and jawed against each other many a time but the warm old friendship is there and each has the warmest admiration for the other.

"And they tell me you are still hitting them," ventured Hank, after they had shaken hands.

"You bet I am, Hank," replied Honus, "but I would hate to have been batting against you in your palmy days as a pitcher."

Wagner's bit of blarney overshadowed anything in Hank's line, but as they parted Hank looked wistfully after the Dutchman and said:

"There's only one, and that's him."

SINISTER SYMPTOMS.

"Oh, Mr. Flipperley," she exclaimed soulfully, "have you ever felt a dim uneasy sense of oppression as if mere weight of life were a burden too heavy to be borne by the chained spirit panting with psychic longing to be free?"

"I invariably have such a feeling at dinner time," was the caustic response, "but hitherto I have attributed it to pickles."

MUST WE BREED A RACE OF GIANTS FOR FUTURE HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPS?

(By Left Hook).

The man who likes Jess Willard must be a giant!

Heavyweight champions of the future must be giants!

That is, if precedent is worth a jot. Jess Willard is a big man—an extraordinary big man. He is six foot six inches in height and 238 pounds of fighting weight makes him the biggest champion of all times.

But he is merely following out the dope—that champions must be bigger as time goes on.

A composite picture twentieth century heavyweight champion, made up of the averages of the men who have held the title, gives us a man 6 feet 2-3 inches in height, and 222-2-3 pounds in weight. The nineteenth century champion is a mere pigmy, comparatively, of 5 feet 11-6 inches in height and weighing 191-1-3 pounds.

Here's how it is figured:

Take Paddy Ryan, John L. Sullivan and Jim Corbett, as representative of the nineteenth century champions. The 165 pound Pittsimmions will be eliminated as a boxing freak, whose like is not apt to again appear. Ryan was 5 feet 11 inches and weighed 200 pounds when Sullivan beat him. Sullivan was 5 feet 10½ inches and weighed 196 at the time. Corbett licked John L. standing 5 feet 1 inch and weighing 178 pounds. The average of these figures are given above.

Jim Jeffries stood 6 feet 1½ inch and weighed 220 pounds. Jack Johnson stood 6 feet 1 inch and weighed approximately 280 during the latter part of his career. Willard, the giant, stands 6 feet 6 inches and weighs 238 pounds. These three give an average of 229-1-3 pounds and 6 feet 2-1-3 inches in height for the twentieth century champions.

NEW RULING BY GILMORE.

Throwing Cap or Glove at Ball Means Home Run for Hitter.

Chicago, April 9.—An outfielder in the Federal league who stops a ball by throwing his cap, glove or any other part of his equipment at it will present the batter with a home run by his action, according to a new ruling announced by James A. Gilmore, president of the league. The ordinary rule provides for a three-base hit in such a case. The three-base rule will stand, Gilmore said, for a similar action by an infielder.

RAIN SPOILS THE MORNING PRACTICE

Happenings at Baseball Headquarters—Tuman

Reports.

It was a dull morning on the field at League park but Manager Bade Myers was simply waiting for a chance to try out some of his recruits, and with the first bit of letup of the drizzly rain he will have his men on the field tomorrow.

There remains to be done a great deal of pruning, for with over two dozen players working out, only thirteen of them can land berths. This will cut a lot of good men out of the proposition.

Infielder Tuman, who was with the locals early last season, but who went to the Atlantic Coast league under option, bobbed up at the headquarters early Thursday evening and is ready to get into line when the crowd tries out. He is a husky fellow and seems to be in the pink of condition.

Long, the pitcher who last year held down a job in the Ohio State league, was out for a workout Thursday afternoon for the first time, and his few minutes before the lights showed him up as a corner.

Gard, who has been working behind the sack, is getting his fingering arm into condition with pegs to the bases for several hours each day.

COLONIAL TROOPS ON THE FIRING LINE

Playing Very Large Part in the Fighting in Europe.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—In a statement prepared today the National Geographic society tells something of the colonial troops now on the firing line in the war in Europe. The statement says:

"Asia, Africa and Australasia have furnished their quotas of men to the firing lines in Europe. Among these foreign troops that have most distinguished themselves in European warfare are the French Turcos and the English Singhalesses. This is the first appearance of the Singhalesses upon European battlefields, but the Turcos have been employed on the white continent several times.

"The Singhalesses are natives of Ceylon. There are, strictly speaking, about 2,500,000 of them. They are settled in the central and southern divisions of the island. They are members of the Aryan family by language, but, in blood, they are a very mixed race, though basically they are of white blood. They are descendants of colonists from the valley of the Ganges, who are thought to have settled in Ceylon about 500 years before the birth of Christ.

"The Singhalesses have remained a stationary folk since the opening of the Christian era. Their costumes, customs and manner of life are much the same today that they were more than 2,000 years ago. In appearance, the men of this people are peculiarly effeminate. Their bodies are slender and their features are delicate. Their dress is womanish, even to the extent of fastening their long hair back from the forehead by means of dainty combs. The men also wear ear-rings. Nevertheless, the Singhalesses have managed to cover themselves with glory by brilliant service in the fearful battlefields of Europe.

"The Turcos are a French military organization; not a folk. 'Turcos' is the name which the French have applied to those troops that they have formed out of natives of Algeria. They are of Arabic and negro stock, and are among the best trained colonial troops in the world.

"The Turcos were organized in the first instance, as was also the case with the Foreign Legion, solely for employment in Algeria. However, France early found use for them in other fields. In 1859, the Turcos went through their first European campaign in Italy. These same troops won international renown when, in 1870-71, their desperate fighting proved one of the most serious obstacles to German success upon more than one battlefield. Again, in 1884, the Turcos saw service in the far distant French province in China. The Turcos have always distinguished themselves in hardy endurance and in reckless bravery."

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula, and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense. Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. The following notes are from a letter received from a patient who had been suffering from catarrhal deafness for many years, and who had been treated by the best specialists in the world, and who had spent thousands of dollars in vain.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped
Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty diet and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians, and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

DIG FOR BIG TREASURE.

Story of Dying Squaw Starts Search for Gold on Reservation.

Pendleton, Ore., April 9.—Farmers and Indians on the Umatilla reservation are in a hunt for buried treasure, the existence of which had been asserted by Ko-ko-dye-a-lash, an old squaw, on her deathbed. Plows, scrapers, picks and shovels were used and scores of acres plowed and dug up.

Ko-ko-dye-a-lash was told several days ago that she was dying and she directed her son to a place where she found a can in which was $1,100 in gold. This she buried recently, she said, but

Your Grandmother's Remedy for Purifying the Blood

And Renovating the System in the Springtime Ask for Sulphurb Tablets.

What was grandmother's unexcelled remedy? Haven't you heard of it? Yes, you have! It was sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. The main trouble with it was it was its nauseous taste. The modern method puts the cream of tartar and sulphur into a sugar-coated tablet and mixes them with herbs, roots, etc., making a wonderful tonic blood purifier and system cleanser. Just try Sulphurb Tablets (not sulphur tablets), but Sulphurb—remember the name—and get the tablets in sealed tubes at 50c per tube. Grown-up people and children who don't feel well, who are constipated or sluggish, or who have pimples, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and the like, can speed up the system of these impurities by taking this good old-fashioned remedy in modern form. Their action satisfies or money is refunded by the Prescription Products Company, Dayton, Ohio. A free trial sent to any address. See us at any well stocked drugstore.

SAY EFFECTS MAY BE FAR-REACHING

Washington, April 9.—Close study by officials of Germany's note assuming full liability for the destruction of the American sailing ship Wm. P. Frye, reveals many points that may have a far reaching effect on other legal questions arising between the United States and Germany during the present war.

Germany's acceptance of the treaty of 1828 as still binding would make it apparently incumbent on her, officials thought, to pay for any losses sustained by American shippers of contraband articles in American vessels although the right to lawfully detain such cargoes and compensate the owners at a later date was reserved.

There is a question also in the minds of officials here whether the treaty would not give American owners the right to recover damages for the loss of their goods aboard the vessels of Germany's enemies.

One of the interesting phases of the Frye note, however, which was pointed out by officials as likely to have an important bearing on submarine attacks on belligerent craft was the statement regarding the obligations of commanders to remove passengers to a place of safety. It may be cited by the United States when it begins its discussion with the Berlin foreign office of the death of Leon Thresher in the submarine attack on the British steamer Falaba.

ASK RECEIVER FOR LIFE RISK CONCERN

Indianapolis, April 9.—Richard M. Milburn, attorney general, today filed suit in superior court against the Anchor Life Insurance company, with headquarters at 430 North Penna. street, Indianapolis, asking for a receiver for the company and alleging that the company is insolvent.

Restraintment of the company from transacting further business also is asked in the complaint. The filing of the action is the outgrowth of weeks of investigation of the company's business by the office of auditor of state.

NEW LIST OF CASUALTIES.

London, April 9.—Another extended list of casualties totalling 1,108 names was issued by the British war office today and it emphasizes the fierceness of the battle of Neuve Chapelle, in France, last month. The killed in this latest list number 336.

MANY CITIES AFTER NEXT CONFERENCE

Fort Wayne Has a Good Chance to Secure M. E. Gathering.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Auburn, Ind., April 9.—That Fort Wayne has a good chance of securing the next session of the North Indiana Methodist Episcopal conference was the opinion expressed today by many of the ministers in attendance at the conference here. The next meeting place will be selected at the session Saturday morning. Other strong contenders for the entertaining of the conference next year are: Huntington, Kokomo and Muncie.

Bishop McDowell delivered the second of his series of addresses on "The Minister" this morning. Rev. E. R. Grose, president of DePauw university, was the last speaker at the morning session. He reported the university in a most flourishing condition and that the outlook for the coming year was most promising. Dr. Grose also offered prayer.

Conference Evangelists Named.
The following conference evangelists were named this morning: Rev. J. A. Osborn, Warsaw; Rev. E. B. Westhafer, Muncie; and Rev. T. M. Guild, Peru. Permission was given to sell several old churches, the proceeds to go for the improvement of other church properties in the conference.

The charges of public intoxication against Rev. R. I. Black, of Saratoga, Randolph county, were not sustained. Rev. F. O. Scurrah, of Bunker Hill, withdrew from the Methodist conference to enter the Presbyterian ministry. Reports were heard from Rev. B. S. Holloper, superintendent of the Logansport district, and Rev. Somerville Light, superintendent of the Goshen district. Rev. A. G. Neal, of Warsaw, was presented with a new typewriter for having the best charge in the district. Rev. Dundahey, of Lafayette, spoke this morning on Purdue university, telling of the work that had been done during the past year and the things contemplated for the future.

Committees Are Named.
On the auditing committee were appointed E. L. Jones, superintendent of the Methodist Memorial home, and F. H. Creman, of Fort Wayne.
On the resolutions committee were appointed W. F. Smith, Huntington; G. R. Gross, president of DePauw university; Roy Seamans, Goshen; Karl Carlson, Fremont; and L. J. Nafziger, Union City.
J. H. Runkle, of Red Key, acting for the board of conference examiners, gave examinations to the following aspirants to become elders:
Entrance applicants—R. R. Detweiler, Bluffton; Bart W. Lewis, Anderson; R. I. Stone, Hartford City; F. W. Roeling, Inwood.
Second year—A. F. White, South Whitley; C. E. Bash, Waterloo, and Luther Markin, Middletown.
Third year—James Richardson, Fountain City; C. Montgomery, Boxley; C. B. Thomas, Gilead; E. A. Hartman, Cornua; A. C. Hoover, Hillsburg; Charles Anderson, Shirley; Joseph Grimes, Decatur circuit; W. E. Hagan, Inwood; A. R. Patton, Point Isabel, and William E. McPheters, Miami.
Rev. J. W. Somerville addressed the conference on an evangelistic topic, "The Worker's Power House." Rev. Somerville is from Wichita, Kansas, and has a heart as big as his body, which is a massive one. His address was of great interest to the ministers and full of good points for them.

Laymen Meet.
The laymen of the church met in the Y. M. C. A. and were called to order by the president, George Morgan, of Lagrange. The routine business was performed, and several addresses made.
This body will be in session all day Friday and the most important event of the day will be the minister-layman banquet. Bishop McDowell will address this session.

The Evening Session.
The services in the tabernacle were attended by over a thousand, excluding the ministers, and great interest taken in the addresses given.

At the request of Rev. Thornburg, the entire minister body sat on the platform and as a particularly good point was made by one of the speakers, their "Amens" and "Hallelujahs" rolled out like the music of a vast organ.
Rev. Earle Nafziger, of Wabash, had charge of the song service and led the congregation from one song to another with no time between the verses. While they sang the old songs with almost as much good will as the preachers themselves.

The conference quartet—Rev. Earle Nafziger, Wabash; Rev. Leslie Nafziger, Union City; Rev. D. H. Guild, Fort Wayne, and Rev. Fred Thornburg, Auburn—sang and responded to vociferous encores.
Rev. J. W. Van Cleave, of Decatur, Ill., spoke in the interest of the Preachers' Aid society, and displayed many lamentable features in the way the superannuated ministers of the church are cared for.
"The railroads are getting to put their men on a pension sufficient to keep them in comfort. When a section hand is getting a pension of $35 per month, a retired Methodist minister is in a position to envy him."

Rev. A. E. Smith, who has been so well liked in his previous addresses, again spoke, this time on the versatility of Christ and the way in which the ministers should strive to imitate Him.
"A whimper and a whine has no place in a preacher," he said. "God expects meeting houses proportionate in splendor with the homes in which the congregation lives. Some churches are great coffins, with gold handles and silk linings.
"If you people think that the Methodist church is located at the corner of Seventh and Van Buren, God pity you. The church should be located in every part of the whole city and community. Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there also am I."

The Friday evening program is being looked forward to as the biggest night of the conference. The evening will be opened by a concert by the Scout quartet.

"A whimper and a whine has no place in a preacher," he said. "God expects meeting houses proportionate in splendor with the homes in which the congregation lives. Some churches are great coffins, with gold handles and silk linings.
"If you people think that the Methodist church is located at the corner of Seventh and Van Buren, God pity you. The church should be located in every part of the whole city and community. Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there also am I."

The Friday evening program is being looked forward to as the biggest night of the conference. The evening will be opened by a concert by the Scout quartet.

LINEMAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT ON POLE

Edwin Hackett Comes in Contact With Live Wire, Death Resulting.

While working on an electric light pole in front of 918 Harrison street, between Wayne and Washington streets, late Thursday afternoon, Edwin Hackett, 32, residing at 1728 Andrew street, a lineman for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, came in contact with a live wire, 4,000 volts of electricity passing through his body. He died on the way to St. Joseph hospital.

As soon as he came in contact with the live wire Hackett fell back unconscious and would have fallen to the ground forty feet below but for his safety strap which he had fastened around the pole. For about ten minutes he hung there when fellow-workmen succeeded in lowering him to the ground. He was still alive. An ambulance hurried him to the hospital with all possible haste, but he breathed his last on the way.

Mrs. Hackett was visiting a neighbor and was not notified of her husband's death until an hour and a half after the accident. A neighbor sent her daughter to tell her to come home at once. Mrs. Paul Natchigall conveyed the news to her as delicately as she could and a most pitiable scene followed. She completely collapsed, it becoming necessary to call a physician to attend her. Mr. and Mrs. Hackett had been married about three years and a half. Mrs. Hackett formerly lived in Monroeville.

Hackett was assisting in lowering the wire carrying the 4,000 volts of electricity when, it is believed, the wire fell against his head, causing a circuit. That it must have been grounded is the opinion of the other workmen. He was not badly burned, there being slight burns on his head, left hand and right foot.

Hackett had been in the employ of the traction company for a number of years, at one time acting as "trouble shooter." Some years ago he also was employed as an electrician by the Pennsylvania company. He is survived by a wife.

BIG NEW YORK FIRM ON ROCKS

the company, long known as the Siegel-Copier store, occupies both blocks on Sixth avenue between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

Assets of the store are listed in the complaint at $7,465,419, including merchandise, cash and accounts receivable. The liabilities, it is said aggregate $3,513,060, not including the mortgage liabilities amounting to approximately $2,950,000.

J. B. Greenhut, president of the firm, is treasurer of the Monmouth Securities company upon whose application the receivers were appointed. The suit is based upon the indebtedness of approximately $200,000 alleged to be due the Securities company and representing money loaned the Greenhut company.

William A. Marble, one of the receivers, is a vice president of the Merchants' association of this city. Walter N. Noyes is a former judge of the federal district court of this district.

In connection with its department stores, the J. B. Greenhut company conducted a private bank for the convenience of its customers. In December last, however, the firm gave notice that it intended to withdraw from the banking business and that no interest on deposits would be paid after Jan. 1, 1915. The date fixed by the firm for its withdrawal from the banking business was March 1. This gave the depositors two months' notice and it is believed that all availed themselves of it to withdraw their savings.

A few moments after the appointment of the receivers, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company by three creditors with claims aggregating $3,000. In this petition these creditors alleged that the assets of the Greenhut company, exclusive of real estate, do not exceed $6,000,000 and that its liabilities, mostly old debts, aggregate approximately $12,000,000.

Benjamin G. Paskus, of counsel for the J. B. Greenhut company, asserts that the liabilities were about $3,500,000 and assets about $7,000,000. Of the latter, he said, there were about $4,000,000 in quick assets, so called and $3,000,000 in fixtures and stable equipment. There are two mortgages on real estate owned by the firm, according to the petition. One of the mortgages is for $1,200,000 and the other for $1,750,000. These mortgages, Mr. Paskus said, are offset by bonds, some of which are held in Europe. Current liabilities, Mr. Paskus asserted, would be offset by the merchandise and outstanding accounts.

Will Be Reorganized.
Without question the business will be reorganized, Mr. Paskus asserted. The firm had virtually closed its banking business, he said, returning to depositors approximately $5,000,000 during the last year.

Paul E. Meyer, attorney for the receivers, said that the receivers had been organized and that they would be in a position to take over the business of the firm.

tion in bankruptcy, asserted that he represented altogether about 100 creditors whose claims aggregated between $500,000 and $1,000,000. Mr. Meyer said he would interpose no objection to reorganization plans if they would secure the interests of his clients.
The firm's failure caused no surprise in banking circles where its financial embarrassment was a matter of general knowledge. The company had notes amounting to about $250,000 falling due at this time and it was known yesterday that these obligations would not be met. Financial institutions hold approximately $750,000 of the company's notes. Out of town banks, notably in Chicago and Pittsburg, are said to hold small amounts of the company's paper.

GAVE POLICE A BATTLE.

A foreigner whose name is believed to be J. D. Picolo, gave the police a rattling battle at the saloon corner of Columbia and Clinton streets, Friday morning, when they attempted to arrest him and remove him from the place, where he had been making a disturbance. He was frenzied with drink and fought like a bear. Officer Joe Bogitz and Cy Andrews and a bystander had as much as they could do to get him through the door. In the melee Officer Andrews was kicked on the hand and had thumb dislocated. A rope was procured from a nearby hardware store and the man was hog-tied and dumped into the patrol wagon.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Master Painters Refuse to Grant Increase Demanded by Union.

Though two conferences have now been held between committees representing the painters' local union, no agreement has been reached in regard to the painters' demand for a higher wage scale.

It is understood that the union has agreed to accept a contract calling for 45 cents an hour for paperhangers, instead of 50 as originally demanded. The old contract called for 40 cents. The master painters declare they cannot see their way clear to grant one penny increase.

FRIGHTFUL LOSSES MARK THE COMBAT

has been revived. Such a possibility is discussed widely in the Russian press and in diplomatic circles. It is based largely on the reported attempt of Emperor Francis Joseph to enlist the influence of the pope in this direction. From the first it has been maintained here that the only terms Russia would consider would be the unqualified concession of all Slavic demands. Russian officials have never conserved the possibility of such concessions unless a decisive victory should be won by the Slavic nations now at war.

Berlin, April 9.—The official statement given out today by the German general staff headquarters says:

"In the western theater, the French attacks on the Meuse and Moselle rivers continue with increased ferocity. The French suffered the heaviest losses, but again were completely unsuccessful in their attacks."

"In the plain of the Woivre they also unsuccessfully attacked. During the morning and evening they continually brought up new forces for the occupation of the Meuse hills, near Combray."

"French attacks to the west of Fliery died out under our fire, but north of the northeast of this place they led to bit-

FORT WAYNE YOUNG LADY USED IT FOR A BUILDER

ROSSELLA KELLER.

Many people in Fort Wayne are run down, feel half sick and half well, and keep putting it off until some day they will find out that they really have a spell of serious sickness, and will then regret that they did not take nature's warning and save themselves.

Miss Keller says: For a long time I have been run down and had no appetite, felt tired and languid all the time, with no desire to exert myself. Since taking Herbal Lax-a-Tone I must say that I am wonderfully surprised, as I feel just fine and eat heartily.

"If you have sour acid stomach, weak kidneys, headaches, sallow skin, constipation, heartburn, puffed feet and ankles and feel tired out and languid all the time, try Herbal Lax-a-Tone, it will work wonders."

The Herbal Lax-a-Tone man is at Dreier Drug Co., 526 Calhoun street, where he is demonstrating this remedy. He will remain until 10 o'clock Saturday to meet those unable to call during the day.—Adv.

NONE OF 'EM QUITE SUIT THE COLONEL

Roosevelt Has Not Promised to Support Standpat Republican.

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 8.—Former President Roosevelt has not promised to support any standpat republican candidate for president. This statement may be accepted as authoritative. Frequently printed reports that Roosevelt had promised to help Weeks, Root, Burton and others, moved me to come to Oyster Bay for the purpose of finding out the truth of these reports. They are not true. Colonel Roosevelt has not abandoned the progressive party, nor advised anybody else to do so.

What he may do eighteen months from now is another matter. It is not a matter on which he is willing to talk now. He does not himself know. The present situation he describes as a "hair-trigger" situation, nationally and internationally. Almost anything is likely to happen. Men who followed him in the revolt against the old machine-controlled standpat republicanism have nothing to do but to keep their powder dry and their guns handy. Translating this into more simple political terms, it would be foolish to give up the progressive party organization and influence without any reason for giving it up or anything received in return. The progressives, as an organization, should be able, before the next republican convention is held to compel the adoption of a progressive platform and the nomination of a progressive candidate. If they cannot do that, it may be best to nominate a man like Hiram Johnson even if the only result of this be to furnish a place for honest progressives to vote, and to turn the election to the democrats.

Roosevelt is not keen for the latter result. This should be interpreted emphatically. The colonel is doing one thing more than any other and that is to emphasize at all times his cordial disapproval of the present administration. He disapproves its foreign policy and most of its domestic policy. His principal indictment, however, is in the matter of unpreparedness for national defense. The colonel takes the attitude that since the outbreak of the European war the highest national duty was to set this country's defense in order. He believes, and in this he disagrees with the administration, that the only way to avert war is to be adequately prepared to defend ourselves against foreign aggression. The Roosevelt attitude is expressed by Congressman A. P. Gardner, and in some things Roosevelt has said on this subject, his attitude has been misinterpreted. To one inquirer he said, for instance, that should a choice be presented between a man like Root in favor of adequate national defense, and Wilson in favor of inadequate national defense, no matter how cordially he has disapproved Root, he would feel compelled in the interest of the welfare of the nation to support the man who engineered the theft of the Chicago convention in the interest of Taft, rather than a president who would support the activity of Wilson. This does not mean that he favors Root as against Wilson. It simply means that he favors adequate military preparation as against inadequate. These expressions by Roosevelt simply indicate how strongly he feels on the subject of adequate defenses. Should this be the paramount question of the campaign, it means he will support the candidate whose position most nearly coincides with his own on this question, which he regards as overshadowing almost everything else.

The colonel intends to refer inquirers as to the future of the progressive party to Victor Murdock, who is now chairman of the progressive party national committee. He has lately had a long talk with Murdock and both are entirely agreed as to what should be done. Chiefly, they are agreed that the thing not to do at present is to corral the head over heels into the arms of the reactionary republicans who are starting their subsidized, gumshoe, full-dinner-pail, prosperity, Fairbanks-Burton campaign. Roosevelt is opposed to Burton because Burton is a pacifist. He is opposed to Taft always; he is opposed to Root because Root was a political brigand at the Chicago convention; Senator Weeks he does not even know; he is opposed to Watson, Fairbanks, Foraker, Penrose and Barnes. The republicans in order to invite Roosevelt support, will have to scurry around and get some kind of a candidate quite different from any of these. A Pennsylvania republican recently elected to congress, wrote the other day to Roosevelt, saying: "Why don't you come back to the republican party; we want to support you?" He wrote in reply: "Why don't you come back to the principles of the republican party during the time of Lincoln when it stood for the people and not for special privilege?"

TO ABIDE BY THE LAW.

High School Frat Changes Constitution to Meet Statutes.

Newcastle, Ind., April 7.—At the semi-annual meeting of the officers of the Kappa Alpha Phi high school fraternity, it was decided to change the constitution and by-laws of the body so that it would no longer be a high school fraternity, but a fraternity for young men. The action was taken to conform with the state law on the subject and in order to avoid conflict with the rule of many college fraternities which prohibits the "spiking" of young men who have been members of high school fraternities.

Charters for new chapters at Connersville and Greencastle were granted and a committee was appointed to install several chapters in Michigan and Ohio. Among the officers present were: Carl Wagner, Logansport, president; Carl Gunning, Rushville, treasurer; Glenn B. Woodard, Bloomington, vice president; and Walter Holtz, Newburg, secretary.

DISCOVERS BIG SPOT ON SUN'S SURFACE

Nearly Eight Times as Large as Earth and Attended by Smaller Ones.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—One of the largest spots ever seen by astronomers is now visible on the surface of the sun and, according to the scientists who have measured it, it is about 54,150 miles in diameter or several times larger than our earth. Along with this spot is a smaller one which extends over an area of about 150,000 miles in length.

Many of the various opinions have been held as to what, if any, influence these sun spots have on the earth, but astronomers are now pretty generally agreed that they have practically no influence whatever unless it be that they may cause magnetic storms.

Professor Benjamin Boss, director of the Dudley observatory in Albany, when asked about the phenomenon said: "Sun spots as they are called appear at somewhat regular periods reaching the maximum about every eleven years. The last maximum period of spots was in 1905 so another maximum is due in 1916. In maximum periods the number of the spots run as high sometimes as one hundred, while in normal times there are no spots visible on the sun.

Nature of Sun Spots. "A sun spot is a disturbance on the surface of that body. They are probably the result of an eruption of gases and what we see are the gases falling back into the sun. A curious fact about sun spots is that they revolve in spiral form like a whirlwind and no two spots, when they appear in pairs, as they generally do, revolve in the same direction.

"The only effect they have on the earth, if any, is that they probably cause magnetic storms which at times, especially during maximum periods, are so violent that they affect telegraph instruments and other delicate electrical appliances. They have no effect whatever on barometric conditions, however, as has been at times supposed.

"Another interesting feature of sun spots is that very often when they are numerous, the aurora borealis also is seen so it is highly probable that this year and next this phenomenon will be seen frequently."

UNIVERSAL GARB IS SOUGHT BY FASHION

Reward of $150 for Best "Polymuriel" Good for Any Locality.

New York, April 9.—The new style in skirts is not without their compensation. From Fifth avenue to the Battery and from New York to San Francisco a wall went up when the edict spread that full skirts are come to stay and that to be seen in the old-fashioned "umbrella case" is equivalent to a defamation of character. "What shall I do with my last year's suit? It is perfectly good, but it can't possibly be made full" is the cry you hear on all sides. But now the women are going to have a chance to make themselves immortal. The new idea rapidly gaining in fashion circles is that of a "polymuriel," that is, a garment meant to be worn on all occasions and by all types of women; a universal garment.

After frantic designers gave up in despair it was decided that the only thing to do was to start a polymuriel contest, open to all and aimed to find a universal garment, useful, yet beautiful, which should greet the eyes of men from their offices, their homes, the ball rooms and even the subways. The contest is open until June 30 and a prize of $150 will be offered for the best design.

The polymuriel may be worn equally well in Alaska or Florida, at Dalmatians or Cooper Union. The little girl will don a polymuriel as soon as she sheds her baby clothes and wear it gracefully through life till she becomes a grandmother.

FILED THE CITY'S POWER SCHEDULE

Mayor Hosey and Manager Wessel See Public Serv- ice Commission.

Mayor W. J. Hosey and Secretary-Manager John Wessel were in conference Thursday at Indianapolis with President Clark of the Indiana Public Service commission, and filed with the secretary of that body the schedule of rates for electric power maintained by the city electric light department. Mayor Hosey took occasion to prefer to Commissioner Clark Ford Wayne's exception to any regulation that may be that the city cannot operate its electric light and power enterprise on this schedule until the utilities board shall have passed on it. He said that the city of Fort Wayne claimed the right and authority to purchase its business. Under the law the public service board can merely pass on the schedule, approving or disapproving it, and must bring suit in the local courts here alleging violation of the law either by the city or its servants. The schedule that was submitted to the board in force and is the one under which the city light and power department will continue to operate.

ONE RESOLUTION IS KILLED.

People of Mary Street Do Not Want a Sidewalk Built.

Of a large batch of resolutions for the construction of cement sidewalks before the board of works for confirmation, Thursday evening, one was killed by remonstrance, a most unusual occurrence. Three of the four property owners on the south side of Mary street, from Rampion to Davis, protested against the improvement and the resolution was slaughtered. All the other resolutions for sidewalks, a list of which was given in this department Thursday, were confirmed. Assessment rolls were confirmed for the local sewers described herein Thursday. The board received a petition from Darrow avenue to Radcliffe boulevard. Declaratory resolutions were adopted for paving the following alleys: One between Kinsaid and Packard avenues, South Wayne to Indiana; one between Lewis street and Douglas avenue, Calhoun to Harrison; one between Wayne and Washington street and one between Washington and Jefferson streets, Monroe to Hanna; one between Sutherland street and Woodland avenue, Clinton to first alley west; one west of Webster street, Sutherland to Woodland; one between Sutherland street and Woodland avenue, alley west of Webster to alley east of Hoagland; one west of Fairfield avenue, DeWald to the alley between Creighton and DeWald; alley between DeWald street and Creighton avenue, alley west of Fairfield to Fox avenue.

FEWER CONCERTS THIS YEAR.

With the proceeds of the half-cent tax levy for public band concerts in the city parks practically the same this year as last and with the Musicians' union requiring the full scale of rates for playing this year, whereas last year there was a reduction of 50 cents for each man, it has been found necessary to cut the schedule of summer concerts from forty to thirty-two. This was brought out Thursday afternoon at a conference of Secretary C. J. Steiss, of the park board, Concert Master Eugene B. Troendle, Director Gert Shober, of the Moose band; Manager L. S. C. Schroeder, of the Elks' band, Prof. Tanshill, of Citizens' band, and Prof. Dräger, of the Arion band. There will be three concerts a week—Sunday afternoons and Tuesday and Friday evenings. The season will begin June 15 and end August 29. The complete schedule will be prepared soon.

BASS BOILER SHOP ANNOYS.

Woman Complains to Mayor and Wants Noise of Industry Silenced.

A woman who resides near the Bass Foundry and Machine works, Fort Wayne's oldest and one of its greatest industrial concerns, called Mayor Hosey over the telephone Friday and complained that the boiler shop of the big institution made so much noise it disturbed her peace and she wanted some action taken. "Well, this is a new case," said Private Secretary D. C. McCarthy, who answered the telephone. "I've heard plenty of complaints that there wasn't work enough, but this is the first that has come that there is too much," he replied to the lady's complaint that the boiler shop was working a night shift and keeping up the glad music of industry overtime. Mayor Hosey directed that the woman be told there was nothing the city government had authority to do and that she would have to seek redress by injunction of the courts to silence the noise of the busy shop.

TO CONSIDER ANNEXATION.

Meeting of Council Committee of the Whole Monday Night.

President William A. Beyer, of the city council, has called for next Monday night in the council chamber a meeting of the committee of the whole to consider the proposal to annex about fifty-seven acres of territory south of Radcliffe boulevard and lying between Calhoun street and Fairfield avenue, described on the plat as Harrison Hill addition. Messrs. Hilgemann & Schaeff, the real estate firm, having the property in charge, are anxious to have it annexed. The plat has been under consideration by the board and the council as a committee of the whole has inspected the tract. The owners of the land are making extensive improvements and are ready to install water mains for the addition. The ordinance for annexation will come up for action Tuesday night if the committee of the whole makes a favorable report.

DECISIONS AT TIFFIN HAVE REACHED 2,216

Word has been received here that Dr. Milford H. Lyon will close his revival meetings at Tiffin, O., next Sunday evening when he will deliver his farewell sermon. So far the total number of decisions has reached 2,216 and before the meetings close it is expected that this number will reach 2,500 or more. The results in Tiffin have been much greater, proportionately, than in Fort Wayne. Fort Wayne with its 80,000 inhabitants had 4,800 decisions while Tiffin has only a population of 13,000.

So far Dr. Lyon has secured no financial recompense for his strenuous work, but will undoubtedly be suitably rewarded next Sunday when the collection taken will be given to the evangelist.

The party will enjoy a one week's rest at the meetings in Terre Haute, the next city in line for a campaign, will not begin until Sunday, April 18. The tabernacle at that place has nearly been completed and when finished will have a seating capacity of 5,000.

CITY OWNERSHIP BADLY DEFEATED

Grand Rapids Voters Turn Down Municipal Gas Proposition.

(From Grand Rapids Press.)
Not in a long time has a public issue been so decisively decided as that regarding the proposed municipal ownership and operation of the gas plant.

By more than 2 to 1 this pet project of the mayor's was snowed under. The decision was so plain as to be unmistakable. In practically every precinct the majority against municipal ownership was overwhelming and not for a moment was the result in doubt.

The only question was the size of the defeat and with the returns tabulated Tuesday morning it was found the total majority against the proposal was 6,928.

Mayor Ellis conceded defeat Monday, but he expected a better showing. His argument had been that a favorable vote would simply have been a club in the hands of the city in negotiating for a new franchise. The result probably means a new franchise dicker will be opened, though there are many officials who will insist the matter be allowed to rest until the new charter is framed in the belief a franchise provision will be included which will safeguard the city's interest and do away with the possibility of granting the makeshift and imperfect franchise to the gas or any other public service company.

The mayor declares his fight will be renewed and that he is not discouraged. The gas company officials naturally are highly pleased. They conducted a lively campaign, spread the ink liberally and this probably accounts for some of the victory. The general sentiment of the people against municipal ownership at this time was clearly and emphatically displayed.

How they voted in the various wards is shown in the following table:

Ward	Yes	No
First	202	438
Second	158	567
Third	420	1,382
Fourth	399	917
Fifth	520	1,050
Sixth	500	1,213
Seventh	330	771
Eighth	294	307
Ninth	265	583

LEE'S SURRENDER TO BE CELEBRATED

Meeting Will Be Held in the Majestic Theater This Evening.

A splendid program has been arranged by the two Fort Wayne posts, Grand Army of the Republic, for the celebration of the surrender of the confederates at Appomattox just fifty years ago. The meeting will be held in the Majestic theater this evening to which the public is cordially invited.

Every bulletin board in the north was surrounded by great crowds all day of April 9, 1865, and each new dispatch that was read bore additional news of the plight of Lee's army. As the day advanced all became convinced the end was but a few hours off. It was Sunday, and though the bells chimed and the churches had their usual Sabbath services, the air outside was full of excitement. Each additional bit of news brought forth cheers from the crowds outside the bulletin boards. By evening the people were wild with excitement. Many were mad with joy when they read Grant's message to Lincoln:

"General Lee surrendered the army of northern Virginia this afternoon on terms proposed by myself. The accompanying additional correspondence will show the conditions fully."

"U. S. GRANT, "Lieutenant-General."

Tonight's Program. Following is the program for tonight's celebration, with James B. Graham presiding: Song, "America," Simpson M. E. choir and audience; invocation, Comrade Rev. S. Wagnenals, D. D.; song, Blacksmiths' quartet; recitation, Mrs. Fred G. Fry; oration, Judge Walter Olds; solo, "The Boys in Blue Are Growing Gray," Mrs. Helen Tuesday; flag song, Miss Gertrude Seely; recitation, Miss Esther Graham; address, Colonel D. N. Foster; song, Emerson quartet; flag drill and song, "Guard the Flag," Ladies of the G. A. R.; song, "Star Spangled Banner," choir and audience.

HISTORIC CHAIRS ADDED.

Those Used by Sherman and Garfield Given to University.

Washington, April 9.—Headquarters' chair, used by General William T. Sherman from 1869 to 1880, while commander-in-chief of the United States army, and the chair used by President Garfield during his term at the white house, have been added to the historic furniture collection of the American university here. John Lamont Kunk, of Denver, son of the late William Kunk, donated the chairs, which he authenticated by original documents.

The Potomac river is only 500 miles long, and in its lower course is rather an ordinary stream.

SLANG SOMETIMES USED BY APOSTLES

Dropped Into Vernacular Greek of Their Time, Says Prof. Cobern.

Philadelphia, April 9.—Slang was occasionally used by the apostles in writing the new Testament although they never lacked reverence and decorum, according to Prof. Camden M. Cobern, explorer and archaeologist. In his lecture on "Discoveries Concerning the New Testament," delivered here yesterday, he declared that papyri unearthed during the last twenty years proves that the writers of the new Testament used the vernacular Greek of that time and not an inspired Greek different from any other tongue on earth.

Prof. Cobern announced that he has lately catalogued 33 copies of the new Testament written on papyrus between the third and the sixth centuries. Twenty-two other copies, he said, have been catalogued by Sir F. G. Kenyon, the London archaeologist. Among the interesting papyri discovered is that of a judge's decision which said: "Thou hast been worthy of scourging, but I will give thee to the people." "Skeptics," said Dr. Cobern, "have said that under the law Pilate could not have done exactly this thing. The record refutes the skeptics."

GERMANY WILL SETTLE.

Assumes Liability for Sinking of American Ship Frye.

Washington, April 9.—The German government has replied to the claim of the state department for compensation for the sinking by the Fritz Ritel Friedrich of the American ship, William P. Frye, assuming liability, not only for destruction of the vessel, but of the cargo under the treaty of 1828.

Germany requires, however, that the case shall be taken before a prize court for the establishment of facts concerning ownership of ship and cargo. To this the state department will assent.

BUT ONE FOREIGN TONGUE.

Language Requirements at Naval Academy Are Modified.

Washington, April 9.—Midshipmen at the naval academy will have to study but one foreign language in the future as the result of the approval by Secretary Daniels of a recommendation by the superintendent of the academy changing the course of modern language. The change was brought by the failure of the midshipmen to master two foreign languages in the time that is available for their study. Half of the midshipmen will study French and the remainder Spanish.

TO WAGE CAMPAIGN AGAINST SPITTERS

Roosters on North Steps of Court House Will Invite Arrest.

Because his was the first case of the kind to be brought into the city court, William Davidson was turned loose after trial on a charge of spitting on the sidewalk at the north steps of the court house, where the advent of spring has brought out the small warm weather flock of roosters, but Judge Kerr took occasion to announce that the next offender brought in and convicted on a similar charge would be fined. Davidson was arrested by Officer Ernest Paul, who had seen Davidson spit on the sidewalk, and warned him not to repeat the offense. The officer then stepped across Main street and from a post of observation in the Rialto cigar store saw Davidson again spit on the sidewalk. The arrest promptly followed. In court Officer Paul said the loafers on the court house steps created a filthy nuisance by their spitting on the sidewalk and that he had determined to do his best to break up the offensive practice. City Attorney Colerick, who prosecuted the Davidson case under a specific ordinance, asked Officer Paul to make other arrests when violations of the ordinance came under his notice. The north steps of the court house are the favorite roosting place of a great crowd of idlers in warm weather and besides obstructing the entrance they create a most offensive situation by spitting on the sidewalk. It long has been complained of, but no systematic effort to abate the nuisance has been made heretofore.

After hearing additional testimony in the case of Mary Ward for prostitution and Joe Egan for associating, Judge Kerr pronounced both of them guilty in the city court Friday morning and fined them $15 and costs each and added jail sentences of fifteen days for both. No testimony was offered for the woman. Attorney Frank Emrick, who appeared for her, made a strong plea for her acquittal. Both defendants appealed to the circuit court and furnished bond of $200 each. They were arrested at a house on Calhoun street, in the old red light district, where Kavanagh and Bert Smith, who were the arrests, had testified that Egan, who is a Syrian, had offered them $25 to commit the crime.

Admitting Tating Process.

went to jail in default of bond. He was arrested by Detective Sergeant William F. Peppert, who developed that Blidell had been representing himself at his boarding place as an employee on the night shift at the rolling mills and that he had been selling brass to junkies. He never worked at the rolling mills and has had no employment, but he has been staying out all night and sleeping all day. He admitted taking some brass in the rolling mill district, but says he found it secreted there. He also admitted that he had taken brass from the Kunkle safety valve works on Farr street. To dealers who purchased brass from him he gave his name as Frank Smith, of 321 Brandt street.

Was Riding Stolen Motorcycle. Floyd Woodworth was riding a motorcycle at Elkhart, Ind., when Detective Sergeant Peppert arrested him on New Haven avenue, having arrived here but an hour or two earlier. Word of the theft had reached the local headquarters just before Woodworth buzzed in. Woodworth resided here until a year ago, and was known as Sam Sams. He was returned to Elkhart Friday by an officer from that place.

Other City Court Cases. Arthur Hall, employed in the Randall garage, and Pearl Kuriz were charged with driving automobiles without 1915 license tags. Both cases were continued until Saturday. The case of Pete W. Crill on a similar charge was again continued a day.

William Huffman, a drunk, was turned loose to get out of town, and William Hanson, charged with disorderly conduct, was warned and let go. He was arrested after breaking up the furniture at his home.

SHOP AND RAIL ROAD NEWS

FORMER FORT WAYNE MAN DIES IN PANAMA

Engineer Joseph Wood Expires in Hospital After Surgical Operation.

Joseph Wood, a brother of Mrs. Frank T. Benoy and whose early life was spent in Fort Wayne, died in a hospital in Panama following a surgical operation April 5. This was the substance of a telegram received by Mrs. Joseph Gair,

ENGINEER JOSEPH WOOD.

of Chicago, and forwarded to Mrs. Benoy yesterday. It came as a surprising shock, for the sisters had no previous news of the illness of Mr. Wood, nor did the brief message go into detail and tell the nature of the disease which had such sudden and fatal results. A letter conveying more definite news is en route and will be received in about a week. Orders have been issued to have the remains brought to Fort Wayne for interment and they will arrive here in about two weeks. In addition to the two sisters, Mrs. F. T. Benoy, of this city, and Mrs. Joseph Gair, of Chicago, the deceased is survived by one brother, John Wood, of Oklahoma City, Okla., who has been notified and who will come here to attend the funeral.

Joseph Wood was 55 years old the last of last March and was unmarried. Since his childhood he was engaged in ship and railroad work. Learning the machinist's trade in the Washburn & Moen machine works, he went on that Nickel Plate and remained in that capacity until twenty-two years ago, when he resigned to go to Mexico. He was employed at the throttle on one of the most important roads in that country until the war made a residence there not only unpleasant, but dangerous, and he left Mexico and went to Panama. There he ran an engine for the United States government in the work of building the canal, until the latter was completed. From Panama he went to Uruguay and took employment on the Guayaquil and Quito railroad and was there when he wrote his last letter to his relative in Fort Wayne. In that letter he spoke of being slightly ill and subsequent events lead to the belief that he went to Panama purposely to submit to a surgical operation.

Mr. Wood was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and attended all of the biennial conventions of this international body since he went south. On those occasions he obtained a long leave of absence and spent a portion of the time with his relatives in the states. In his last letter he spoke with evident pleasure of his intention to attend the B. L. E. meeting in Cleveland in May and said he would probably remain here several weeks, and possibly for good. He was expected here the latter part of April.

Possessed of genial traits and a most pleasing personality, Joseph Wood made and retained friends wherever he went. To the hundreds of his warm friends in Fort Wayne the news of his death will be a most shocking surprise.

PASSING OF THE TICKET.

Old-Time Telegrapher "Knocks" Against the Telephone.

The woes of the telegraph operator are told in poetic form by a Pennsylvania operator who signs the letters "R. T. H." in the following humorous manner:

As a jolly Morse disciple,
For some twenty years or more;
I've worked throughout the country,
And roamed from shore to shore.

From Manhattan Isle to Frisco,
From Port Tampa to the Soo,
From Seattle to Atlanta,
From Cheyenne to Baraboo.

I've sweltered in El Paso
And shivered in Racine;
I've worked on arid plateaus,
As well as valleys green.

Then, after quite a sojourn
On a standard eastern line,
Got a trial at dispatching,
Which I thought was pretty fine;

Till the sixteen-hour law got me
Into holes and scrapes galore,
And the crews tied up on sidings
Yearned to wail in my gore!

So I threw in my towel,
And I'm now a telegrapher,
Which I thought was pretty fine;

But to my intense amazement,
Since connecting with the road,
I seldom hear the tickers
As spitting out the code.

For the telephone's displaced 'em,
Like an ever-creeeping vine,
As the means of getting orders
To the trains along the line.

When the present-day dispatcher
Wants to place a "31"
Or inform the switching locomotive,
How the varnished cars will run,

He adjusts his phoner harness,
With the fog horn on his breast,
Then he rings up all the stations,
And proceeds to do the rest.

With his little black selector
He is quite a man of class;
He's a bell manipulator—
Not a pounder of the brass.

And the boys out in the towers,
Who sometimes hit the hay,
Say the phone's the greatest rouser
That has ever come their way.

While the "ham" whose ivory noodle
Couldn't grasp the code of old,
Seems to think the phoning outfit,
Is worth its weight in gold.

On a number of divisions
Of this good old Pennsy route,
We have special message circuits
Where the phone is winning out.

Though it is exasperating,
And no doubt you will admit,
That it don't improve the temper
Just a tiny little bit.

When I say, "Please hold a lower
On tomorrow's Seminole,"
And my fair co-worker queries,
"Did you say a ton of coal?"

Or if part of some rush message,
Reading, "Mister Jacob Rice,"
Is received at destination
Rendered, "Fifty cakes of ice."

Yes, they have put me into harness,
They've perched me on a chair,
And if they'll furnish powder,
Perhaps I'll curl my hair!

Don a hobble-skirt and shirt waist
That'll match my girlish height;
Get a ten-cent end of apron,
And be a Dixie right!

Perhaps this may seem funny
To those who like the phone;
But the army of old-timers
Will say I'm not alone—

Is cherishing the memory
Of the craft in other years,
When the clicking of the sounders
Was music to our ears.

ENGINE DERAILED.

Blocks Eastbound Pennsylvania Tracks Several Hours.

The Pennsylvania wreck crew was called to Middlepoint at 9:30 o'clock last night to pick up an engine, its tender and a car which were derailed in a manner to block the tracks several hours. The Pennsylvania limited, No. 2; passenger trains Nos. 8, 48 and 24—all eastbound—were delayed by the accident. Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Assistant E. M. Reese, Division Operator H. B. Reynolds and Road Foreman of Engines C. R. Colney went to the scene of the wreck and remained there nearly the entire night. Nobody was hurt.

WOOD PRESERVATION.

Pennsylvania Officials Look Into Method of Treating Lumber.

F. I. Brown, lumber agent, and A. Roth, tie inspector for the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, have returned from Reed City, Mich., where they inspected the plant of the Michigan Wood Preserving company, as well as the material assembled in the yards there for treatment for the Pennsylvania and the Grand Rapids and Indiana companies. The plant is modern and complete and Mr. Brown and Mr. Roth report favorably as to the grades and quantity of the material ready for the preservation treatment.

DAVID MACKAY DEAD.

Evansville, Ind., April 9.—David J. Mackay, eighty-one years old, at one time recognized as the greatest railroad builder in the middle west, died here this morning at 3 o'clock. Mr. Mackay's death followed the amputation of his right leg, which had been infected with gangrene. During the civil war and for several years after Mr. Mackay was one of the richest men in the state. He was formerly president of the Evansville and Terre Haute railroad.

FIGURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Machinist John Christen and Assistant Card Clerk H. T. Telle, of the Pennsylvania, failed to show up for work this morning and inquiry revealed the fact that they and their automobile are being towed by some farm horses from Huntington to Fort Wayne. The young men, accompanied by two young ladies, went to Huntington yesterday afternoon to attend the Moose Minstrels and just as they reached the city they ran the automobile against a post and knocked one of the front wheels off. The ladies came home on the interurban, but the boys remained to bring the auto back. It is of the American type and is owned by Harvey Porter.

TURNED OUT NINE ENGINES.

Grand Rapids and Indiana engine, No. 35, was included in the output of repaired locomotives from the Pennsylvania erecting shop during the week ending today. Pennsylvania engines repaired and turned out were Nos. 9409, 7097, 9047, 9248, 9981, 7511, 7417 and 9431. The shops are running on a forty-five hour weekly schedule and will not be in operations tomorrow.

WILL BUY A FARM.

H. E. Jackson, a Pennsylvania switchman, is out in the country, near the city, negotiating for a small tract of land today. While he has no intention of quitting railway work, for a few years at least, he has a desire to live in the country and to have opportunity to spend his leisure hours in cultivating the soil.

TO SPEND WEEK IN FLORIDA.

H. E. Hart, chief train dispatcher of the Pennsylvania, left last night for Jacksonville, Fla., where he will spend a week with his father. A letter from Mr. Hart, sr., to his son, stated that Jacksonville was at the hour the letter was written, experiencing the coldest weather in its history.

REPAIRING ON FULL TIME.

As a result of the many orders that are coming into the Bower works, referred to a few days ago, every department of the big plant has been placed on a ten hour per day working schedule, with fair prospects of that plant being maintained in better condition than ever.

CARRIES AWAY WRONG GIRL.

Ohio Farmer Didn't Know His Own Daughter.

Columbus, O., April 7.—Ernest McCloud, father of Helen McCloud, attending Milo school, came very near being guilty of kidnapping, because his daughter and Hazel Lunsford, another girl in the school, look so much alike that they could hardly be told apart.

McCloud, who is divorced from his wife, has been trying to get custody of his daughter and went to the principal of the school, saying he had a court order for the child. Not knowing him, the principal declined to let him have her. McCloud then waited until after school, and when the children came out he grabbed up the Lunsford girl, supposing he had his daughter.

He refused to listen to the girl's explanations and was carrying her off in his wagon when they passed the girl's father in another wagon. Both stopped and finally McCloud was convinced he had made a mistake and turned his captive over to her father.

The series of pictures used to illustrate how the wonders of nature and those produced by man are accomplished tell their story in as interesting and instructive a way as the moving pictures tell their story.

Can You Answer These Questions?

- How man discovered fire?
- How man learned to write?
- How man learned to shoot?
- How man learned to fly?
- How man sees things?
- How man hears things?

These are only a few of the thousands of questions that are answered in this remarkable book.

The Book of Wonders is the most valuable single book of knowledge ever published.

To possess it is to have the wisdom of Solomon at your finger tips.

This is one of the 16 pictures used to illustrate the fascinating story of the ocean cable. This full-of-interest and easy-to-understand description of the building and workings of the ocean cable tells what the cable is made of, how a cable long enough to reach across the ocean was carried on board a ship, how the cable is laid in the bottom of the ocean, how cables are repaired, about the machinery on a cable ship, how a message is sent and received, and about the men who made the cable possible.

GIRL WHO WORKS IS KIND OF GIRL TO WED

Doesn't Believe God Made Adam to Pay Eve's Bills, She Says.

(By Nikola Greeley-Smith.)
New York, April 8.—Twelve years ago brown-haired, brown-eyed Mary Weldon, aged fifteen, went to work in the felt room of the Draper woolen mills at Canton, Mass.

As she grew older she became the mainstay and support of a widowed mother, and because of her zeal and efficiency in handling every task that was given her to do she was promoted to forewoman, and finally at the age of twenty-seven she became one of the mill superintendents, with an office desk near that of her multi-millionaire employer, Robert Lincoln Draper, of a celebrated New England family which has numbered governors and ambassadors among its scions.

Right there the story of Mary Weldon, successful business woman, ends. And the story of Mary Weldon Draper, successful wife, begins. For, as it happens every day in fiction and once in a hundred years in real life, the mill girl has just been married to her employer.

The wedding took place in New York city and was very quiet. Not one of Mrs. Draper's former associates in the mill knew it was going to be a wedding.

Mrs. Robert Lincoln Draper, who was Mary Weldon.

body should be astonished when a business man chooses a business woman for his wife.

Every year more and more men are doing it. Every year the society debutante with her little bunch of parlor tricks, her rag-time dancing and her ragbag brain finds it harder and harder to get a husband. And the girl whom a business man sees eight or ten hours a day, the girl he knows gets up early, always dresses neatly, talks sensibly, reads the papers, lives on a fixed income and manages to get along on it, is the one who is getting the husbands.

Look at Mary Weldon Draper's picture with its chiseled, intelligent features, the smooth, sensible arrangement of the hair. There you have the attractive business woman, the girl who does not try to appeal to men by getting herself up to look as much like a pet poodle as possible, but whose attire and demeanor proclaim her to be self-respecting and ready and anxious to respect anyone whose qualities enlist her interest and command her esteem.

The man she married is in the late forties, an age when far too many men fall in love with girls in their teens.

For the woman who makes the unborn lamb into a fur coat has her counterpart in the man who makes the unborn lamb—the girl of seventeen or eighteen—into a wife.

The middle aged woman sports her $2,000 broadtail fur garment in an endeavor to appear youthful and attractive. The elderly man who invests his faded affections in domesticating a debutante has about the same motive. He dips his withered spirit in the fountain of another's youth. And is astonished that he doesn't feel young himself.

Practically all the society debutante has to offer is youth. She has no vital contact with the world. She sees everything through the eyes of others and the only thing that interests her very much is the reflection of her own fugged and powdered face in the looking-glass.

But the girl who works has another first hand. She has learned to see the world as it is. She has learned the tricks of the business life. She has learned to make a man out of a woman and a woman out of a man.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 9.—Showers in dry districts east of the Mississippi had a bear-the market steadied at a little below last night's level.

The close was firm, ½¢ to 2c net higher.
Corn eased off with wheat but a better domestic cash inquiry soon brought about break, however, had led to a substantial from a shade to ¼¢ lower, was followed by gains all around.

The close was firm at a gain of ½¢ to visions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 9.—Interest in today's

The opening transactions consisted of 2,000 shares at 110 to 107 compared with yesterday's close of 105. The stock then declined to 105, 104 and 103. It soon recovered, however, selling at 115. Nearly all the dealings were for small amounts, many odd lots of less than 100 shares changing hands.
Transactions in the morning approached half a million shares, U. S. Steel contributing a very large part at a maximum gain of three points. Other leaders advanced one to two and one-half and specialties, particularly Motor shares, continued their progress to record breaking prices. Bethlehem Steel was temporarily reluctant to the backward but toward midday became active on a rising scale. Bonds were firm.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 9.—Stubborn and unruly mules were responsible for a strike of 1,300 employees of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company yesterday which completely tied up the operations.

The company issued an order directing the men to enter and leave by one of the veins through the main gateway instead of by outlets and crosscuts. The miners objected to the order, declaring they were compelled to carry dynamite into the chamber and that because of the presence of "stubborn and unruly mules in the gangways our lives are endangered." Officials of the company declined to rescind the order and the men went on strike.

Suit to Oust Advisory Member.
Prosecutor Harry H. Hilgeman, has begun action in the circuit court in ouster proceedings against William E. Miner to remove him from membership on the advisory board of Washington township, to which he was elected last November, alleging that the defendant is not a freeholder and thereby disqualified from holding office. The complaint sets out that Miner as a member of the board is about to make disposition of $25,000 that is to be spent on a new school building and is not entitled by law to participate in such a distribution of public funds.

Women Preside as Well as Men, She Says

San Diego, Cal., April 6.—It's just as easy to preside over a jury trial in the justice court as it is to do up the supper dishes or sweep the house.

This is the opinion today of Mrs. Miriam Rains, of El Cajon, San Diego county's first woman justice of the peace.

Mrs. Rains, in addition to being justice, is city recorder of El Cajon and a capable and competent official, too.

"I do not see why a woman cannot preside in justice court just as well as a man," declares Justice Rains, and men prosecutors and attorneys for the defense who have tried cases in her court agree with her.

The first jury trial in her court came off recently when a mere man was acquitted on the second ballot of disturbing the peace at a ball game. There were seven women on the jury, too.

CARRANZA TROOPS BEATING RETREAT

Washington, April 9.—State department advices from Irapuato, near where Carranza forces claim to have decisively defeated Villa forces, say there was a short skirmish April 7 and that the Carranza forces retreated toward Queretaro. The message added that Carranza forces also had been withdrawn from the vicinity of Guadalajara.

Dispatches from Eagle Pass, Tex., indicated that an attack on Nuevo Laredo, across the border, was imminent. Instructions have been sent to American officers to warn the Mexican commander that there must be no firing into American territory. Angel del Caso, for the alleged protection of whom the Spanish minister to Mexico recently was expelled by Gen. Carranza, has arrived safely at Gen. Villa's headquarters at Irapuato, according to a message to the state department.

FRIGHTFUL LOSSES MARK THE COMBATS

Increasing Fierceness Characterizes Clash of Allies and Germans in French Territory.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

A further advance in the region between the Meuse and Moselle rivers, where a concentrated attack was begun by the allies several days ago, is announced today by the French military authorities. It is said that trenches were captured at several places and in some instances they were choked with the dead.

The German war office says the battle is proceeding with increasing fierceness and heavy loss of life, but that the efforts of the allies were unavailing. On the contrary, it is said, the Germans succeeded in capturing trenches from the French.

The village of Drei Grachten, which the Germans captured only to lose on the following day, has been again taken from the Belgians, the Berlin statement announces.

In the German campaign against Russia has developed north of Suwalki, the result of which is not announced. Otherwise there is no change along this front.

Russian staff officers regard the Austrian operations in the Carpathians as having collapsed and are considering the best route for an invasion of Hungary. It is said in Petrograd that all the main summits and slopes of the Beskid mountains are now in the hands of the Russians.

PRINZ EITEL STEAMS OFF TO INTERNMENT

Whiles Blow Blast of Fare- well to Noted Sea Raider.

Newport News, Va., April 9.—At 1:30 p. m. today the Prinz Eitel Friedrich left her berth here and proceeded to Norfolk navy yard for internment, conveyed by the naval tug Patuxent. As the famous sea raider steamed slowly down the harbor the whistles on steamers in the harbor, as well as those on the water front, blew a blast of farewell.

Internment of the German cruiser was delayed until afternoon so that Maximilian Piel, one of her crew, who fell to his death from a ladder Wednesday night, might have a military funeral.

Thirty armed bluejackets from the United States battleship Alabama and their officers marched in the funeral procession with Commander Thierichsen and the men of the Eitel to the grave, where the German Presbyterian service was read and a squad from the cruiser fired a volley. The services were in charge of Lieut. Ingram, of the Alabama. Customs Collector Hamilton represented the American civil authorities.

SAFFORD NOW ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

New York, April 9.—Frank D. Safford, who was indicted by the federal grand jury for perjury, alleged to have been committed as a witness before United States Commissioner Clarence Houghton, in the Rae Tanzer fraud proceedings, was arraigned today in the federal court and entered a tentative plea of not guilty. Safford's bail was reduced from $12,000 to $10,000, but in default of surety he was remanded to the Tombs.

At the hearing some days ago Safford positively identified lawyer James W. Osborne as the mysterious Oliver Osborne who, on Oct. 18, last, registered at a Plainfield, N. J. hotel with Rae Tanzer as his wife.

More than three hundred members of the Red Men's lodge attended the district meeting of the order at Huntington Thursday. One of the principal features of the meeting was an address by Little Loom, grandson of Little Turtle and son of the Indian princess, Kishwaukee, of Roanoke.

Lorimer to Face New Bank-Wrecking Charge

Chicago, April 9.—William Lorimer, former United States senator, and other officials of the defunct LaSalle street Trust and Savings bank, must stand trial on state charges of conspiring to wreck the institution. This was the effect of a decision in criminal court today by which a motion to quash the indictment was overruled and twenty-four of the twenty-five counts in the indictment were sustained.

As soon as the decision was given C. B. Munday, former senior vice president of the bank, obtained leave to file an application for a change of venue from Cook county. The petition which was supported by some 1,600 affidavits,

SEEK CASSIDY AS ACCOUNTANTS WORK

Disappearance of Cleveland Man Still Remains Mystery.

Cleveland, April 9.—While accountants today worked on the books of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Coal company and other concerns for which James H. Cassidy, former congressman, was receiver, relatives and business associates sought to solve the mystery of his disappearance Monday afternoon and to learn his whereabouts. Cassidy was removed as receiver late yesterday by order of Federal Judge Clark because he failed to give the court an accounting by Monday as ordered. Attorney Carl D. Friebohn, newly appointed receiver, said today that indications are that the discrepancy in Cassidy's accounts, as concerns the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Coal company, amount to between $10,000 and $20,000. An audit of the missing man's books is expected to be completed during today.

Cassidy also was removed by Judge Clark as receiver for the Standard Contracting company, of Cleveland, mining company of Brilliant, Ohio. Indications are, it is said, that discrepancies as regards these two companies are small.

Mrs. Cassidy, wife of the missing man, said today that she is certain that her husband, whom she has not seen since last Monday, has been taken ill and that when he is located he will be able to give a satisfactory account of his business affairs and explain his absence.

J. B. Greenhut Company is Placed in Hands of Receivers.

REORGANIZATION PLANS UNDER WAY

Concern's Establishment Has Been Known as Siegel-Cooper Store.

New York, April 9.—Receivers were appointed today by Federal Judge Hand for the J. B. Greenhut company which operates a large department store in this city.

The receivership was applied for in a suit brought by the Monmouth Securities company and the defendant consented to the appointment. Walter C. Noyes and Wm. A. Marble were named as receivers by the court. The amount of their bond was fixed at $100,000.

The J. B. Greenhut company had an authorized and outstanding capital stock of $6,000,000 and a bond issue of $6,000,000 sinking fund gold six per cent bonds. Under the provisions of the bond issue, $150,000 worth of the bonds were to be retired annually. The Central Trust company, of New York, is trustee.

Two corporate changes have been made since the incorporation of the original firm, Greenhut & Co., November 16, 1910. The first occurred when Greenhut & Co., became consolidated with the Siegel Cooper company under the name of the Greenhut-Siegel-Cooper company. In May of last year the firm name was changed to the J. B. Greenhut company. J. B. Greenhut is president of the firm.

HE EXPECTED F-4 TO GO UP IN SMOKE

Letter of Dead Commander Says Submarine Was in Poor Condition.

Los Angeles, April 9.—"I expect the whole thing to go up in smoke anytime," said Lieut. Alfred Ede, of the United States submarine F-4 in a letter written to his brother here with reference to his vessel just two days before it was lost in deep water off Honolulu harbor.

The brother, Allison Ede, a city employe, today gave out a portion of the letter, which he received only a day or so ago.

The naval officer, writing two days before the F-4 went on the underwater cruise from which she never returned, declared that the vessel was leaky and otherwise in poor condition.

Mr. Ede said, however, that Lieut. Ede had written that the vessel was supplied with new motors while in dry dock. Previous reports had stated that the motors were old and worn and were therefore believed to have been responsible for the loss of the F-4.

WOMEN VISIT SHOPS FOR MORE SIGNATURES

Encouraged by their success Thursday members of the Woman's league continued their campaign Friday among the railroad shops and factories of the city for signatures to petitions asking that a woman be appointed as a member of the school board.

Eight hundred signatures were secured Thursday among the shopmen employed in the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. Members of the league have started on a systematic canvass of the city for signatures and are meeting with splendid success.

ART SMITH THRILLS EXPOSITION CROWDS

Makes Debut at San Francisco in an Illuminated Biplane.

That Art Smith, the Fort Wayne aviator, is thrilling the crowds at the Pan-American exposition at San Francisco and pulling off stunts in mid-air that are the most daring that has ever been attempted is indicated by the following from a San Francisco newspaper:

"As a climax of an evening of music, lights and sensations, to cap it all, Art Smith, daring and sensational young aviator of Fort Wayne, made his Joy Zone debut in an illuminated biplane. His spectacular stunt was something entirely new to San Franciscans—something that never was seen here before. His thrilling aerial gyrations, while they made the spectators gasp at times, brought up in everyone's mind thoughts of the late lamented and peerless Bouley. And Smith's performances truly were wonderful; and illuminated as his biplane was by thousands of shimmering lights, they were beautiful.

"Fire seemed to shoot in many colors from all points of his machine at once; then, as he sailed away he was followed by a train of fire and sparks extending back 150 or 200 feet from the tail of his machine, giving a vivid impression of a beautiful meteor."

LANE SPEAKS TO BUSINESS STUDENTS

Arrangements have been made by the International Business college for a series of talks to be given by local business and professional men to the students attending that institution. These talks will be along modern business lines and will doubtless prove both interesting and beneficial.

Charles R. Lane, of the Trade Mark Title company, spoke to the students Thursday, in which he showed how fortunate the present generation is in being privileged to live in this age, in America and as human beings.

"With the opportunities and advantages of today we should live with greater purpose than has been the aim of any generation of previous ages," he said. The speaker did not ask for greater advantages or greater possibilities, but he made a plea for better use of the opportunities and advantages that are afforded.

Two weeks ago E. W. Puckett, president of the Fort Wayne Oil and Supply company, gave an interesting address on the subject of "Salesmanship and Business Efficiency." He emphasized the characteristics that make for success in life and urged that young men and women develop them as early in life as possible.

That these addresses were appreciated was indicated by the frequent and hearty applause. Other addresses will follow in the near future.

JACK JOHNSON WILL NOT GET PASSPORTS

Washington, April 9.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, will not carry American passports if he leaves Cuba to return to Europe. Secretary Bryan said today that instructions had been sent to Minister Gonzales in Havana not to issue the credentials. The minister had reported Johnson's application for passports.

Secretary Bryan said the state department had replied without consulting the department of justice because it was familiar with the case against Johnson and knew that he had left the United States after having been convicted under the Mann white slave law and while at liberty on $45,000 bail pending a decision on his appeal.

CONSIDERABLE HAIL FALLS AT NOON-HOUR

Considerable hail is reported to have fallen southeast of Fort Wayne during the heavy downpour of rain shortly after the noon hour Friday, the first hail of the season.

April shower that bring May flowers have prevailed throughout the entire day and more rain is predicted for Saturday, according to Forecaster W. S. Palmer. The present rain was badly needed, and the farmers of the county are particularly rejoicing.

Mrs. Eli Demitroff's Effort to Commit Suicide Fails.

Mrs. Eli Demitroff, known to the police as Mrs. Henrietta Anderson, who attempted suicide Thursday afternoon by swallowing nearly two ounces of lye, was very much improved Friday and will recover. It was stated at the St. Joseph hospital Friday that the woman would suffer no permanent effects from taking the drug.

Plight of Refugees at American Haven in Urmiah Most Pitiful.

ESCAPE FIENDISH KURDS BUT PERISH Stories of Atrocities and Tortures Almost Sur- pass Belief.

New York, April 9.—"A fearful rate of mortality" among the 12,000 refugees, crowded into the yards of the American mission at Urmiah, where it is said 5,000 persons could scarcely find accommodation is reported in a communication received here today through the state department at Washington by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions.

So great was the menace, it is said in the communication that for a while it was unsafe for any one to leave the premises and consequently the bodies of the dead could not be buried. Later when the way was opened, the communication declares, one missionary was kept busy attending to the burial of the dead. At times on an average of forty refugees died every day.

The communication, which is a copy of one sent to F. W. Smith, American consul at Tiflis, Persia, by Rev. Robert M. Labaree, of Urmiah, described in detail the flight of Christians not only from Urmiah but from Azerbaijan province after the withdrawal of the Russian troops, then continued in part as follows:

Of the thousands who were forced to remain behind, their villages being so situated that flight was impossible, only the future can give us a correct roll of those murdered in cold blood and cruel tortures by the Kurds; of the women and girls carried off and of the children lost and the families separated in the time of this terrible catastrophe. All who could fled to the city and found the one shelter that gave them the best hope of safety. That was our American mission property guarded by the American flag and, what was even more potent than the flag, was the position of influence and confidence earned by long years of service by our missionaries.

The communication then described how Dr. Packard, missionary physician, at the risk of his life, conferred with the Kurdish chiefs and begged that the lives of the persons in a nearby village, which was being besieged, might be given to him. He agreed that all property in the village should be turned over to the Kurds.

"He prevailed," the communication says, "and in the middle of the night brought into the city with him more than 1,000 men, women and children who had, by his intervention, been saved from massacre in its most horrible forms."

AMBULANCE CORPS ROMANCE.

Americans Meet and Wed in War-Torn European Land.

Paris, April 9.—The fact that the labor of caring for French wounded had not prevented the development of a romance in the American ambulance service became known when Carroll Greenough, of New York, attached to the ambulance at Neuilly, was married in the ambulance chapel to Miss Margaret Virginia Greble, daughter of Edwin Greble, of Pasadena, Cal., who has charge of the special diet kitchen connected with the ambulance.

WAR!

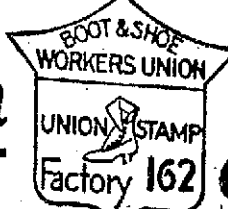

©LAWRENCE GRANT

The greatest cartoon the world war produces is a photo! The title of the remarkable photograph above is "WAR." It is a study just made by a famous photographer and travelogue lecturer, Lawrence Grant. This study was made in the war arena and typifies Mr. Grant's impressions, he says, of the great war as it affected Belgium. "To me," he says, "ALL of the horrors of war are summed up in this one woman's face. She shows all the terror that the soldiers feel in the trenches when shells burst about them, just as plainly as the terror the women feel left alone to meet the oncoming depredations of a devastating army. "If HER face does not stop war, not all the sights of Belgium would stop war, for she IS Belgium—SHE IS WAR!"

FIGHTING IN WEST GROWS MORE FIERCE

London, April 9.—The French movement between the Meuse and the Lorraine frontier is developing a distinct offensive, with Gen. Joffre pushing his advance, while the Germans are making fierce counter attacks. This is the substance of the latest dispatches reaching London from the continent.

According to an analysis of the situation the French offensive movement of the last few days has been on three sections. The first is on a front of four to five miles to the east of Verdun, the actual line running southeast from a point near Etain; the second on a front between St. Mihiel and Pont-a-Mousson, where the French are attacking; and the third is in the north in the vicinity of Gussainville, where the French now dominate the valley of the Orne and threatening the railroad beyond the river Orne with attack.

The French advance is thus being pressed from three bases in three different directions. According to Paris official reports French forces on fronts many miles long have occupied new ground, measuring from several hundred yards to two miles deep. That the German resistance to these advances has been stubborn is strikingly indicated by the French report that the Germans, on one point of the attack, left 1,000 dead on the field.

From the diplomatic standpoint interest is again centering in Greece, where former Premier Venizelos, apparently despairing of obtaining the support of King Constantine in his efforts to secure a retraction of the repudiation of his policy by the present cabinet, has decided to retire from politics and may leave the country.

Special dispatches from Hungary express the belief that the Russians are fighting their battles in the Carpathians for deliberate political ends, the chief of which is to sever Hungary from the dual monarchy. Some confirmation is given this theory by the reported alarm in Italy over the possibility of Austria-Hungary concluding a separate peace with Russia.

Dispatches received here by way of Athens set forth that the allied fleet facing the Dardanelles is not far from Bolair, on the Gallipoli peninsula, but this news is without official confirmation.

Nothing has come to hand to confirm the rumor circulated yesterday that Germany had declared war upon Holland. Military movements are reported along the Dutch border, but such activity continually has marked Holland's uneasy neutrality in the past, and consequently the present developments are not invested with marked significance.

CONVICTED MAN NOW FACES NEW CHARGE

Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.—The local police received word this morning from the police authorities at Robinson, Ill., that Luskoe Baker, one of the eighty-nine Terre Haute men who pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the federal court recently, was under arrest there on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill on George Walters, of that place. The men are said to have quarreled and according to reports reaching here, Baker attacked Walters with a hatchet, striking him across the face and inflicting a severe wound.

The Robinson police were informed of Baker's status in federal court and advised to consult with District Attorney Frank A. Bailey as to the course to pursue. Attempts were to be made during the day, the Robinson police said, to get in touch with Dagley. In the meantime Baker is held in jail in Robinson.

Baker was one of the government's so-called "star" witnesses, to whom reference was frequently made throughout the trial. He was one of the seven men who appeared in court on Tuesday, March 23, on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Anderson, to secure their release from the Vigo county jail. Baker's testimony furnished the climax to the day's proceedings and caused Judge Anderson to order Sheriff Shea and Judge Smith to jail under $5,000 bond for what he termed intimidation of the government's witnesses.

HEARS NOTHING AS YET.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey, when told of the Terre Haute dispatch regarding the arrest at Robinson, Ill., of Luskoe Baker, who pleaded guilty in the Terre Haute election case, said he had not heard anything from the Robinson police department. "The man certainly should be here Monday," Mr. Dailey said when asked if he would inform the Robinson police to turn their prisoner over to the federal government.

Practically all of the 50 men who pleaded guilty have been informed to be here on Monday to receive sentence, along with the 27 who were found guilty at the hands of Judge Anderson.

AIRMEN ENGAGE IN A DRAMATIC DUEL

German and French Aviators Stage a Spectacular Battle in Air.

Furnes, Belgium, April 9.—A dramatic duel in the air in which a German aircraft was brought down by Roland G. Garros, a famous French aviator, inside the allied lines, was described last night by Major Raoul Pontyus, son of the former Belgian minister of war, who witnessed the combat. The Germans at first succeeded in rising above Garros' machine, but the latter, by a clever twist, escaped, and then flew atop the German.

"From this moment the German's position became critical," said Major Pontyus, "for Garros overtook him rapidly. Presently the crackling of a quick rifle showed the Frenchman judged himself sufficiently near to take the offensive. Could the German escape? It seemed doubtful, for Garros shot forward in great bounds, getting nearer and nearer, but the German observer used his carbine freely and it seemed that a bullet might strike the Frenchman."

Suddenly a long jet of white smoke gushed from the German machine and then a little flame which in an instant enveloped the whole aeroplane. Notwithstanding the extreme peril the pilot took to flight, but his effort to escape soon was converted into a headlong downward plunge. The aeroplane, a mass of flames, struck the ground with a sickening thud, a score of yards from me and a column of black smoke mingled with sheets of fire poured from the fallen machine. I ran to the aeroplane, which had fallen close to a ditch, and soon put out the fire. The aviator, horribly burned, was dead when I reached him. The gasoline bottle, its six-cylinder engine was very heavy and this explained its rapid fall. The fire had spared instruments and military documents in thick leather cases. This interesting booty was taken to general headquarters."

OLD WHISKY GOES INTO SEWER.

Administrators Destroy $2,000 Worth in "Dry" County.

Washington, Pa., April 9.—Executors of the estate of the late Joseph Kammerer, yesterday emptied 245 gallons of whisky, from 20 to 45 years old, into a sewer. The liquor had belonged to Kammerer, who was a former distiller, but because this county is dry, the executors were not permitted either to sell or give it away. The whisky was valued at $2,000.

FALLS VICTIM OF TYPHUS.

Physician at American Red Cross Unit in Serbia is Dead.

Washington, April 9.—Dr. Ernest P. Magruder, of this city, one of the physicians at the head of the American Red Cross unit in Serbia has fallen a victim to typhus fever. His death was reported today from Belgrade to Red Cross headquarters here.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT ON LINCOLN HIGHWAY

Automobile of Winifred J. Rolape Goes Over an Embankment.

In attempting to go around a party of roller skaters on the Lincoln highway, Thursday evening about 8 o'clock, Winifred J. Rolape, 418 East Jefferson street, a trimmer at the City Carriage works, ran his Saxon car too close to the edge, going over a fifteen-foot embankment near the McIntosh school house, three and a half miles east of the city. The car went through a wire fence, but was not seriously damaged. Rolape escaped injury, which he regards as miraculous. One of the skaters was struck by the car, but was not hurt.

Carl Norton, 12 years old, was slightly injured by broken glass Thursday evening when an automobile owned and driven by W. E. Campbell, 723 Sherman street, was struck by the swinging end of an interurban car of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, which was rounding the curve at Pearl and Harrison streets. The occupants of the automobile included Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, the latter's mother, Mrs. W. A. Moddus; Mrs. G. E. Thieme, 215 Fifth street, and Carl Norton, 1723 Sherman street. The Norton boy was cut in the left cheek and above the left eye. The others escaped without a scratch. The machine was badly damaged.

In attempting to make the turn at the intersection of Cass and Third streets, Thursday afternoon, J. O. Good, of Avilla, ran his automobile upon the curb, striking the guy wire to the city street light pole. The front wheels of Good's machine were torn off, and the car light was put out of commission.

RUSH MAKING OF AMERICAN DYES

Washington, April 9.—American chemical companies are bending every effort toward supplying textile mills and other industries using artificial dyes with home products to replace German dyes, shut off by the European war.

Reports to the department of commerce made public today show that at least six plants are in course of construction for the manufacture of the coal tar derivatives upon which the colors used in cloth manufacture, varnishes and other products are based. Approximately $5,000,000 is to be expended and within a few months it is estimated that much of the material for the simpler dyes which heretofore was purchased in Germany at a cost of $12,000,000 annually, will be turned out in the United States. The more complicated chemicals, however, will require a greater length of time to develop. It is estimated that American coke ovens are wasting annually $100,000,000 in by-products. The American coke industry, it is stated, could produce twenty times as much coal tar as the world needs for dyes.

ISSUES AN APPEAL TO WOMAN VOTERS

New York, April 9.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, chairman of the committee on woman voters' convention of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, today issued an appeal intended to reach the 4,000,000 woman voters of the suffrage states and rally them to the support of the congressional union's campaign for a federal suffrage amendment. She urged the women to attend the convention to be held in San Francisco September 14 to 16 to discuss plans for this campaign. In her appeal Mrs. Belmont declared: "There are now approximately 4,000,000 voters. One-fourth of the national senate, one-sixth of the house of representatives and one-fifth of the electoral vote comes from suffrage states. With this average, the national suffrage amendment could speedily pass if the women voters would unite in its support."

SERVICES AT THE SYNAGOGUE.

Services will be held Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the synagogue, corner Wayne and Harrison streets. The subject of the sermon will be "Jewish Ethics."

FAVORABLE REPORT ON CANAL ASSURED

Colonel Judson Gives Much Encouragement to the Local Boosters.

That the army board will report favorably on the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal was the opinion expressed by Col. W. V. Judson, a member of the board, who was here Thursday evening in consultation with Capt. Lewis H. Watkins. He also conferred with Perry A. Randall, president of the Erie and Michigan Deep Waterways association, who is the pioneer booster for the waterway in this section.

Colonel Judson was heartily in favor of Mr. Randall's proposition to have the counties furnish the right-of-way, donate the terminals and build the high-way bridges and it is very probable that this will be done.

Colonel Judson came to Fort Wayne very unexpectedly from his home in Chicago. He announced that the entire board, composed of Maj. P. S. Bond, Colonel Mills and himself, would meet here on April 10. Captain Watkins' report on April 10, the government would have to pay for all the right-of-way for the canal, for the construction of the bridges, of which there are 105 on the northern route, and also purchase harbor sites, the project would cost between $75,000,000 and $80,000,000. If the various counties build their own bridges, as Mr. Randall has suggested, and donate the terminals, the proposed waterway can be built for between $55,000,000 and $60,000,000, including everything between Toledo and Chicago.

Mr. Randall has no doubt but that the money will be forthcoming from congress if the army board makes a favorable report. It is very essential, however, that the people show the proper amount of enthusiasm and lend every possible assistance to the project.

WHY DID MORE MEN BUY THEIR EASTER CLOTHES AT THEODORE J. ISRAEL'S?

Last Saturday marked the high-water record of Easter business since I have been in Fort Wayne. There must be a reason. It's not hard to seek—I have been giving consistently season in and season out More Clothes-Style. More Clothes-Quality for men at $10, $15 and $20 than any store in this city.

When you depend upon your values and Pleased Customers rather than sensational advertising, it takes longer to build up your business, but once it becomes generally known that Israel gives the best values in Fort Wayne, then the crowds began to come because every man wants the best for his money.

That's why we broke all business records thus far this Spring and I intend to keep increasing every day. Never have I been in a position to offer such wonderful clothes at $10, $15 and $20 as you will find in my store.

Always new goods (for I believe in keeping the assortment new and up-to-date) fresh from the makers, styles always a few weeks ahead of the "other fellow."

Before you spend any money for your Suit or Top Coat come around and see me. I promise to save you $5 and $10.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

BELLIGERENTS TURN ON LAD.

Boy Who Starts Dog and Cat Fight Attacked by Both.

Huntington, Ind., April 9.—Wilbur Huster, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Huster, of Lancaster township, experienced all the thrills of modern warfare when he "sicked" his dog onto his pet cat. The dog leaped into the battle with a lot less urging and with a great deal more energy than small Wilbur anticipated. Horrified at the fight which he had started and fearing that the feline pet would furnish all the blood for the tragedy which he saw being enacted before his eyes, the youthful light promoter attempted to call a halt by seizing the dog by the rear and pulling him from the fray. Seemingly both belligerents objected to the interruption for they both turned on the intruder. The dog crushed the right hand of the boy in his mouth and the cat ran up the boy's arm to his shoulder, where she proceeded to leave her marks on his face. The boy was rescued from the fight and brought to Huntington, where a surgeon dressed the hand which was badly lacerated by the dog's teeth.

NAMES WOLF LAKE WOMAN.

Van Wert Woman, Suing for Divorce, Says Spouse Was a Bigamist.

Van Wert, O., April 9.—Janice Snavly, suing for a divorce in the common pleas court here, charges that Fred H. Snavly, her husband, was married in September, 1914, to a Mrs. Hoxworth, of Wolf Lake, a small town in southern Noble county, Indiana, without ever having been divorced from the plaintiff and she therefore alleges that he lived adulterously with her. In her complaint Mrs. Snavly says she and Snavly were married in 1905 and have no children. Her husband, she says, at various times obtained money under false pretenses, issued fraudulent checks, committed forgery and mortgaged property not his own, all of which caused her great pain and mortification. Gross neglect of duty and failure to provide for other grounds set up for divorce.

WILL QUIT MARKLE HOTEL.

Markle, Ind., April 9.—Mr. and Mrs. John Selby, proprietors of the Markle house, announce that they will retire from the hotel business about the first of May. This announcement comes as a great and complete surprise to their friends. The reason assigned for their quitting the business is that they are both unable to give the business their personal attention longer, both in poor health. Mr. Selby is just recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia. The Selbys have owned and operated the hotel for thirty-one years, moving here at that time from Ossian to take over the business from a Mr. Hontz. During this time they have built several additions to the building and kept improving until they have made the Markle house one of the best small town hotels in this part of the state.

HAS RELIGIOUS DELUSIONS.

Decatur, Ind., April 9.—James Kizer, aged 37, of Lima Grove, has been declared insane and is in jail here. The first sign of insanity was noticed in February of this year. His mind runs in a religious channel and he has the delusion that he is called to preach; that he does not have to work any more, that "the Lord will provide." He says he has given away his personal property, and that he does not own anything, that he does not have to work any more, because he is working for the Lord and does not have to do anything else. He says that if the Lord would tell him to kill his baby, he could do so. He throws his money away and becomes angry when told that he should support his wife.

GOSHEN PIONEER DIES.

Goshen, Ind., April 9.—Jacob Hattle, one of Goshen's oldest and most respected citizens, died at his home here following an illness of three weeks, which developed into uraemic poisoning. Mr. Hattle was born in Pennsylvania in 1842 and came to this county with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hattle, in 1848. The family resided at New Paris where, May 1, 1864, he was united in marriage with Elizabeth Whitehead, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitehead, who were prominent residents of Jackson township. On May 1, last year, Mr. and Mrs. Hattle celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They came to Goshen in 1872, and for more than forty years had resided in the home in which he died.

HUSBAND LOCKED HER UP.

Huntington, Ind., April 9.—Among the charges named in a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Fannie Falk against Lloyd Falk, through her attorneys, is the declaration that he frequently locked her in a room and kept her a prisoner there for hours at a time. Besides locking her in a room she declares that he bore up her clothes, at times throwing them from the upstairs window, or throwing them downstairs. Sometimes, she said, he would fly into a rage and break up the furniture and the dishes. He falsely accused her, she says, and when in a rage would strike her and choke her.

LIVED LONG IN AVILLA.

Kendallville, Ind., April 9.—Adam Hess, aged 61, a lifelong resident of Noble county and for twenty years a citizen of Kendallville, died at his home here Thursday after an illness of over five years. Mr. Hess was born south-west of Avilla in a log cabin. He resided near Avilla forty years, then coming to Kendallville. He was employed at the McCray factory and was a hard-working, honest and upright man. Fraternally he was a member of the local tent of Maccabees. Surviving besides the widow are six children, Charles Hess, of Fort Wayne, is a brother.

HELD ON SUSPICION.

Decatur, Ind., April 9.—City Marshal Melchi yesterday arrested two young men who gave their names as Walter Warren and George Moore and who were selling knives and razors in the city. The men were in the vicinity of the Grand Rapids & Indiana depot, and one of the telegraphers, suspecting that there was something wrong, called up the marshal and notified him of what was going on. Mr. Melchi went to the depot and found the peddlers, who were unable to give a satisfactory account of their conduct, and he took them into custody.

LEESBURG COUPLES WED.

Warsaw, Ind., April 9.—Leesburg friends were very pleasantly surprised to hear of the double wedding of Marshall Wallace and Miss Mabel Ruple and Herbert Gawthrop and Miss Jessie Erwin which took place at Goshen. The four young people are very popular in Leesburg and are well known in this city. Mr. Gawthrop is a graduate of Warsaw high school and Mr. Wallace a graduate of Winona. Immediately after the marriage ceremony the newlyweds departed for Chicago, where they will spend a short honeymoon before returning to Leesburg.

OPEN WEDNESDAY NIGHTS.

Montpelier, Ind., April 9.—The stores of the city will keep open every Wednesday evening until 9 o'clock, according to the contract with the clerks' union. The contract provides that the stores will remain open until 9 o'clock on Wednesday evenings, beginning with April and continuing until October 1. This is done so that farmers and others who have to work late can get in and do their trading without having to rush things. The closing time on Saturday nights will remain the same as has been, until 10 o'clock.

BORN IN INDIANA; DIES AT 79.

Huntington, Ind., April 9.—Mrs. Mary Jane Little died Thursday at the home of Frank Morrow, three and one-half miles north of Huntington. Mrs. Little was born July 18, 1838, in Grant county. She was the daughter of Joseph and Sarah Cleviston. She was married September 1, 1854, to James Little. Six children were born. Two children and the husband have deceased. There are twenty grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren.

MURDER SUSPECT RELEASED.

Hartford City, Ind., April 9.—Arthur Williams was restored to freedom again Thursday, after spending eleven days in the county jail under suspicion of being a murderer wanted in Elmhurst, N. Y. The officers here could have held Williams longer on the charge of being a fugitive from justice, but it was not deemed called for, in view of the fact that no word had been received from Elmhurst concerning the murderer wanted there.

Auburn, Ind., April 9.—Mrs. J. J. Thomas, aged 59 years, for several years proprietor of the Thomas hotel and restaurant at Corunna, which she sold two years ago last September, is dead here at the home of a niece, Mrs. George Rohm, in the flat over the Zollman plumbing establishment. Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from Mercer Bros. Co. or drugist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the drugist for the double strength ointment as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

Psalm 20:1-9.

- 1 The Lord bear thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob defend thee;
- 2 Send thee help from the sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion;
- 3 Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt sacrifice; Selah.

Now the Bankers Speak.

The past few weeks have brought forward from many sources reports, statistics, estimates, opinions and forecasts on general business conditions throughout the country that have been optimistic in tone. They have insisted that depression has been stemmed, that general business and industrial conditions are on the upgrade and declared that the outlook is steadily becoming more roscate. None of them, however, have been more pronounced than are the reports of national bank examiners which have just been made public at Washington. Eighty of the ninety experts employed in this work by the federal government have reported a permanent improvement in business over the country, and it is declared that Maine is the single state in which real depression exists.

It is interesting to note the basis for the optimism of the bank examiners. They point out that agricultural conditions are generally excellent, that commercial lines are enlarging their activities and that manufacturing is on the increase. This is notably true in the case of those industries having orders for supplies from foreign countries. Many important orders for rails and cars have been placed by the railroads. The south is now enjoying an active cotton market at advancing prices.

"The western states and the Pacific states," the report continues, "are showing a general improvement. The lumber industry is slowly recovering in these states and the number of tourists exceed expectations. Mining is resuming on a larger scale and the crop conditions are excellent. The New England and middle Atlantic states, and portions of the central west, seem to feel the past depression to the greatest extent. Farmers, however, generally have had satisfactory results; but manufacturing is feeling the improvement to the least extent. The bond market has become active on a higher level. Generally banks have an abundance of money. The tendency has been for all to curtail needless expense.

While the average individual is cautious about accepting a good many things as true until he sees them himself, the reports of the bank examiners are unquestionably based on first-hand information that is entirely dependable.

Governor Ralston, in a proclamation, announces that the new state penal farm in Putnam county, will within a few days be ready to receive prisoners sentenced to serve more than sixty days and less than one year, who would otherwise be confined in the county jails of the state. The idea, of course, is to empty the county jails, which are regarded as breeders of idleness, and it is an excellent one. The various counties must pay the cost of transportation, but as the farm is located in the southern section of the state this feature, in the case of Allen county, will mean a considerable outlay each year. With a big new county farm of her own, it would seem like a stroke of good business sense for Allen county to go into the penal farm enterprise on her own hook.

Police Chief Roth, of Elkhart, is credited with the declaration that if the city votes "dry" at the local option election to be held there on April 26, he will see that the law is rigorously enforced and that no "blind tigers" spring into existence there. The head of the Elkhart police department evidently realizes a fact that in too many cases is lost sight of. A "dry" victory will count for little if the police authorities are later blind to violations of the liquor laws. The dry victory at an election merely makes the town theoretically "dry." Only determined and eternal vigilance on the part of the authorities will make it actually so and keep it so. The present crusade will be a waste of effort without that vigilance.

Reports from Richmond assert that Wayne county, which has been known as the "Bull Moose hotbed" of Indiana, may have no progressive ticket in the field next year and that the men who were leaders in the colonel's cause there will by that time have edged as quietly as possible back into the republican camp from whence they came. If Wayne county, which elected to the legislature about the only third party man who adorned a seat in that body is about to re-enact the drama of the Prodigal Son, it might as well be admitted that Mr. Beveridge's organization in Indiana is beginning to wobble a bit.

Street Commissioner Strodel is training the guns of his spring cleaning campaign on the alleys in the down-town district in an effort to get them in more presentable and more sanitary state, which is well. The citizen who wants to aid in the good work may well devote attention to the alleys abutting his property in the residential districts. Let's have a completely spotless town while we're at it this spring.

Next Friday, April 16, is the annual Spring Arbor day as proclaimed by Governor Ralston. The observance of the event cannot be too general or too widespread, and it is not a moment too soon to begin preparations right now for a suitable recognition of the day.

TERRE HAUTE CONVICTIONS.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

A political case of no slight importance was terminated at Indianapolis by the conviction of Mayor Roberts, of Terre Haute, and twenty-six other defendants on the charge of election frauds. There have been cases in which more prominent men were accused, but none involving so many men with a range in prominence from mayor, circuit judge, controller and sheriff down to bartenders and gamblers. Besides the twenty-seven men involved in the trial eighty-nine others have pleaded guilty, making 116 accused of participation in the election frauds.

The testimony in the case tried and the eighty-nine pleas of guilty leave little doubt that there was a persistent and systematic regime at Terre Haute engaged in falsifying election returns for the maintenance of its powers. The methods were not especially acute. In fact, they strike the average observer as rather crude. But the machine was apparently fortified in its belief that its political pull would protect it against prosecution. This belief seems to have been pretty well founded, too; since it was only when its practices involving an election that included a United States senator and congressman, brought it within the jurisdiction of the United States court and secured trial and exposure. It is to be hoped that the latter will cause the dropping of that kind of stealing in politics.

LETTERS THAT MEN WRITE.

(New York World.)

Is there ever to be a time when a man writing an affectionate letter to a woman will express himself like a reasonable being addressing another? The letters that appear from day to day in court proceedings involving the relations of the sexes, whether they emanate from college graduates or from stevedores, are all, so far as the men are concerned, pitched in the same key. If a man in love must be a fool and convict himself on paper, why is it that a woman in love usually, even though inexperienced and unlettered, never does anything of the kind? The love missives of men are enough to turn the regard of a sensible woman to hatred. Are women who accept and endure this sort of thing, therefore, as much at fault as the men? If so, why is it that their letters of affection, in most cases, are expressed in simple, dignified and self-respecting words?

A young woman who at twenty-seven claims to have made $100,000 in business, has been telling her experiences to a New York evening newspaper. She says: "Men don't like me much. I think they're afraid of me. I find most men prefer dependent women; not the ones they think will try to run things." The love letters of the day prove that her conclusion is correct.

Men who figure in the court, and their name is legion, appear to address themselves not only to dependent women but to idiotic women. The mystery of the whole affair is that in none of these cases does the dependent and idiotic woman reveal her character in her writing. It is only the man who carefully makes a fool of himself and puts it in the power of another to prove it.

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Frank Mannix, of the Pittsburg machine shop, is preparing to take a two weeks' vacation.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy and abundant.—Adv.

Jury Returns Verdict in Case Brought by Fort Wayne Mission.

A jury in the court of Justice of the Peace August C. Niernan returned a verdict Thursday afternoon for the defendant in the case brought by the Fort Wayne Rescue Home mission officials against August Penningroth, who runs a saloon in the old Arlington hotel building recently purchased by the mission. Officials of the rescue mission attempted to oust Penningroth from the building but the jury found that the suit should have been brought against Well Bros., from whom the building was purchased. Officials of the mission declare that their contract with Well Brothers call for immediate possession.

JAIL PLOT THWARTED.

Effort to Escape at Terre Haute is Frustrated.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.—What appeared to be a plot to break jail was frustrated last night when officers found steel saws concealed in the cell of Samuel Williams, colored, under sentence for burglary. The negro also had concealed in his cell a bottle of hydrochloric acid. It is believed the saws were smuggled to Williams in a plug of tobacco. A released prisoner who had occupied a cell adjoining that of Williams, gave information to Sheriff Shea, which prompted the search for the saws.

Told That There Was No Cure for Him.

"After suffering for over twenty years with indigestion and having some of the best doctors here tell me there was no cure for me, I think it only right to tell you for the sake of other sufferers as well as your own satisfaction that a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets not only relieved me, but cured me within two months, although I am a man of 65 years," writes Jul. Grobich, Houston, Texas. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

PROHIBITION AS NATIONAL ISSUE

respect Seems to Be Giving Politicians a Deal of Worry.

(By Gilson Gardner.)
Washington, April 9.—Prohibition as an issue in the national campaign is more probable by the recent position taken by Secretary Bryan as shown in his letter to L. S. Kemmerer of Iowa, in which he advises that democratic leaders of that and other states choose national committeesmen unaffiliated with the prohibition cause. The procrustean party managers have been lying around for party issues on which to make the next campaign. One which served in 1912 have been lived. The tariff is a closed book. The present and the democratic hope of revival of business will rob the republicans of their full-dinner-pail slogan. A moral issue such as prohibition, is considered by some, would help.

A physical reason for the depressing effect of cloudy weather is set forth in a health news bulletin just issued by the public health service. It is not the absence of sunshine, explains Dr. Charles E. Banks. It is the removal of several tons of air pressure upon the surface of the body that makes the sun blue and discouraged. Cloudy weather is usually accompanied by a barometer and during a low barometer the air pressure on the body is lessened. During normal weather the envelope by which all are surrounded presses upon the human body to an amount of 14.7 pounds for every square inch of the body's surface. This is up to several tons. When the barometer drops from 30 to 29, about half of the pressure is removed from the body. The effect of this is not to make a person feel lighter and more cheery, right be expected, but is to disturb inner functions which have adjusted themselves to the heavier outside pressure and which must now find new adjustment. The bulletin ends with the discouraging admission that the science affords no relief in this respect, and quotes Mark Twain to the effect that "people talk a lot about the weather, but never do anything to improve it."

Former United States Senator Nelson Aldrich, author of the Aldrich plan to consolidate credit in a central bank, recently confided to a friend in New York that he is much delighted with the working out of the federal reserve law. Mr. Aldrich admits that the of the federal reserve system is exactly what he outlined, but says results are practically those that he aimed.

As will Europe pay the $175,000,000 balance of trade in favor of the United States? Gold would be the easy way, but gold is precious to many nations, and the fact that such payments have ways to discourage exports is evident in the discount rate in London and New York. The value of the pound sterling dropped from its normal $4.87 to $4.84 and the uncertainty and danger of shipping gold keeps this exchange at almost permanent. Failing in for liquidating its indebtedness, we will incline to send American titles, bonds and stocks, which are means of ownership in American lands and other enterprises, on which Americans pay annual interest dividends. In accepting such bonds and payment of foreign debts Americans are buying back their own property and to the extent they are able to back these securities they will improve their position in the same way a man improves his position who pays rent for it.

It applies to the owners of American industry, of course, and not to the owners in American industry. To them the question of whether the stocks and bonds are the evidences of ownership of the industry are owned at home or abroad has no more significance than the question of who owns the house they rent. They pay the rent to collection agents, and the owner may change a hundred times without the knowledge of the renter. The fact of trade in favor of American banks, liquidated by American owners, means that American owners industry will be getting richer at expense of foreign owners.

Kreisler's Life

Fritz Kreisler began his musical life as an infant prodigy of wonder-talent and after many years of musical activity has now regained the international reputation of his childhood virtuoso of mature years. He was at Vienna, where his father was a known physician.

His child's talent appeared very early and his father, who was himself a musician, gave him all the musical advantages. When he was seven he played at a concert children at the Vienna conservatory, which he was the youngest child ever to do. When he was ten he won the violin prize there. He then went to Paris conservatory, where he was pupil of Massart and Delibes, and two years' study won a gold medal in a competition of forty, all competitors being a number of older than himself. In 1890 he came to America with Moritz Rosenthal, a famous pianist. Then for a time he abandoned musical pursuits, but several other branches of work, including art, medicine, athletics and war service.

For serving in the army his desire for musical career returned. He soon found his mastery of the violin and earned at Berlin in 1899, playing Gion from Paganini and Viennese, after which he came to America, appeared at London in 1901, at a concert, and in 1904 was given the medal by the Philharmonic society. His playing appeals to musician layman most strongly on account of his great beauty and purity of his and the intensely human phases of his art. His technique and style are very good and he is also a very fine pianist. No other violinist who ever lived has ever played to the vast throngs that Kreisler has during his present American tour and as a box office attraction he has never had an equal among violinists.

Barely forty, this great Austrian is the greatest of all violinists and is there any wonder when it is taken into consideration that his violin art is backed by his many achievements, i. e., excellent pianist, a knowledge of painting, a completed course in medicine, his army training and remarkable experiences in the present European war, including a hand-to-hand encounter with a Russian Cossack, his athletic development, journalistic work, ability as a linguist and his extensive travels into all civilized countries. Certainly there is plenty of reason for the great message which Kreisler brings to all people through the medium of his great Guarnerius violin, said to be the finest specimen of the masters' work in existence.

A few years ago Kreisler, with his fur coat turned up, hat rim pulled down, entered a violin dealer's shop in a small town in Italy, where he intended to purchase some strings. The old man who owned the shop failed to recognize his distinguished customer and after showing him strings, asked him to look at an old violin he had for sale. Kreisler, after examining the violin, asked the old fellow if he would like to see a really fine violin and proceeded to remove his Guarnerius, an instrument well known by dealers and collectors from its case. The old man recognized the violin at once and called his boy to do an errand for him. The boy was carrying a note to the police department to summon an officer while the dealer detained Kreisler. Presently the officer arrived, whereupon the old man demanded that he arrest "that man," as he has Fritz Kreisler's violin. Kreisler's protests availed him nothing and it was only when he agreed to play any and all Kreisler compositions that the dealer might ask for that he was given a chance to prove his identity. Among the numbers which he was forced to play under the circumstances was the famous and popular "Capriccio Viennois" (to be played on the Fort Wayne program). This did more than all else toward convincing his accuser that his customer was none other than the great Fritz Kreisler himself. At this juncture the officer left, seeing that his services were not needed and Kreisler, enjoying the affair hugely, bade the old man goodbye. He then had to hurry to catch the boat in order to fill engagements in another country.

The seat sale for Kreisler, who appears at the Palace theater Monday, April 12th, is announced in another column. For the benefit of patrons, seats

FICTION GREATLY ON THE DECLINE

In 1914 Only 8.77 Per Cent. of Books Published Were Stories.

Washington, D. C., April 9.—A chart has been compiled by Fred E. Woodward, of this city, showing the number and kind of books published in the United States during the year 1914.

The figures are taken from the Publishers' Weekly, and represent the actual number of books (by title) issued during the year. The grand total for the year 1914 was 12,010—just 220 less than the total for the year 1913. Of this number 10,175 were actually new books and 1,835 were new editions.

American authors contributed 8,603 of this total, and foreign authors, mostly English, the remainder.

The extent to which we are further indebted to Europe is shown by 2,852 importations, the largest number, 330, being in the class known as religion and theology, followed by 246 in fiction, 237 in poetry and drama, 223 in general literature and essays. The smallest number of importations were in classes known as domestic economy fifteen and law, sixteen.

Poetry's remarkable growth is shown in the class known as poetry and drama—no less than 902 titles being recorded during the year. This class, as will be seen by referring to the chart, now occupies the fourth place, a change from the ninth place in 1913, and an increase of 223 in the year (from 679 to 902).

This growth records in a very forcible manner a decided movement toward poetic and dramatic ideals, which is more than local, and may be headed by those who read the signs of the times.

screen successes in both "The American Citizen" and in "Are You a Mason," makes his third appearance at the Jefferson today, creating the screamingly funny title role in De Souchet's farce, "The Man from Mexico." Mr. Barrymore is unquestionably the most able political comedian of the American stage, and this does not mark the extent of his dramatic versatility, for he has played any number of roles demanding a display of somewhat heavier technique—witness his personal triumphs in both "The Yellow Ticket" and at the present time in "Kick In."

Da Souchet's vehicle affords unprecedented opportunities for the fun-making powers of the inimitable Mr. Barrymore, and it is quite needless to state that he has taken the fullest advantage of every one of these opportunities.

AT THE COLONIAL

ELINOR GLYN'S "THREE WEEKS."

Colonial Has Brilliant Feature in Photodrama.

In photo-dramatizing this remarkable novel of Elinor Glyn's "Three Weeks," the producers have taken the most painstaking care to retain and include all of those stirring incidents and those interesting circumstances which tended to make the original version of the book one of the most talked of, if not the most talked of novel ever penned.

The photoplay besides being staged in splendid fashion, is given a fine dramatic presentation by a group of skilled artists headed by Miss Madeline Traverso and Mr. Mahlon Hamilton.

Tomorrow Robert Edson will appear at the Colonial in a screen play of David Belasco's noted success, "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Wash silk is showing itself one of the fashions of the early spring, and as a result there are many interesting wash silk blouses for sale. AT THE MAJESTIC.

May Robson Comes in a New Play.

May Robson, the foremost character actress on our stage and one whose presence in any play is a perfect guarantee of a laughing treat, comes to the Majestic Monday evening in a new comedy, "Martha By-the-Day." Miss Robson's new vehicle is a dramatization of Julie M. Lippmann's very popular book of similar name. The story is one of the most refreshing bits of recent fiction. The central character, played by Miss Robson, is that of a kind-hearted, level-headed, but mildly conceited New York woman, who is poor and makes half the living of a well reared little family by choring. "Martha" is a decidedly unique character, brimful of original humor and one that will prove a distinct novelty. The role is eminently suited to Miss Robson's comedy gifts and it is expected that it will find as secure a place in public favor as did her delicious "Aunt Mary" in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

Stockings first came into use in the eleventh century, before which it was customary to swathe the feet in bandages.

AT THE NEW PALACE

SPIRITED MUSICIANS AT PALACE.

Dunbar's Singing Bandmen Are Making Big Hit.

Playing with the spirit and dash that Sousa injects into his great band, the Ralph Dunbar White Hussars, at the Keith New Palace this week, are contributing some enthusiastic musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, under the direction of Al Sweet. The closing number on their varied program is a drum solo played by Harold Cook. The sight of this young man in full action with both hands and both feet flying to their appointed tasks would do the heart of a Creator good. Quite the opposite sort of act is "The Virginia Judge," the comedy character role assumed by that master monologist, Walter C. Kelly, as the principal headline feature of the program. Fun, with an accent on all three letters, rules supreme while Collins and Hart are presenting their howling burlesque on the usual strong man act. Joseph Cole and Gertrude Denahy's dancing of the fox trot, hesitation and maxixe is a revelation of grace and originality. James McCormack and Eleanor Irving are presenting a novel skit, "Between Decks," Mlle. Paula is seen in a brilliant series of trapeze features, while Herron and Arnsman are presenting some merry moments in minstrelsy.

Cecil Lean Is Coming.

Cecil Lean, the musical comedy idol, with Miss Cleo Mayfield, will be the superb feature on the next week's bill at the New Palace, constituting the most famous pair of entertainers Fort Wayne ever enjoyed in vaudeville.

AT THE MINUET.

"THE PARDON" TODAY.

Big Three Part Film Story is Splendid Feature Offering.

In "The Pardon," the three part film story shown at the Minuet today, the chairman of the board of pardons has brought to the attention of the governor a case deserving of special consideration. The family of Robinson, a mechanic, has been rendered destitute by his death in an accident. The widow, sooner than accept the dishonorable attention of Trowbridge, her landlord, is dispossessed. She uses every endeavor to obtain employment in order to support herself and little girl, Esther, but in vain. The child is eventually sent to an asylum by the court, as the mother is deemed incompetent to provide for its proper welfare. After years in the asylum, without the loving care of her mother, she returns home, but she no longer is the innocent child of the past. What comes of it all is strikingly brought out in the film version.

Also starting today, the Minuet will run the Colonel Heza Liar series, starting with No. 1 and running No. 2 next Tuesday. This series is reputed to be the greatest laugh producer ever filmed. Each and every episode is 1,400 feet of hand drawn pictures by the celebrated cartoonist, J. R. Bray.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 11

DAVID ANOINTED KING.

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 16:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Man looketh on the outward appearance, but Jehovah looketh
on the heart.—1 Samuel 16:7 R. V.

After the events recorded in last Sunday's lesson, Samuel retired to Ramah never again to see Saul's face. Samuel "mourned" (15:35) i. e., bewailed and lamented the deposed king. It was noble for Samuel thus to be grieved over Saul's sin; still, God had work for him to do. There is a sorrow that "worketh repentance" which is pleasing in the sight of God, but that idle sorrow which spends itself in unprofitable mourning is detrimental to man and a hindrance to the kingdom of God (ch. 3:7; 15:1). Men may fall but the kingdom goes forward. We do not interpret verse 3 as suggesting any subterfuge on God's part but rather that God refused to pay any attention to Samuel's fear. God answers fear by giving us duties to perform and in their performance we are delivered from our fears.

I. David Chosen to Be King, vv. 4-10. Saul, the clamorous choice of the people, was not succeeded by David—"the man after God's own heart"—for several years after this lesson. God's will in this matter was shown to Samuel progressively: (a) in chapter 13:14 Samuel is informed that God hath sought "a man after his own heart;" (b) in 16:1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had provided; (c) in verse 12 Samuel is at last definitely told whom God has selected. This selection is in accordance with the prophecy made centuries before regarding the kingly scepter (Gen. 49:10). Of course it was high treason, this act Samuel was about to perform, and Saul yet had many friends and supporters (v. 2). God seems to have permitted Samuel to use one avowed purpose to conceal the real one, but "such a course is one to use but sparingly" (Maclaren). God can and does protect those whom he sends (Ps. 34:7) and "man is immortal till his work is done." Just what or how did not concern Samuel for he had God's promise (v. 3). A step at a time was sufficient and in taking each step Samuel was to tell the exact truth.

Thus God guides and tests his servants. Samuel was a judge as well as a prophet (ch. 7:16) and the people of Bethlehem were agitated at his arrival. It may be, too, that these elders were fearful of incurring the displeasure of Saul. There was no occasion for fear, as Samuel's purpose was to sacrifice and his mission one of peace even as the angelic messengers who quieted the shepherds with their message of "peace" when "great David's greater son" was ushered into the world. Jesse was a grandson of Ruth the Moabitess and also a descendant of Rahab the harlot. On his father's side he belonged to the strong tribe of Judah. He was evidently a man of some wealth, certainly in his children. After the sacrifice and before the feast Samuel is made acquainted with the sons of Jesse. The first, Eliab, was tall and good to look upon and at once Samuel fixed upon him as the certain choice for Jehovah.

II. David Anointed King, vv. 11-13. Seven sons are set aside and yet Samuel did not hear the voice of God's approval. In seeming dismay he asks, "Are here all thy children?" Jesse seems to have made a careless and reluctant reply that the youngest was away from home tending sheep. Thereupon Samuel asserts that "we will not sit down (to the sacrificial feast) till he be brought hither." It is from such lowly positions that God is constantly promoting men to positions of responsibility and prominence. Witness Carey, Livingston, Moody and a hundred others past and present. David at this time was about fifteen years old (Beecher). His name means "darling," significant of the affection of his mother, whose name is unknown, but to whom David twice makes reference (Ps. 88:16; 116:16). David was short, compared with his brothers, but had bright eyes (v. 12 marg.) and a fair face—a "comely person" (v. 18). David was agile and strong and though seemingly scoffed at by his brothers and neglected by his father it did not pervert his good nature nor turn him from the performance of his duties. Samuel did not greet David as he had greeted Saul, he may have been disappointed. This gives emphasis to the words in verse 12, "Arise anoint him: for this is he."

David is anointed, set apart, for the kingship, but is not equipped nor does he enter upon his offices till later.

In this he is a type of Jesus who shall yet reign on David's throne.

Verses 13 and 14 tell of the developing contrast in the lives of Saul and David. David the young king, potential only at this time, is a great inspiration to the young of all ages in that, (1) He did his lowly work thoroughly; (2) While doing it he sought to cultivate and improve himself (v. 18); and (3) He gave himself wholly to God; hence the record "and the Lord is with him" (v. 13).

BODY FOUND IN RAIN BARREL.

Parties Were Being Formed to Search for Brazil Child.

Brazil, Ind., April 9.—Mayor John Jones had ordered the fire bell rung for the purpose of getting hundreds of people together to assist in the search for Amos Alexander, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alexander, when the body of the child was found in a rain barrel at his home.
The boy had been missing since morning. Thinking he had gone to the home of a relative, the mother did not become worried until afternoon. The police were notified. Automobile and other searching parties were being formed to look for the boy, when O. T. Hudson, a neighbor, saw his shoes sticking out of the water in the rain barrel.

BOY SCOUTS AS STAGE SETTINGS

And Refined Society Ladies to Troop at Jess' Chariot Wheels.

New York, April 9.—A public welcome and demonstration in honor of Jess Willard has been arranged for the arrival of the world's champion heavyweight here tomorrow night. A reception committee of men prominent in the sporting world will meet him at the railway station and an escort of paraders headed by a band, including a detachment of boy scouts and members of the Kansas society will lead the champion's progress up Seventh avenue and Broadway to the St. Nicholas club. There Willard is to box four rounds with Jim Savage, his sparring partner. Next week Willard will begin a two week's engagement at a local vaudeville theater. As boxing exhibitions are permitted only in licensed athletic clubs, the champion will appear in a sketch. According to announcement today Willard will make a theatrical tour of the country which will prevent him from boxing again for nine months or a year. In the meantime it was thought the real contenders for his title would be reduced to one or two.

The United States district attorney said today that if the films of the Willard-Johnson fight are brought to New York from Havana they will be detained until a judicial ruling has been given on the question of admitting the films of the Ritchie-Welsh contest which were brought here from London recently. The collector of the port, Dudley Field Malone, said he would exclude the films from entry.

HERE'S AN UMPIRE WHO IS FAIR—HE'S A DUMMY AND PATENTED.

Los Angeles, April 9.—H. E. Westgate, of this city, has applied for a patent on an automatic umpire—he has invented that records strikes and balls, returns the ball to the pitcher, and presents a right or left hand dummy batter by a simple twist of the wrist. The device has been tested by league pitchers and they declare it is accurate to the fraction of an inch.

It consists of a backstop eight feet square provided with dummy batters, one right and one left handed, cleverly painted. Between these two batters the figure of a catcher (all figures being life size) is painted. The strike recording device is between the two batters and one or the other of the latter is automatically covered up so that the target presented is the same as a pitcher would face on the ball field.

Extending towards the pitcher for a distance of twenty feet is a strong frame, covered on the top and both sides by heavy netting. The ball as it bounds from the backstop either strikes against the netting and eventually reaches an inclined alley, or bounds straight back and goes into the alley part way between the backstop and the pitcher. The result is the same, as it is returned to the pitcher's box.

League and amateur pitchers declare the device is great for "warming up" work, as no catcher is necessary, and in practicing control of the ball or new curves. The eye of the umpire also can be tested by allowing him to call balls and strikes on any number of balls, and then compare his judgment and score with that of the automatic recording device which, in the meantime, is concealed.

COLONIAL TROOPS ON THE FIRING LINE

Playing Very Large Part in the Fighting in Europe.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—In a statement prepared today the National Geographic society tells something of the colonial troops now on the firing line in the war in Europe. The statement says:

"Asia, Africa and Australasia have furnished their quotas of men to the firing lines in Europe. Among these foreign troops that have most distinguished themselves in European warfare are the French Turcos and the English Singhaless. This is the first appearance of the Singhaless upon European battlefields, but the Turcos have been employed on the white continent several times.

"The Singhaless are natives of Ceylon. There are, strictly speaking, about 2,500,000 of them. They are settled in the central and southern divisions of the island. They are members of the Arayan family by language, but, in blood, they are a very mixed race, though basically they are of white blood. They are descendants of colonists from the valley of the Ganges, who are thought to have settled in Ceylon about 500 years before the birth of Christ.

"The Singhaless have remained a stationary folk since the opening of the Christian era. Their costumes, customs and manner of life are much the same today that they were more than 2,000 years ago. In appearance, the men of this people are peculiarly effeminate. Their bodies are slender and their features are delicate. Their dress is womanish, even to the extent of fastening their long hair back from the forehead by means of dainty combs. The men also wear earrings. Nevertheless, the Singhaless have managed to cover themselves with glory by brilliant service in the fearful battlefields of Europe.

"The Turcos are a French military organization; not a folk. 'Turcos' is the name which the French have applied to those troops that they have formed out of natives of Algeria. They are of Arabic and negro stock, and are among the best trained colonial troops in the world.

"The Turcos were organized in the first instance, as was also the case with the Foreign Legion, solely for employment in Algeria. However, France early found use for them in other fields. In 1859, the Turcos went through their first European campaign in Italy. These same troops won international renown when, in 1870-71, their desperate fighting proved one of the most serious obstacles to German success upon more than one battlefield. Again, in 1884, the Turcos saw service in the far distant French province in China. The Turcos have always distinguished themselves in hardy endurance and in reckless bravery."

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula, and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constitutional disease, and that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength), about 75 worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better—Adv.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and run-on skinners and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of active knowledge merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fat to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. Meyer Bros. Co., and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

What was grandmother's unexcelled remedy? Haven't you heard of it? Yes, you have! It was sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. The main trouble with it was it was its nauseous taste.

The modern method puts the cream of tartar and sulphur into a sugar-coated tablet and mixes them with herbs, roots, etc., making a wonderful tonic blood purifier and system cleanser.

Just try Sulphurb Tablets (not sulphur tablets), but Sulphurb—remember the name—and get the tablets in sealed tubes at 50c per tube.

Grown-up people and children who don't feel well, who are constipated or sluggish, or who have pimples, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and the like, can soon rid the system of these impurities by taking this good old-fashioned remedy in modern form. DIG FOR BIG TREASURE.

Story of Dying Squaw Starts Search for Gold on Reservation.

Pendleton, Ore., April 9.—Farmers and Indians on the Umatilla reservation are in a hunt for buried treasure, the existence of which had been asserted by Ko-ko-dye-a-lash, an old squaw, on her deathbed. Plows, scrapers, picks and shovels were used and scores of acres plowed and dug up.

Ko-ko-dye-a-lash was told several days ago that she was dying and she directed her son to a place where he found a can in which was $1,100 in gold. This she buried recently, she said, but

SAY EFFECTS MAY BE FAR-REACHING

Washington, April 9.—Close study by officials of Germany's note assuming full liability for the destruction of the American sailing ship Wm. P. Frye, reveals many points that may have a far reaching effect on other legal questions arising between the United States and Germany during the present war.

Germany's acceptance of the treaty of 1828 as still binding would make it apparently incumbent on her, officials thought, to pay for any losses sustained by American shippers of contraband articles in American vessels although the right to lawfully detain such cargoes and compensate the owners at a later date was reserved.

There is a question also in the minds of officials here whether the treaty would not give American owners the right to recover damages for the loss of their goods aboard the vessels of Germany's enemies.

One of the interesting phases of the Frye note, however, which was pointed out by officials as likely to have an important bearing on submarine attacks on belligerent craft was the statement regarding the obligations of commanders to remove passengers to a place of safety. It may be cited by the United States when it begins its discussion with the Berlin foreign office of the death of Leon Thresher in the submarine attack on the British steamer Falaba.

ASK RECEIVER FOR LIFE RISK CONCERN

Indianapolis, April 9.—Richard M. Millburn, attorney general, today filed suit in superior court against the Anchor Life Insurance company, with headquarters at 430 North Penna street, Indianapolis, asking for a receiver for the company and alleging that the company is insolvent.

Restraintment of the company from transacting further business also is asked in the complaint. The filing of the action is the outgrowth of weeks of investigation of the company's business by the office of auditor of state.

NEW LIST OF CASUALTIES.

London, April 9.—Another extended list of casualties totalling 1,108 names was issued by the British war office today and it emphasizes the fierceness of the battle of Neuve Chapelle, in France, last month. The killed in this latest list number 336.

MAN ARRESTED FOR OVERCROWDING CAR

Wealthy New Yorker is Charged With Disturbing the Peace.

New York, April 9.—For being "Passenger 49" on a street car, Jacob Horowitz, a wealthy manufacturer, was brought before Magistrate McGuire in the Adams Street court. Horowitz is the first victim of the order of the board of health against crowding the surface lines. Horowitz boarded the car, without opposition and went well up front. When the conductor counted noses in the car he found there were forty-nine passengers where there should have been only forty-eight. As Horowitz was the last passenger to get on the conductor ordered him to get off. Horowitz declined and proffered his fare which was refused. The conductor called a policeman and Horowitz was arrested.

When the case was called five lawyers, representing Horowitz, the transit company, the board of health and the people, were in court. After hearing the evidence the magistrate held Horowitz for trial in the court of special sessions on the charge of disturbing the peace. The court permitted him to sign a bond of $100 for his appearance.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH.

South Bend Man Prefers Charges Against Auto Driver.

South Bend, Ind., April 9.—Thomas Hibbs, of this city, and C. R. Stevenson, a Mishawaka manufacturer, narrowly escaped death Tuesday, when Stevenson's automobile hit a carriage in which Hibbs was riding.

Hibbs was severely bruised and shaken up, his horse was killed and the rig was reduced to kindling wood. He preferred a charge of speeding against Stevenson, saying he was running at a speed of fifty or sixty miles an hour, and also caused the arrest of Stevenson's chauffeur, saying he went to the scene of the accident and removed the license tag from the Stevenson automobile. Stevenson is manager of the Mishawaka Veneer Products company. He has been arrested before for speeding.

MANY CITIES AFTER NEXT CONFERENCE

Fort Wayne Has a Good Chance to Secure M.
E. Gathering.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., April 9.—That Fort Wayne has a good chance of securing the next session of the North Indiana Methodist Episcopal conference was the opinion expressed today by many of the ministers in attendance at the conference here. The next meeting place will be selected at the session Saturday morning. Other strong contenders for the entertaining of the conference next year are: Huntington, Kokomo and Muncie.

Bishop McDowell delivered the second of his series of addresses on "The Minister" this morning. Rev. E. R. Grose, president of DePauw university, was the last speaker at the morning session. He reported at the university in a most flourishing condition and that the outlook for the coming year was most promising. Dr. Grose also offered prayer.

Conference Evangelists named. The following conference evangelists were named this morning: Rev. J. A. Osborn, Warsaw; Rev. E. R. Westhafer, Muncie; and Rev. T. M. Guild, Peru. Permission was given to sell several old churches, the proceeds to go for the improvement of other church properties in the conference.

The charges of public intoxication against Rev. R. J. Black, of Saratoga, Randolph county, were not sustained. Rev. F. O. Scutrah, of Bunker Hill, withdrew from the Methodist conference to enter the Presbyterian ministry. Reports were heard from Rev. B. S. Holloper, superintendent of the Logansport district, and Rev. Somerville Light, superintendent of the Goshen district. Rev. A. G. Neal, of Warsaw, was presented with a new typewriter for having the best charge in the district. Rev. Dundavey, of Lafayette, spoke this morning on Purdue university, telling of the work that had been done during the past year and the things contemplated for the future.

Committees Are Named. On the auditing committee were appointed E. L. Jones, superintendent of the Methodist Memorial home, and F. H. Croeman, of Fort Wayne.

On the resolutions committee were appointed W. F. Smith, Huntington; C. R. Grose, president of DePauw university; Roy Scamans, Goshen; Karl Carlson, Fremont; and L. J. Naffziger, Union City.

J. H. Hunkle, of Red Key, acting for the board of conference examiners, gave examinations to the following aspirants to become elders:

Entrance applicants—R. R. Detweiler, Bluffton; Earl W. Lewis, Anderson; R. F. Stone, Hartford City; F. W. Rooking, Inwood.

Second year—A. E. White, South Whitley; C. E. Bash, Waterloo, and Luther Markin, Milledale.

Third year—James Richardson, Fountain City; C. Montgomery, Boxley; C. B. Thomas, Gilead; E. A. Hartman, Cornudas; A. C. Hoover, Hillsburg; Charles Anderson, Shirley; Joseph Grimes, Decatur circuit; W. E. Hagan, Inwood; A. B. Patton, Point Isabel, and William E. McPheters, Miami.

Rev. J. W. Souverville addressed the conference on an evangelistic topic, "The Worker's Power House." Rev. Somerville is from Wichita, Kansas, and has a heart as big as his body, which is a massive one. His address was of great interest to the ministers and full of good points for laymen.

Laymen Meet. The laymen of the church met in the Y. M. C. A. and were called to order by the president, George Morgan, of La Grange. The routine business was performed and several addresses made.

This body will be in session all day Friday and the most important event of the day will be the minister-layman banquet. Bishop McDowell will address this session.

The Evening Session. The services in the tabernacle were attended by over a thousand, including the ministers, and great interest taken in the addresses given.

At the request of Rev. Thornburg, the entire minister body sat on the platform and as a particularly good point was made by one of the speakers, their "Amens" and "Hallelujahs" rolled out like the music of a vast organ.

Rev. Earle Naffziger, of Wabash, had charge of the song service and led the congregation from one song to another with a new way, it pleased the people and they sang the old songs with almost as much good will as the preachers themselves.

The conference quartet—Rev. Earle Naffziger, Wabash; Rev. Leslie Naffziger, Union City; Rev. D. H. Guild, Fort Wayne, and Rev. Fred Thornburg, Auburn—sang and responded to vociferous encores.

Rev. J. W. Van Cleve, of Decatur, Ill., spoke in the interest of the Preachers' Aid society, and displayed many lamentable features in the way the superannuated ministers of the church are cared for.

"The railroads are getting to put their men on a pension sufficient to keep them in comfort. When a section hand is getting a pension of $35 per month, a retired Methodist minister is in a position to envy him."

Rev. A. E. Smith, who has been so well liked in his previous addresses, again spoke, this time on the versatility of Christ and the way in which the ministers should strive to imitate Him.

"A whipper and a whine has no place in a preacher," he said. "God expects meeting houses proportionate in splendor with the homes in which the congregation lives. Some churches are great coffins, with gold handles and silk linings."

"If you people think that the Methodist church is located at the corner of Seventh and Van Buren, God pity you. The church should be located in every part of the whole city and community. Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there also am I."

The Friday evening program is being looked forward to as the biggest night of the conference. The evening will be opened by a concert by the Scout quartet.

LINEMAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT ON POLE

Edwin Hackett Comes in Contact With Live Wire, Death Resulting.

While working on an electric light pole in front of 918 Harrison street, between Wayne and Washington streets, late Thursday afternoon, Edwin Hackett, 32, residing at 1728 Andrew street, a lineman for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, came in contact with a live wire, 4,000 volts of electricity passing through his body. He died on the way to St. Joseph hospital.

As soon as he came in contact with the live wire Hackett fell back unconscious and would have fallen to the ground forty feet below but for his safety strap which he had fastened around the pole. For about ten minutes he hung there when fellow-workmen succeeded in lowering him to the ground. He was still alive. An ambulance hurried him to the hospital with all possible haste, but he breathed his last on the way.

Mrs. Hackett was visiting a neighbor and was not notified of her husband's death until an hour and a half after the accident. A neighbor sent her daughter to tell her to come home at once. Mrs. Paul Nachigall conveyed the news to her as delicately as she could and a most pitiable scene followed. She completely collapsed, it becoming necessary to call a physician to attend her. Mr. and Mrs. Hackett had been married about three years and a half. Mrs. Hackett formerly lived in Monroeville.

Hackett was assisting in lowering the wire carrying the 4,000 volts of electricity when, it is believed, the wire fell against his head, causing a circuit. That it must have been grounded is the opinion of the other workmen. He was not badly burned, there being slight burns on his head, left hand and right foot.

Hackett had been in the employ of the traction company for a number of years, at one time acting as "trouble shooter." Some years ago he also was employed as an electrician by the Pennsylvania company. He is survived by a wife.

the company, long known as the Siegel-Cooper store occupies both blocks on Sixth avenue between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

Assets of the store are listed in the complaint at $7,465,419, including merchandise, cash and accounts receivable. The liabilities, it is said aggregate $3,513,060, not including the mortgage liabilities amounting to approximately $2,950,000.

J. B. Greenbut, president of the firm, is treasurer of the Monmouth Securities company upon whose application the receivers were appointed. The suit is based upon the indebtedness of approximately $200,000 alleged to be due the Securities company and representing money loaned the Greenbut company.

William A. Marble, one of the receivers, is a vice president of the Walter N. Noyes is a former judge of the federal district court of this district.

In connection with its department stores, the J. B. Greenbut company conducted a private bank for the convenience of its customers. In December last, however, the firm gave notice that it intended to withdraw from the banking business and that no interest on deposits would be paid after Jan. 1, 1915.

The date fixed by the firm for its withdrawal from the banking business was March 1. This gave the depositors two months' notice and it is believed that all availed themselves of it to withdraw their savings.

A few moments after the appointment of the receivers, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company by three creditors with claims aggregating $3,000. In this petition these creditors alleged that the assets of the Greenbut company, exclusive of real estate, do not exceed $6,000,000 and that its liabilities, mostly old debts, aggregate approximately $12,000,000.

Benjamin G. Paskus, of counsel for the J. B. Greenbut company, asserts that the liabilities were about $3,400,000 and assets about $7,000,000. Of the latter, he said, there were about $4,000,000 in quick assets, so called, and $3,000,000 in fixtures and stable equipment. There are two mortgages on real estate owned by the firm, according to the petition. One of the mortgages is for $1,200,000 and the other for $1,750,000. These mortgages, Mr. Paskus said, are offset by bonds, some of which are held in Europe. Current liabilities, Mr. Paskus asserted, would be offset by the merchandise and outstanding accounts.

Will Be Reorganized. Without question the business will be reorganized, Mr. Paskus asserted. The firm had virtually closed its banking business he said, returning to depositors approximately $5,900,000 during the last year.

GAVE POLICE A BATTLE.
A foreigner whose name is believed to be J. D. Picolo, gave the police a rattling battle at the saloon corner of Columbia and Clinton streets, Friday morning, when they attempted to arrest him and remove him from the place, where he had been making a disturbance. He was officered by Joe Degitz and Cy Andrews and a bystander had as much as they could do to get him through the door. In the melee Officer Andrews was kicked on the hand and had thumb dislocated. A rope was procured from a nearby hardware store and the man was hog-tied and dumped into the patrol wagon.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.
Master Painters Refuse to Grant Increase Demanded by Union.
Though two conferences have now been held between committees representing the Master Painters' association and the painters' local union, no agreement has been reached in regard to the painters' demand for a higher wage scale.
It is understood that the union has agreed to accept a contract calling for 45 cents an hour for paperhangers, instead of 50 as originally demanded. The old contract called for 40 cents. The master painters declare they cannot see their way clear to grant one penny increase.

has been revived. Such a possibility is discussed widely in the Russian press and in diplomatic circles. It is based largely on the reported attempt of Emperor Francis Joseph to enlist the influence of the pope in this direction. From the first it has been maintained here that the only terms Russia would consider would be the unequalled concession of all Slavic demands. Russian officials have never conserved the possibility of such concessions unless a decisive victory should be won by the Slavic nations now at war.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much, also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST IN LECTURE HERE

Bicknell Young Speaks at Majestic Theater on Thursday Evening.

Before a large audience at the Majestic theater Thursday evening, Bicknell Young, C. S. B., member of the board of trustees of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, delivered a lecture on Christian Science. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Frank I. Brown. He spoke in part as follows:

"It takes a great deal of instruction to convince the average human being that the word 'God' does not mean something remote or inaccessible. Now we can think certain ideas which reveal God. We have seen that here. These ideas reveal power because God and power are one. They are God with us, and therefore power with us. We can think of our bodies, and as a matter of fact we think of them a great deal too much. Nevertheless, so long as that is our tendency, it ought not to be difficult for us to recognize that the true thought of what God is may affect our bodies, since some kind of thought is doing something to our bodies all the time. We walk because of mind; and talk and think, and wink our eyes, because of mind, and do everything else we are doing because of mind, and we do absolutely nothing because of matter, for matter cannot think nor talk nor walk by itself when thought is absent.

Influence of Thought.
"To further understand the influence of thought on the body, we should remember that it is impossible that there could be a mind in matter, that what is governing the human body, ordinarily speaking, is not a mind inside of it, but the great mass of human belief which is entirely outside of the body.

The Doctor's ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker
The questions answered below are general in character, and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, 211-213 East Main Street, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only reliable addresses will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

M. R. writes: "I have suffered with dyspepsia, or nervous indigestion more or less for 8 years, and I want you to prescribe treatment for me; my symptoms are the usual ones, such as pain and distress after eating, sour stomach, headache, heart-burn, and pain in regions of heart, or between shoulders, constipation, or sometimes diarrhea, coated tongue, bad breath and a score more. Am miserable. In a word."

Answer: Your case is chronic, but by careful diet and the regular use of an aid and tonic you should soon recover a normal state. Obtain a package of "Double Dose" or "Triple Dose" medicine from a druggist. With it are directions. This is the newest and best treatment I know of.

C. J. R. asks: "Can I safely reduce my weight, and how?"
Answer: Go to a well-stocked druggist and get five-grain arbolone tablets in sealed tubes with complete directions. Take as directed, and you should soon feel the relief you desire. Many of my patients report quick results without any harmful action whatever.

Ellen J. asks: "Tell me, please how I can increase my weight and improve my color. I seem to be anemic, weak and tired all the time."
Answer: Begin taking three-grain hyponitrate tablets with your meals and soon you will feel your strength returning and gradually your weight and color will improve. This is a most effective remedy if persistently used.

J. W. W. asks: "Can you prescribe a reliable treatment to get rid of dandruff, itching and feverish scalp?"
Answer: I know you can get instant relief and permanent results by using plain yellow mineral oil per directions which accompany each 4-oz. jar.

"Morris" asks: "I have suffered with a chronic cough for almost a year, and catch a fresh cold every few weeks. Nothing the doctor gives me helps, so I write to you."
Answer: You need a thorough laxative cough syrup, one that not only relieves but surely drives it from the system. A weekend condition due to a long series of catarrhal trouble. Briefly I have Perio Catarrh (leucorrhoea) and catarrh of the nose and throat. What local treatment is good for a cure?"

Miss "Stranger" asks: "I am in a weakened condition due to a long series of catarrhal trouble. Briefly I have Perio Catarrh (leucorrhoea) and catarrh of the nose and throat. What local treatment is good for a cure?"

Answer: I am quite sure that antiseptic Vaseline Powder is the most prompt and effective treatment that one can possibly use. Full directions accompany either a two or eight ounce package. Do not neglect catarrhal trouble.

WILL MANUFACTURE PERFUME IN SOUTH

Varieties of Flowers to Be Utilized in Argentine.

Buenos Aires, A. R., April 6.—It will not be long before a new industry springs up in the Argentine, namely the manufacture of perfumes. The remarkable fertility of the vast tracts of uncultivated land in the Gran Chaco is most favorable to the cultivation of plants that are necessary to that industry. Senor Gancedo, governor of the territory, has reported upon the growth of flowers of all kinds and has stated that he hopes to see the exportation of perfumery begun in a short time. The amount of tilled land in this part of the republic is comparatively small, for one can travel mile after mile by railway without meeting any cultivation. A plan is now being pushed by government officials for the encouragement of settlement, the idea being to allow persons to remain on the land for two years free of charge, in hopes that after that period of establishing themselves they will be willing to stay. Despite the fact that trade for 1914 shows a marked diminution when compared with the figures of 1913, a balance of $77,000,000 gold in favor of exports is considered encouraging. The total amount of foreign trade for the Argentine Republic during the year that has just closed was $621,000,000 gold, which is 31.3 per cent. less than the trade of 1913. Of this sum $271,500,000 gold belongs to imports and $349,500,000 to exports; but in both cases there is a heavy drop when compared with the figures for 1913, imports showing the biggest decrease, namely $149,500,000 gold, while exports have decreased $134,200,000 gold.

GIRLS! CLEAN AND BEAUTIFY HAIR —NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Stop washing hair! Try this! Makes hair glossy, soft and abundant.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will clean the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Adv.

What is Money?

It is quite difficult to give a broad definition of money that will be understood by all, for in different ages and lands many things have been used as money besides the coins and bills which we think of only when we think at all what money is. Anything that passes freely from hand to hand in a community in the payment of debts and for goods purchased, accepted freely by the person who offers it without any reference to the person who offers it, and which can be in turn used by the person accepting it to give to some one else in payment of debt or for the purchase of goods, is money. This is rather a long sentence and perhaps difficult to understand, and so we will try to analyze what this means. If some one offered you a pretty stone as money in payment of a debt, it would be as good as any kind of money if you in turn could pass it on to any other person to whom you owed a debt or in payment of something you bought. The stone might appear to you to be valuable, but it would not be good money unless you could count on every one else in the community accepting it at the same value. If everybody accepts it at the same value, it is as good as any kind of money. So that anything which is acceptable to the people in any community as a unit of value to pay debts, is good money, provided everybody thinks so and accepts it that way. In this case, then any kind of substance might become money provided it was used and accepted by everyone. From the Book of Wonders now being distributed by this paper on the coupon plan. See coupon for full details. One of the most interesting stories of the world's activities is the story of money, the different things which have been used as money, why we need money, who originated money, why we use gold and silver as money, who made the first coin, all this is told in a fascinating way in the Book of Wonders. FORT WAYNE YOUNG LADY USED IT FOR A BUILDER

Miss Rosella Keller, 624 Elizabeth Street, This City, Highly Praises Herbal Lax-a-Tone as a Tonic for Weakness.

ROSELLA KELLER.

Many people in Fort Wayne are run down, feel half sick and half well, and keep putting it off until some day they will find out that they really have a spell of serious sickness, and will then regret that they did not take nature's warning and save themselves.

Miss Keller says: For a long time I have been run down and had no appetite, felt tired and languid all the time, with no desire to exert myself. Since taking Herbal Lax-a-Tone I must say that I am wonderfully surprised, as I feel just fine and eat heartily.

If you have sour acid stomach, weak kidneys, headaches, pulled skin, constipation, heartburn, swollen feet and ankles and feel tired out and languid all the time, try Herbal Lax-a-Tone, it will work wonders.

The Herbal Lax-a-Tone man is at Dreier Drug Co., 526 Calhoun street, where he is demonstrating this remedy. He will remain until 10 o'clock Saturdays to meet those unable to call during the day.—Adv.

NONE OF 'EM QUITE SUIT THE COLONEL

Roosevelt Has Not Promised to Support Standpat Republican.

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 8.—Former President Roosevelt has not promised to support any standpat republican candidate for president. This statement may be accepted as authoritative. Frequently printed reports that Roosevelt had promised to help Weeks, Root, Burton and others, moved me to come to Oyster Bay for the purpose of finding out the truth of these reports. They are not true. Colonel Roosevelt has not abandoned the progressive party, nor advised anybody else to do so. What he may do eighteen months from now is another matter. It is not a matter on which he is willing to talk now. He does not himself know.

The present situation he describes as a "hair-trigger" situation, nationally and internationally. Almost anything is likely to happen. Men who followed him in the revolt against the old machine-controlled standpat republicanism have nothing to do but to keep their powder dry and their guns handy. Translating this into more simple political terms, it would be foolish to give up the progressive party organization and influence without any reason for giving it up or anything received in return. The progressives, as an organization, should be able, before the next republican convention is held to compel the adoption of a progressive platform and the nomination of a progressive candidate. If they cannot do that, it may be best to nominate a man like William Johnson even if the only result of this be to furnish a place for honest progressives to vote, and to turn the election to the democrats.

Roosevelt is not keen for the latter result. This should be interpreted cautiously. The colonel is doing one thing more than any other and that is to emphasize at all times his cordial disapproval of the present administration. He disapproves its foreign policy and most of its domestic policy. His principal indictment, however, is in the matter of unpopularity for national defense. The colonel takes the attitude that since the outbreak of the European war the highest national duty was to set this country's defense in order. He believes, and in this he disagrees with the administration, that the only way to avert war is to be adequately prepared to defend ourselves against foreign aggression. The Roosevelt attitude is expressed by Congressman A. P. Gardner, and in some things Roosevelt has said on this subject, his attitude has been misinterpreted. To one inquirer he said, for instance, that should a choice be presented between a man like Root in favor of adequate national defense, and Wilson in favor of inadequate national defense, no matter how cordially he has disapproved Root, he would feel compelled in the interest of the welfare of the nation to support the man who engineered the theft of the Chicago convention in the interest of Taft, rather than a president who, Taft, by the way, did not inactivity of Wilson. This does not mean that he favors Root as against Wilson. It simply means that he favors adequate military preparation as against inadequate. Those expressions by Roosevelt simply indicate how strongly he feels on the subject of adequate defenses. Should this be the paramount question of the campaign, it means he will support the candidate whose position most nearly coincides with his own on this question, which he regards as overshadowing almost everything else.

The colonel intends to re-progressive party to the future of the progressive party to Victor Murdock, who is now chairman of the progressive party national committee. He has lately had a long talk with Murdock and both are entirely agreed as to what should be done. Chiefly, they are agreed that the thing not to do at present is to scramble head over heels into the arms of the reactionary republicans who are starting their subsidized, gunboat, full-dinner-pail, prosperity. Fairbanks-Burton campaign. Roosevelt is opposed to Burton because Burton is a pacifist. He is opposed to Taft always; he is opposed to Root because Root was a political brigand at the Chicago convention; Senator Weeks he does not even know; he is opposed to Watson, Fairbanks, Foraker, Penrose and Barnes. The republicans in order to invite Roosevelt support, will have to scurry around and get some kind of a candidate quite different from any of these. A Pennsylvania republican recently elected to congress, wrote the other day to Roosevelt, saying: "Why don't you come back to the republican party; we want to support you?" He wrote in reply: "Why don't you come back to the principles of the republican party during the time of Lincoln when it stood for the people and not for special privilege?"

TO ABIDE BY THE LAW.

High School Frat Changes Constitution to Meet Statutes.

Newcastle, Ind., April 7.—At the semi-annual meeting of the officers of the Kappa Alpha Phi high school fraternity, it was decided to change the constitution and by-laws of the body so that it would no longer be a high school fraternity, but a fraternity for young men. The action was taken to conform with the state law on the subject and in order to avoid conflict with the rule of many college fraternities which prohibits the "spiking" of young men who have been members of high school fraternities.

Charters for new chapters at Connersville and Greencastle were granted and a committee was appointed to install several chapters in Michigan and Ohio. Among the officers present were: Carl Wagner, Logansport, president; Glenn B. Woodard, Bloomington, vice president; and Walter Ratcliffe, Newcastle, secretary.

DISCOVERS BIG SPOT ON SUN'S SURFACE

Nearly Eight Times as Large as Earth and Attended by Smaller Ones.

Albany, N. Y., April 8.—One of the largest spots ever seen by astronomers is now visible on the surface of the sun and, according to the scientists who have measured it, it is about 54,150 miles in diameter or several times larger than our earth. Along with this spot is a smaller one which extends over an area of about 150,000 miles in length.

Many of the various opinions have been held as to what, if any, influence these sun spots have on the earth, but astronomers are now pretty generally agreed that they have practically no influence whatever unless it be that they may cause magnetic storms.

Professor Benjamin Boss, director of the Dudley observatory in Albany, when asked about the phenomenon said: "Sun spots as they are called appear at somewhat regular periods reaching the maximum about every eleven years. The last maximum period of spots was in 1905 so another maximum is due in 1916. In maximum periods the number of the spots run as high sometimes as one hundred, while in normal times there are no spots visible on the sun.

Nature of Sun Spots.

"A sun spot is a disturbance on the surface of that body. They are probably the result of an eruption of gases and what we see are the gases falling back into the sun. A curious fact about sun spots is that they revolve in spiral form like a whirlwind and no two spots, when they appear in pairs, as they generally do, revolve in the same direction.

"The only effect they have on the earth, if any, is that they probably cause magnetic storms which at times, especially during maximum periods, are so violent that they affect telegraph instruments and other delicate electrical appliances. They have no effect whatever on barometric conditions, however, as has been at times supposed.

"Another interesting feature of sun spots is that very often when they are numerous, the aurora borealis also is seen so it is highly probable that this year and next this phenomenon will be seen frequently."

UNIVERSAL GARB IS SOUGHT BY FASHION

Reward of $150 for Best "Polymuriel" Good for Any Locality.

New York, April 9.—The new style in skirts are not without their compensation. From Fifth avenue to the Battery and from New York to San Francisco a mail went up when the edict spread that full skirts are come to stay and that to be seen in the old-fashioned "umbrella case" is equivalent to a defamation of character. "What shall I do with my last year's suit? It is perfectly good, but it can't possibly be made full," is the cry you hear on all sides. But now the women are going to have a chance to make themselves immortal. The new idea rapidly gaining in fashion circles is that of a "polymuriel" that is, a garment meant to be worn on all occasions and by all types of women; a universal garment.

After frantic designers gave up in despair it was decided that the only thing to do was to start a polymuriel contest, open to all and aimed to find a universal garment, useful, yet beautiful, which should greet the eyes of men from their offices, their homes, the ball rooms and even the subways. The contest is open until June 30 and a prize of $150 will be offered for the best design.

The polymuriel may be worn equally well in Alaska or Florida, at Delmonico or Cooper Union. The little girl will don a polymuriel as soon as she sheds her baby clothes and wear it gracefully through life till she becomes a grandmother.

FILED THE CITY'S POWER SCHEDULE

Mayor Hosey and Manager Wessel See Public Serv- ice Commission.

Mayor W. J. Hosey and Secretary Manager John Wessel were in conference Thursday at Indianapolis with President Clark of the Indiana Public Service commission, and filed with the secretary of that body the schedule of rates for electric power maintained by the city electric light department. Mayor Hosey took occasion to prefer to Commissioner Clark Fort Wayne's exception to any regulation there may be that the city cannot operate its electric light and power enterprise on this schedule until the utilities board shall have passed on it. He said that the city of Fort Wayne claimed the right and authority to pursue its business. Under the law the public service board can merely pass on the schedule, approving or disapproving it, and must bring suit in the local courts here alleging violation of the law either by the city or its servants. The schedule that was submitted was that now in force and is the one under which the city light and power department will continue to operate.

ONE RESOLUTION IS KILLED.

People of Mary Street Do Not Want a Sidewalk Built.

Of a large batch of resolutions for the construction of cement sidewalks before the board of works for confirmation, Thursday evening, one was killed by remonstrance, a most unusual course. Three of the four property owners on the south side of Mary street, from Rummion to Davis, protested against the improvement and the resolution was slaughtered. All the other resolutions for sidewalks, a list of which was given in this department Thursday, were confirmed. Assessment rolls were confirmed for the local sewers described herein Thursday. The board received a petition for sidewalks on Webster street, from Darrow avenue to Rudisill boulevard. Declaratory resolutions were adopted for paving the following alleys: One between Kinross and Packard avenues, South Wayne to Indiana; one between Lewis street and Douglas avenue, Calhoun to Harrison; one between Wayne and Washington street and one between Washington and Jefferson streets, Monroe to Hanna; one between Suttentfield street alley west, one west of Clinton to first alley west, one west of Webster street, Suttentfield to Woodland; one between Suttentfield street and Woodland avenue, alley west of Webster to alley east of Hoagland; one west of Fairfield avenue, DeWald to the alley between Creighton and DeWald; alley between DeWald street and Creighton avenue, alley west of Fairfield to Fox avenue.

FEWER CONCERTS THIS YEAR.

With the proceeds of the half-cent tax levy for public band concerts in the city parks practically the same this year as last and with the musicians' union requiring the full scale of rates for playing this year, whereas last year there was a reduction of 50 cents for each man, it has been found necessary to cut the schedule of summer concerts from forty to thirty-two. This was brought out Thursday afternoon at a conference of Secretary C. J. Steiss, of the park board, Concert Master Eugene B. Troendle, Director Gert Shober, of the Moose band; Manager L. S. C. Schroeder, of the Elks' band, Prof. Tannehill, of Citizens' band, and Prof. Drueger, of the Arion band. There will be three concerts a week—Sunday afternoons and Tuesday and Friday evening. The season will begin June 15 and end August 29. The complete schedule will be prepared soon.

BASS BOILER SHOP ANNOYS.

Woman Complains to Mayor and Wants Noise of Industry Silenced.

A woman who resides near the Bass Foundry and Machine works, Fort Wayne's oldest and one of its greatest industrial concerns, called Mayor Hosey over the telephone Friday and complained that the boiler shop of the big institution made so much noise it disturbed her peace and she wanted some action taken. "Well, this is a new one," said Private Secretary D. C. McCarty, who answered the telephone. "I've heard plenty of complaints that there wasn't work enough, but this is the first that has come that there is too much," he replied to the lady's complaint that the boiler shop was working a night shift and keeping up the glad music of industry overtime.

Mayor Hosey directed that the woman be told there was nothing the city government had authority to do and that she would have to seek redress by injunction of the courts to silence the noise of the busy shop.

TO CONSIDER ANNEXATION.

Meeting of Council Committee of the Whole Monday Night.

President William A. Bayer, of the city council, has called for next Monday night in the council chamber a meeting of the committee of the whole to consider the proposal to annex about fifty-seven acres of territory south of Rudisill boulevard and lying between Calhoun street and Fairfield avenue, described on the plat as Harrison Hill addition. Messrs. Hilgemann & Schaaf, the real estate firm, having the property in charge, are anxious to have it annexed. The plat has been under consideration by the board and the council as a committee of the whole has inspected the tract. The owners of the land are making extensive improvements and are ready to install water mains for the addition. The ordinance for annexation will come up for action Tuesday night if the committee of the whole makes a favorable report.

IN THE CHURCHES

DECISIONS AT TIFFIN HAVE REACHED 2,216

Word has been received here that Dr. Alford H. Lyon will close his revival meetings at Tiffin, O., next Sunday evening when he will deliver his farewell sermon. So far the total number of decisions has reached 2,216 and before the meetings close it is expected that this number will reach 2,500 or more. The results in Tiffin have been much greater, proportionately, than in Fort Wayne. At Wayne with its 80,000 inhabitants 4,896 decisions while Tiffin has only a population of 13,000.

So far Dr. Lyon has secured no financial recompense for his strenuous work, but will undoubtedly be suitably rewarded next Sunday when the collection taken will be given to the evangelist.

The party will enjoy a one week's stay at the meetings in Terre Haute, the next city in line for a campaign, will begin until Sunday, April 18. The binnacle at that place has nearly been depleted and when finished will have seating capacity of 5,000.

TWO COMBATANTS IN A KNIFE DUEL SLAIN.

Pomeroy, O., April 9.—In a knife duel at the Howell school-house at Letart, W. Va., last night during a school entertainment, Earl Shirley, 28, and Ursou Bosworth, 38, both married, were killed. Three brothers on a side were said to have engaged in the fight. Two others are reported dying. The trouble is said to have been the culmination of an old feud.

CITY OWNERSHIP BADLY DEFEATED

Grand Rapids Voters Turn Down Municipal Gas Proposition.

(From Grand Rapids Press.)

Not in a long time has a public issue been so decisively decided as that regarding the proposed municipal ownership and operation of the gas plant.

By more than 2 to 1 this pet project of the mayor's was snowed under. The decision was so plain as to be unmistakable. In practically every precinct the majority against municipal ownership was overwhelming and not for a moment was the result in doubt.

The only question was the size of the defeat and with the returns tabulated Tuesday morning it was found the total majority against the proposal was 6,926.

Mayor Ellis conceded defeat Monday, but he expected a better showing. His argument had been that a favorable vote would simply have been a club in the hands of the city in negotiating for a new franchise. The result probably means a new franchise deal will be opened, though there are many officials who will insist the matter be allowed to rest until the new charter is framed in the belief a franchise provision will be included which will safeguard the city's interest and do away with the possibility of granting the makeshift and imperfect franchise to the gas or any other public service company.

The mayor declares his fight will be renewed and that he is not discouraged. The gas company officials naturally are highly pleased. They conducted a lively campaign, spread the ink liberally and this probably accounts for some of the victory. The general sentiment of the people against municipal ownership at this time was clearly and emphatically displayed.

How they voted in the various wards is shown in the following table:

Ward	Yes	No
First	202	438
Second	158	567
Third	420	1,382
Fourth	390	917
Fifth	520	1,050
Sixth	500	1,313
Seventh	339	771
Eighth	204	307
Ninth	265	688
Tenth	307	1,010
Eleventh	514	1,381
Twelfth	462	1,112
Totals	4,470	11,390

CHICAGO DEMOCRATS BESIEGING M'COMBS

Chicago, April 9.—William F. McComb, chair man of the democratic national committee, was besieged by local members of his party when his presence in Chicago became known today. Mr. McComb, who is on his way to his ranch in Arkansas, said he had enough appointments in sight to keep him here until tomorrow. He declined to discuss the Chicago mayoralty election in any relation it might have to national politics.

Another democratic leader here today was Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, who arrived from California en route to Washington.

CLOSING ARGUMENTS MADE.

International Harvester Dissolution Case Nearing End.

Washington, April 9.—Closing arguments were made in the supreme court today in the International Harvester dissolution suit.

Solicitor General Davis for the government, insisted attorneys for the company had misrepresented the amount of new capital acquired by the organization of the combination in 1905. He declared not more than $10,500,000 new capital was acquired from strangers to the trade and that that was furnished by J. P. Morgan & Co., who got $3,000,000 for making the combination.

FOREST FIRES THREATEN.

Villages in Southern Kentucky Menaced by Blaze in Mountains.

Lexington, Ky., April 9.—Forest fires in the mountains in the southern part of this state had gained such headway today as to threaten villages and isolated homes, according to a report received here. In Pulaski county the fires are reported beyond control and working their way toward the Tennessee line. The continued drought in the mountains for the past several weeks is making the work of the fire-fighters more difficult, the report says, and unless rain falls soon great damage will result to timber tracts.

Champagne, Chablis wine and cider Portugal will import 3,674,000 bushels of wheat this year.

SANCTION CARPENTERS' STRIKE.

Action Taken by Executive Board in Chicago Situation.

Chicago, April 9.—Sanction of a strike of 16,000 carpenters in Chicago because demands for increased wages have been refused was granted by the executive board of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners at Indianapolis.

according to word brought back today by John A. Metz and Daniel Galvin, officers of the union's local district council.

"We went to Indianapolis to get sanction for the strike, which has been set for April 15, and the executive board told us to go ahead. If our demands were not met," said Mr. Galvin. "We were assured that we would be given financial support."

LEE'S SURRENDER TO BE CELEBRATED

Meeting Will Be Held in the Majestic Theater This Evening.

A splendid program has been arranged by the two Fort Wayne posts, Grand Army of the Republic, for the celebration of the surrender of the confederates at Appomattox just fifty years ago. The meeting will be held in the Majestic theater this evening to which the public is cordially invited.

Every bulletin board in the north was surrounded by great crowds all day of April 9, 1865, and each new dispatch that was read bore additional news of the plight of Lee's army. As the day advanced all became convinced the end was but a few hours off. It was Sunday, and though the bells chimed and the churches had their usual Sabbath services, the air outside was full of excitement. Each additional bit of news brought forth cheers from the crowds outside the bulletin boards. By evening the people were wild with excitement. Many were mad with joy when they read Grant's message to Lincoln:

"General Lee surrendered the army of northern Virginia this afternoon on terms proposed by myself. The accompanying additional correspondence will show the conditions fully."
"U. S. GRANT,"
"Lieutenant-General."

Tonight's Program.

Following is the program for tonight's celebration, with James E. Graham presiding: Song, "America," Simpson M. E. choir and audience; invocation, Comrade Rev. S. Wagenhals, D. D.; song, Blacksmiths' quartet; recitation, Mrs. Fred G. Fry; oration, Judge Walter Olds; solo, "The Boys in Blue Are Growing Gray," Mrs. Helen Tuedale; flag song, Miss Gertrude Seely; recitation, Miss Esther Graham; address, Colonel D. X. Foster; song, Emerson quartet; flag drill and song, "Guard the Flag," Ladies of the G. A. R.; song, "Star Spangled Banner," choir and audience.

HISTORIC CHAIRS ADDED.

Those Used by Sherman and Garfield Given to University.

Washington, April 8.—Headquarters' chair, used by General William T. Sherman from 1860 to 1890, while commander-in-chief of the United States army, and the chair used by President Garfield during his term at the white house, have been added to the historic furniture collection of the American university here. John Lamonte Hurst, of Denver, son of the late Bishop Hurst, donated the chairs, which he authenticated by original documents.

The Potomac river is only 500 miles long, and in its lower course is rather an estuary than a stream.

Dropped Into Vernacular Greek of Their Time, Says Prof. Coburn.

Philadelphia, April 9.—Slang was occasionally used by the apostles in writing the new Testament although they never lacked reverence and decorum, according to Prof. Camden M. Coburn, explorer and archaeologist. In his lecture on "Discoveries Concerning the New Testament," delivered here yesterday, he declared that papyri unearthed during the last twenty years proves that the writers of the new Testament used the vernacular Greek of that time and not an inspired Greek different from any other tongue on earth.

Prof. Coburn announced that he has lately catalogued 38 copies of the new Testament written on papyrus between the third and the sixth centuries. Twenty-two other copies, he said, have been catalogued by Sir F. G. Kenyon, the London archaeologist. Among the interesting papyri discovered is that of a judge's decision which said: "Thou hast been worthy of scourging, but I will give thee to the people."
"Skeptics," said Dr. Coburn, "have said that under the law Pilate could not have done exactly this thing. The record refutes the skeptics."

GERMANY WILL SETTLE.

Assumes Liability for Sinking of American Ship Frye.

Washington, April 9.—The German government has replied to the claim of the state department for compensation for the sinking by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich of the American ship, William P. Frye, assuming liability, not only for destruction of the vessel, but of the cargo under the treaty of 1826.

Germany requires, however, that the case shall be taken before a prize court for the establishment of facts concerning ownership of ship and cargo. To this the state department will assent.

BUT ONE FOREIGN TONGUE.

Language Requirements at Naval Academy Are Modified.

Washington, April 9.—Midshipmen at the naval academy will have to study but one foreign language in the future as the result of the approval by Secretary Daniels of a recommendation by the superintendent of the academy changing the course of modern language.

The change was brought by the failure of the midshipmen to master two foreign languages in the time that is available for their study. Half of the midshipmen will study French and the remainder Spanish.

TO WAGE CAMPAIGN AGAINST SPITTERS

Roosters on North Steps of Court House Will Invite Arrest.

Because this was the first case of the kind to be brought into the city court, William Davidson was turned loose after trial on a charge of spitting on the sidewalk at the north steps of the court house, where the advent of spring has brought out the usual warm weather flock of roosters, but Judge Kerr took occasion to announce that the next offender brought in and convicted on a similar charge would be fined. Davidson was arrested by Officer Ernest Paul, who had seen Davidson spit on the sidewalk, and warned him not to repeat the offense. The officer then stepped across Main street and from a post of observation in the Regal cigar store saw Davidson again spit on the sidewalk. The arrest promptly followed. In court Officer Paul said the loitering on the court house steps created a filthy nuisance by their spitting on the sidewalk and that he had determined to do his best to break up the offensive practice. City Attorney Colerick, who prosecuted the Davidson case under a specific ordinance, asked Officer Paul to make other arrests when violations of the ordinance came under his notice. The north steps of the court house are the favorite roosting place of a great crowd of idlers in warm weather and besides obstructing the entrance they create a most offensive situation by spitting on the sidewalk. It long has been complained of, but no systematic effort to abate the nuisance has been made heretofore.

Jail Sentences for Pair.

After hearing additional testimony in the cases of May Ward for prostitution and Joe Egar for associating, Judge Kerr pronounced both of them guilty in the city court Friday morning and fined them $15 and costs each and added jail sentences of fifteen days for both. No testimony was offered for the woman. Attorney Frank Enrick, who appeared for her, made a strong plea for her acquittal. Both defendants appealed to the circuit court and furnished bond of $200 each. They were arrested at a house on Calhoun street in the old redlight district. Officers Kavanaugh and Bert Smith, who made the arrests, had testified that Egar, who is a Syrian, had offered them $25 to let them go.

Admits Taking Brags.

Charles Biddel was tried on a charge of loitering and after a hearing his case was continued until the 14th inst. and he went to jail in default of bond. He was arrested by Detective Sergeant William F. Pappert, who developed that Biddel had been representing himself at his boarding place as an employee on the night shift at the rolling mills and that he had been selling brass to junkies. He never worked at the rolling mills and has had no employment, but he has been staying out all night and sleeping all day. He admitted taking some brass in the rolling mill district, but says he found it secreted there. He also admitted that he had taken brass from the Kunkle safety valve works on Barr street. To dealers who purchased brass from him he gave his name as Frank Smith, of 331 Brandt street.

Was Riding Stolen Motorcycle.

Floyd Woodworth was riding a motorcycle he stole at Elkhart, Ind., when Detective Sergeant Pappert arrested him on New Haven avenue, having arrived here but an hour or two earlier. Word of the theft had reached the local headquarters just before Woodworth buzzed in. Woodworth resided here until a year ago, and was known as Sam Sams. He was returned to Elkhart Friday by an officer from that place.

Other City Court Cases.

Arthur Hall, employed in the Randall garage, and Pearl Kurtz were charged with driving automobiles without 1915 license tags. Both cases were continued until Saturday. The case of Pete W. Crill on a similar charge was again continued a day.

William Huffman, a drunk, was turned loose to get out of town, and William Hanson, charged with disorderly conduct, was warned and let go. He was arrested after breaking up the furniture at his home.

FORMER FORT WAYNE MAN DIES IN PANAMA

Engineer Joseph Wood Expires in Hospital After Surgical Operation.

Joseph Wood, a brother of Mrs. Frank T. Benoy and whose early life was spent in Fort Wayne, died in a hospital in Panama following a surgical operation April 5. This was the substance of a telegram received by Mrs. Joseph Gair.

ENGINEER JOSEPH WOOD.

of Chicago, and forwarded to Mrs. Benoy yesterday. It came as a surprising shock, for the sisters had no previous news of the illness of Mr. Wood, nor did the brief message go into detail and tell the nature of the disease which had such sudden and fatal results. A letter conveying more definite news is en route and will be received in about a week. Orders have been issued to have the remains brought to Fort Wayne for interment and they will arrive here in about two weeks. In addition to the two sisters, Mrs. F. T. Benoy, of this city, and Mrs. Joseph Gair, of Chicago, the deceased is survived by one brother, John Wood, of Oklahoma City, Okla., who has been notified and who will come here to attend the funeral.

Joseph Wood was 55 years old the 25th of last March and was unmarried. Ever since his school days he was engaged in shop and railroad work. Learning the machinist's trade in the Wabash shops in Fort Wayne, he went on that road at the end of the apprenticeship and served several years as a fireman and later as engineer. Then he resigned to take a position as an engineer on the Nickel Plate and remained in that capacity until twenty-two years ago, when he resigned to go to Mexico. He was employed at the throttle on one of the most important roads in that country until the war made a residence there not only unpleasant, but dangerous, and he left Mexico and went to Panama. There he ran an engine for the United States government in the work of building the canal, until the latter was completed. From Panama he went to Uruguay and took employment on the Guayaquil and Quito railroad and was there when he wrote his last letter to his relative in Fort Wayne. In that letter he spoke of being slightly ill and subsequent events lead to the belief that he went to Panama purposely to submit to a surgical operation.

Mr. Wood was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and attended all of the biennial conventions of the international body since he went south. On those occasions he obtained a long leave of absence and spent a portion of the time with his relatives in the states. In his last letter he spoke with evident pleasure of his intention to attend the B. L. E. meeting in Cleveland in May and said he would probably remain here several weeks, and possibly for good. He was expected here the latter part of April.

Possessed of genial traits and a most pleasing personality, Joseph Wood made and retained friends wherever he went. To the hundreds of his warm friends in Fort Wayne the news of his death will be a most shocking surprise.

PASSING OF THE TICKET.

Old-Time Telegrapher "Knocks" Against the Telephone.

The woes of the telegraph operator are told in poetic form by a Pennsylvania operator who signs the letters "R. T. H." in the following humorous manner:

As a jolly Morse disciple,
 For some twenty years or more;
 I've worked throughout the country,
 And roamed from shore to shore.

From Manhattan Isle to 'Frisco,
 From Fort Tampa to the Soo,
 From Seattle to Atlanta,
 From Cheyenne to Baraboo.

I've sweltered in El Paso
 And shivered in Racine;
 I've worked on arid plateaus,
 As well as valleys green.

Then, after quite a sojourn
 On a standard eastern line,
 Got a trial at dispatching.
 Which I thought was pretty fine;

Till the sixteen-hour law got me
 Into holes and scrapes galore,
 And the crews tied up on sidings
 Yearned to wallow in my gore!

So I blew in here, a-thinking
 That again I'd like to be Just a happy lightning slinger,
 Just an artist of the key.

But to my intense amazement,
 Since connecting with the road,
 I seldom hear the tickers
 A-spitting out the code.

For the telephone's displaced 'em,
 Like an ever-creeper vine,
 As the means of getting orders
 To the trains along the line.

When the present-day dispatcher
 Wants to place a "31"
 Or inform the switching local
 How the varnished cars will run,

He adjusts his phoner harness,
 With the fog horn on his breast,
 Then he rings up all the stations,
 And proceeds to do the rest.

With his little black selector
 He is quite a man of class;
 He's a bell manipulator—
 Not a pounder of the brass.

And the boys out in the towers,
 Who sometimes hit the hay,
 Say the phone's the greatest rouser
 That has ever come their way.

While the "ham" whose ivory noodle
 Couldn't grasp the code of old,
 Seems to think the phoning outfit,
 Is worth its weight in gold.

On a number of divisions
 Of this good old Pennsy route,
 We have special message circuits
 Where the phone is winning out.

Though it is exasperating,
 And no doubt you will admit,
 That it don't improve the temper
 Just a tiny little bit.

When I say, "Please hold a lower
 On tomorrow's Semphole,"
 And my fair co-worker queries,
 "Did you say a ton of coal?"

Or if part of some rush message,
 Reading, "Mister Jacob Rice,"
 Is received at destination
 Rendered, "Fifty cakes of ice."

Yes, they have put me into harness,
 They've perched me on a chair,
 And if they'll furnish powder,
 Perhaps I'll curl my hair;

Don a hobble-skirt and shirt waist
 That'll match my girth and height;
 Oot a ten-cent cud of spearmint,
 And be a Lizzie right!

Perhaps this may seem funny
 To those who like the phone;
 But the army of old-timers
 Will say I'm not alone—

In cherishing the mem'ry
 Of the craft in other years,
 When the clicking of the sounders
 Was music to our ears.

The Pennsylvania wreck crew was called to Middlepoint at 9:30 o'clock last night to pick up an engine, its tender and a car which were derailed in a manner to block the tracks several hours. The Pennsylvania limited, No. 2; passenger trains Nos. 8, 48 and 24—all eastbound—were delayed by the accident. Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Assistant E. M. Reese, Division Operator H. B. DAVID MACKAY DEAD.

Evansville, Ind., April 9.—David J. Mackay, eighty-one years old, at one time recognized as the greatest railroad builder in the middle west, died here this morning at 3 o'clock. Mr. Mackay's death followed the amputation of his right leg, which had been infected with gangrene. During the civil war and for several years after Mr. Mackay was one of the richest men in the state. He was formerly president of the Evansville and Terre Haute railroad.

FIGURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Machinist John Christen and Assistant Card Clerk H. T. Telley, of the Pennsylvania, failed to show up for work this morning and inquiry revealed the fact that they and their automobile are being towed by some farm horses from Huntington to Fort Wayne. The young men, accompanied by two young ladies, went to Huntington yesterday afternoon to attend the Moose Minstrels and just as they reached the city they ran the automobile against a post and knocked one of the front wheels off. The ladies came home on the interurban, but the boys remained to bring the auto back. It is of the American type and is owned by Harvey Porter.

TURNED OUT NINE ENGINES.

Ohio Farmer Didn't Know His Own Daughter.

Columbus, O., April 7.—Ernest McCloud, father of Helen McCloud, attending Milo school, came very near being guilty of kidnapping, because his daughter and Hazel Lunsford, another girl in the school, look so much alike that they could hardly be told apart.

McCloud, who is divorced from his wife, has been trying to get custody of his daughter and went to the principal of the school, saying he had a court order for the child. Not knowing him, the principal declined to let him have her. McCloud then waited until after school, and when the children came out he grabbed up the Lunsford girl, supposing he had his daughter.

He refused to listen to the girl's explanations and was carrying her off in his wagon when they passed the girl's father in another wagon. Both stopped and finally McCloud was convinced he had made a mistake and turned his captive over to her father.

GIRL WHO WORKS IS KIND OF GIRL TO WED

Doesn't Believe God Made Adam to Pay Eve's Bills, She Says.

(By Nicola Greeley-Smith.)
New York, April 8.—Twelve years ago brown-haired, brown-eyed Mary Weldon, aged fifteen, went to work in the felt room of the Draper woolen mills at Canton, Mass.

As she grew older she became the mainstay and support of a widowed mother, and because of her zeal and efficiency in handling every task that was given her to do she was promoted to forewoman, and finally at the age of twenty-seven she became one of the mill superintendents, with an office desk near that of her multi-millionaire employer, Robert Lincoln Draper, of a celebrated New England family which has numbered governors and ambassadors among its scions.

Right there the story of Mary Weldon, successful business woman, ends. And the story of Mary Weldon Draper, successful wife, begins. For, as it happens every day in fiction and once in a hundred years in real life the mill girl has just been married to her employer.

The wedding took place in New York city and was very quiet. Not one of Mrs. Draper's former associates in the mill knew it was going to happen. Even her widowed mother professed to be astonished when she heard of the marriage.

And get there is no reason why anybody should be astonished when a business man chooses a business woman for his wife.

Every year more and more men are doing it. Every year the society debutante with her little bunch of parlor tricks, her rag-time dancing and her ragbag brain finds it harder and harder to get a husband. And the girl whom a business man sees eight or ten hours a day, the girl he knows gets up early, always dresses neatly, talks sensibly, reads the papers, lives on a fixed income and manages to save money briefly, the girl who works becomes more and more his ideal of womanhood.

Even the standard of beauty has been changed by the incursion of woman into the business world.

Look at Mary Weldon Draper's picture with its chiselled, intelligent features, the smooth, sensible arrangement of the hair. There you have the attractive business woman, the girl who does not try to appeal to men by getting herself up to look as much like a pet poodle as possible, but whose attire and demeanor proclaim her to be self-respecting and ready and anxious to respect anyone whose qualities enlist her interest and command her esteem.

The man she married is in the late forties, an age when far too many men fall in love with girls in their teens. For the woman who makes the unborn lamb into a fur coat has her counterpart in the man who makes the unborn lamb—the girl of seventeen or eighteen—into a wife.

The middle aged woman sports her $2,000 broadtail fur garment in an endeavor to appear youthful and attractive. The elderly man who invests his faded affections in domesticating a debutante has about the same motive. He dips his withered spirit in the fountains of another's youth. And is astonished that he doesn't feel young himself.

Practically all the society debutante has to offer is youth. She has no vital contact with the world. She sees everything through the eyes of others and the only thing that interests her very much is the reflection of her own rouged and powdered face in the looking-glass.

But the girl who works has met life first hand. She has learned patience, broadminded tolerance. She knows the trials of the business life and she is apt to make a much more intelligent and sympathetic wife than the girl who has been brought up to believe that God made Adam to pay Eve's bills.

As men learn to know this we will have more and more marriages of mill girls and the multi-millionaire.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 9.—Interest in today's stock market centered mainly around the Bethlehem Steel by reason of the sensational movement in that stock yesterday. The opening transactions consisted of 2,000 shares at 110 to 111 compared with yesterday's close of 105. The stock then declined to 105, 104 and 103. It soon recovered, however, selling at 115. Nearly all the dealings were for small amounts, many odd lots of less than 100 shares changing hands.
Transactions in the morning approached half a million shares, U. S. Steel contributing a very large part at a maximum gain of three points. Other leaders advanced one to two and one-half and specialties, particularly Motor shares, continued their progress to record breaking prices. Bethlehem Steel was temporarily relegated to the background but toward midday again became active on a rising scale. Bonds were firm.
Dealings in the final hour became increasingly active at highest prices of the

STUBBORN AND UNRULY MULES CAUSE STRIKE

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 9.—Stubborn and unruly mules were responsible for a strike of 1,300 employees of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company yesterday which completely tied up the operations. The company issued an order directing the men to enter and leave by one of the veins through the main gangway instead of by outlets and crosscuts. The miners objected to the order, declaring they were compelled to carry dynamite into the veins through the main gangway because of the presence of "stubborn and unruly mules in the gangways our lives are endangered." Officials of the company declined to rescind the order and the men went on strike.

SAYS DIXIE HIGHWAY PLAN MUST NOT FAIL

Governor Names Taggart and Fisher as Indiana Commissioners.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—Governor Ralston has issued a proclamation declaring the new Indiana state farm in Putnam county ready to receive prisoners on and after April 12. The new institution is designed to empty the county jails of prisoners sentenced to serve more than sixty days and less than one year.

The penal farm, situated near Putnamville, consists of 1,567 acres. The land is adapted to fruit growing, gardening and general agriculture. Stock raising may also be carried on with success and Mitchell limestone for building, fertilizing and road building purposes underlies the land and may be obtained with little excavating. There also is clay for brick and tile.

It is expected that the new institution will provide ultimately for a population of 500 or possibly 800. Provision has not yet been made for that number, however.

Suit to Oust Advisory Member.
Prosecutor Harry H. Illigmann has begun action in the circuit court in ouster proceedings against William K. Miner to remove him from membership on the advisory board of Washington township, to which he was elected last November, alleging that the defendant is not a freeholder and thereby disqualified from holding office. The complaint sets out that Miner as a member of the board is about to make disposition of $25,000 that is to be spent on a new school building and is not entitled by law to participate in such a distribution of public funds.

The suit of Catherine Waggoner vs. the Clover Leaf Casualty company has been dismissed from the circuit court.

As executor of the estate of Adelaide M. Manuel, deceased, Frank J. Belot has brought suit in the circuit court against Scaphine Courdeville to sell real estate.

Women Preside as Well as Men, She Says

San Diego, Cal., April 6.—It's just as easy to preside over a jury trial in the justice court as it is to do up the supper dishes or sweep the house.

This is the opinion today of Mrs. Miriam Rains, of El Cajon, San Diego county's first woman justice of the peace.

Mrs. Rains, in addition to being justice, is city recorder of El Cajon and a capable and competent official, too.

"I do not see why a woman cannot preside in justice court just as well as a man," declares Justice Rains, and men prosecutors and attorneys for the defense who have tried cases in her court agree with her.

The first jury trial in her court came off recently when a mere man was acquitted on the second ballot of disturbing the peace at a ball game. There were seven women on the jury, too.

leaves the entire estate to the widow, Lisette Rippe, who is named as executrix.

In the superior court Judge Taple gave Archie Boland a week in which to conform to the orders of the court that he pay money for the support of his wife, Hulda Boland. advises from Irapuato, near where Carranza forces claim to have decisively defeated Villa forces, say there was a short skirmish April 7 and that the Carranza forces retreated toward Queretaro. The message added that Carranza forces also had been withdrawn from the vicinity of Guadalajara.

Dispatches from Eagle Pass, Tex., indicated that an attack on Nuevo Laredo, across the border, was imminent. Instructions have been sent to American officers to warn the Mexican commander that there must be no firing into American territory. Angel del Caso, for the alleged protection of whom the Spanish minister to Mexico recently was expelled by Gen. Carranza, has arrived safely at Gen. Villa's headquarters at Irapuato, according to a message to the state department.

New York, April 9.—William Guggenheim, capitalist and copper mine owner, was today directed by the appellate division of the supreme court to answer before a referee certain questions intended to make clear whether in 1901 he and his lawyer, Louis Werner, had conspired to obtain a divorce for Guggenheim fraudulently in Chicago.
